Vol. 32.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1951.

No. 91.

SENATE

MONDAY, November 26, 1951.

The Senate met at 2 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D.D., Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, beneath Whose watchful eye we live our lives and do our work, we pause in this fleeting moment to honor Thee and seek Thy help. We thank Thee for the land of our birth, for the Commonwealth in which we live, for the blessings of Thy providence and for the daily ministry of Thy love.

Grant now Thy blessing upon this Senate assembled. Give to these men wisdom to know the right and courage to do it. As they have been called by the voice of the people for important business here, so may they be faithful in that trust. Teach us all to know that we have important business with Thee, too. May we so live that when at last we are called to an account before Thee we may look into Thy face unashamed.

Endow these Thy servants with great patience, steady nerves, a sense of humor and incorruptible honesty. Keep them from pettiness and bickering; fill them with faith and love. So may the moral foundations of our land be strengthened, the Commonwealth prospered, and the people made glad by the work they do here and the way they do it. Hear our prayer, in Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HARE and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Hare asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SCARLETT, because of illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. McPHERSON, because of illness in the family.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE
WASHINGTON

October 16, 1951.

My dear Mr. Watkins:

On my return I find the Senate of Pennsylvania Resolution expressing commendation for my efforts in relation to the Japanese Peace Treaty. Would you kindly convey in whatever manner may be appropriate my appreciation of this generous gesture on the part of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

I note that the Resolution was introduced by Senator Yosko and I hope you will particularly express to him my thanks.

Sincerely yours,

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HARE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 872, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 21 of the act, approved the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1388), entitled "An act relating to the practice, procedure, regulations and adjudications of departments, departmental administrative boards and commissions, independent administrative boards and commissions, officers and other administrative agencies of this Commonwealth, and judicial review thereof; and preserving equitable jurisdiction in certain cases," by extending the time within which regulations must be filed in the Department of State.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BARR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 873, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections 614 and 615 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," by changing penalties relating to bribery in athletic contests and soliciting or accepting a bribe in athletic contests.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. DENT (By Request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 874, entitled:

An Act to amend section 3 of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 157), entitled "An act regulating the selection, drawing, and summoning of all jurors and talesmen, in counties of the third class, and defining their qualifications in such counties; creating a jury board and defining its powers and procedure; providing for the appointment of a clerk to the jury board and fixing his maximum salary; providing for the custody of the jury wheel, and the filing and custody of jury lists; providing for the public drawing of jurors and the methods thereof; giving the trial judge the right to excuse jurors; prescribing the time of challenging jurors or the array, regulating the procedure if array is quashed; providing for the drawing of names of jurors from wheels heretofore filled; and names to clerk of jury board for inclusion on jury lists repealing inconsistent acts," by changing date for handing and making publication of jury lists discretionary with the court.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Messrs. RUTH and TAYLOR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 875, entitled:

An Act authorizing under certain conditions the erection of a memorial chapel on the grounds of the State tuberculosis sanatorium at Hamburg, Pennsylvania with private capital, the solicitation of such capital, and the acceptance of such chapel by the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. RUTH read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 876, entitled:

An Act relating to streets, lanes or alleys that were originally laid out on plans of lots but which have never been accepted or used by or opened to the public; and limiting the time within which actions may be brought.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, we have from time to time, since January 1, tried to bring outside interests in to study the budget, and also to study the amount of income that would be derived from the taxes that have already been levied.

Mr. President, last week the Pennsylvania Economy League presented to the Administration a brief showing how the budget could be balanced without any new taxes. The only comment received from the Budget Controller was one which was of a farcical manner and belittling a man who had served his Country as a colonel in the United States Army. Now, this same Economy League worked, with the permission of the Board of Education of Pittsburgh, and saved the taxpayers of Pittsburgh millions of dollars, because we had in the Senate, after it was passed by the House, the permission for the Board of Education to increase the real estate tax of the city of Pittsburgh for the upkeep of our schools. Mr. President, after the Economy League came in and made a complete study of the budget and of the taxes, they found that no new taxes were necessary and that the Board of Education had a surplus instead of a deficit.

Mr. President, I would like to read a letter I received from the Board of Education as follows:

"Dear Senator Holland:

"By this time you have probably read newspaper releases by the Finance Committee of The Pittsburgh Board of Public Education and The Pennsylvania Economy League relative to the revised estimates of the Board's financial prospects for 1952 and 1953.

"Since the Legislative recessed in September, the Board's administrative officials in cooperation with the League made an intensive study of the financial situation. Their study indicates a surplus of over $2,000,000 for the 1951 fiscal year. This favorable balance is due to a larger than anticipated carry over from 1950 of $400,000, an estimated unexpended appropriation for 1951 of $600,000, an anticipated increase in state subsidies of $300,000 for the last four months of 1951, and phenomenal tax collections all along the line which will probably result in an excess of tax receipts over estimates of about $1,000,000.

"The Board's Finance Committee has concluded that in view of this surplus and assuming tax collections in 1952 and 1953 will maintain the high level attained in 1951, it will not be necessary to continue to request an increase in the school real estate tax millage despite the possibility of mandated salary increases.

"I am confident that you will welcome this information. I wish to express my sincere appreciation and that of the Board for your interest in this matter and for the help which you so generously gave.

"/S/ H. H. Rothrock

"Secretary and Business Manager of the Board of Education"

Mr. President, I am of the belief that the same thing will happen in Pennsylvania if we permit an outside interest to come in and study our budget, study our tax problems, and above all to study where some economy can be obtained in the expenditures of the State.

Mr. President, on that basis I offer the following resolution and ask for unanimous consent for immediate consideration.

RESOLUTION

URGING THE SENATE OF PENNSYLVANIA TO CONSIDER REPORT OF PENNSYLVANIA ECONOMY LEAGUE AND THAT A PUBLIC HEARING BE GRANTED

Mr. HOLLAND offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, November 26, 1951.

The General Assembly has been in session eleven months without a break in the "Fiscal Deadlock."

Although many suggestions have been made regarding taxes and budgetary expenditures, the administrations have been adamant that their estimates be accepted without question, and that an income tax must be passed.

The latest suggestions that no new taxes are necessary have been put forth in a review of the current situation as to the general fund revenues and appropriations by the Pennsylvania Economy League, has met with a flip-pant remark by the Budget Controller, so, therefore

Be It Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania do consider the report of the Pennsylvania Economy League and grant them a Public Hearing, before a joint meeting of the Finance Committee and the Appropriations Committee immediately, and

Be It Further Resolved that all members of the Senate and the Budget Director be invited to attend this joint meeting and be given the privilege of entering in the discussion.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Rules Committee.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is always a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Senator Walker, Commissioner of Allegheny County, I would like to make a special request of you. Would you give us a promise that the Rules Committee will consider this at the first meeting of the Rules Committee?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the Rules Committee at its meetings always considers all matters before it for consideration.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I hope I can believe that.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that is no way for the gentleman to talk to his new Commissioner.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, one thing I dislike in political life, as in any other phase of our public life or personal life, is hypocrisy. I, for one, do not agree with the figures which have been submitted by the Pennsylvania Economy League. All I know about it is what I have read in the newspapers. I say to you, before we jump to conclusions, we should have a brief submitted to us by the Pennsylvania Economy League.

Mr. President, I, for one, have studied this budget just as much as any Member of this Senate. I am of the opinion, after talking with the Director of the Budget, Mr. Logan, that we do need additional taxes but not in the form of an income tax. I repeatedly stated my position on that. I am opposed to an income tax regardless. However, we do need additional taxes to take care of our schoolteachers, to take care of our hospital subsidies. That is something which we have to face.

Mr. President, I will agree on a hearing. I think if the Economy League can produce any figures to prove to the Members of the Senate that we do not need additional taxes, they should submit them in the form of a brief so we can study them, but as of this date, from what I have read in the newspapers, I say they are overestimating revenues, which is a very simple thing for anyone to do. As a matter of fact, any county can balance their budget by overestimating revenues, and then running into a deficit at the end of the year. I want to see black on white. So, if this famed Economy League has the figures, I think they should submit them to the Members of the Finance Committee or to every Member of the Senate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, one of my reasons for asking for a public hearing is because I believe these figures should be brought out in the open, not only the Economy League but other people who have figures they think can balance the budget. I have studied this budget from the first day. We had a lot of good help on studying it, and I feel the budget is full of fat. As far as teachers and hospitals are concerned, they can be very well taken care of if some of the unnecessary expenditures, which are strictly political, are taken out of the budget. For instance, I do not think we need the Department of Commerce. I said from the beginning, and I say again, it is just nothing but a political nest down there. They have people who do not work. The Milk Control Commission has outlived its usefulness, and they can go on from department to department, and cut here and cut there and give the teachers all the raises they require, give the hospitals and the State institutions all the money they need without any new taxes.

Mr. President, I hope that the Rules Committee will agree to a public hearing so that we can find and study the figures of the Economy League. Also in this resolution I have asked that the Budget Controller be brought in so he can give his figures. As it is now, it is a very underestimated amount of the taxes to be received by the State, which has been given by the Budget Controller and as agreed to by the people who pay taxes in Pennsylvania.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FREED read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 877, entitled:

An Act fixing the fees and mileage of the coroner in counties of the fourth class.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, before submitting this bill I want to make a brief statement. The idea back of submitting this bill at this late date is to correct an error which the Members of the Senate and the Members of the House made when we passed House Bill No. 1480, which is the new Unemployment Compensation Act in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, this Unemployment Compensation Act discriminated against a certain segment of our population, and that is those coal miners in the bituminous area that receive a pension from the United Mine Workers Welfare Fund. Under the provisions of the law which was passed and signed by the Governor, those men are deprived of their unemployment compensation to a great extent because it acts as a credit; that is, what they receive from the Welfare Fund acts as a credit against their unemployment compensation which they are justly entitled to. There are some members of the United Mine Workers of America that are now receiving the insignificant sum of one dollar per week for their unemployment compensation.

Therefore, Mr. President, I request that this bill go to the Committee on Labor and Industry, and I trust that my good friend, the Chairman, will give it has favorable consideration.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. LANE, DENT and BANE, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 878, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (d) of Section 404 of the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties," by further fixing the amount of weekly compensation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROSENFELD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I am introducing this bill at the request of the Greater Philadelphia Movement. It involves an amendment to the Home Rule Act of the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I do not indicate by such introduction that I think this bill is necessary. It may or may not be. I do not say that I am thoroughly satisfied with the language that has been used in the amendment, but since this Session does not have long to go and since the Committee considering it can take care of those situations, I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. ROSENFELD read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 879, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 17 of the act, approved the twenty-first day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 665), entitled "An act to carry into effect section one of article fifteen of the Constitution giving cities of the first class the right and power to frame, adopt and amend their own charters and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government, and providing the procedure therefor; imposing certain restrictions, limitations and regulations; imposing duties upon city councils, city officers, county boards of elections, courts and the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and providing for the payment of certain expenses by such cities; and imposing penalties," by authorizing cities framing, adopting, or amending their charters and exercising the powers and authority conferred by said act to perform functions of county government authorized by certain provisions of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON from the Committee on Executive Nominations reported with a favorable recommendation the following nomination, made by His Excellency, the Governor:

CLERK OF THE COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS OF THE PEACE AND CLERK OF THE COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, November 26, 1951.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Mrs. Betty Clayton, 120 North Twentieth Street, Pottsville, Schuylkill County, for appointment as Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace and Clerk of the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Schuylkill, until the first Monday of January 1952, vice Bruce S. Clayton, deceased.

JOHN S. FINE.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATION

Mr. WATSON, asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nomination read by the Clerk.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WOOD, That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nomination reported at today's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WOOD, That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—46

Bane,	Freed,	McGinnis,	Stevenson.
Barr,	Haluska,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Barrett,	Hare,	Meade,	Taylor,
Berger,	Holland,	Neff,	Toole,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wade,

Dent,	Mahanay,	Rosenfeld,	Watson,
DiSilvestro,	Mallery,	Ruth,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	McCreesh,	Silvert,	Wood,
		Snowden,	Yosko.

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, to permit a Republican Caucus.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 880, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (d) of Section 401 of the ct, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by exempting from inspection certain vehicles used exclusively upon farms or highways connecting farms owned or operated by the same owner.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

HOUSE BILL No. 840 CALLED UP FROM THIRD READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent at this time to call up from the Third Reading Postponed Calendar, House Bill No. 840.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE BILL No. 840 RECOMMITTED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 840, on third reading, entitled:

An Act imposing an income tax on residents of Pennsylvania as herein defined on trusts and estates and on income of non-residents derived from property business or other sources in Pennsylvania defining taxable income and requiring filing of returns thereof providing for the withholding assessment collection and lien of said tax providing for administration and enforcement of the act by the Department of Revenue conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons fiduciaries partnerships associations corporations political subdivisions State officers employes and departments saving certain local taxes and authorizing amendments extensions and supplements to the ordinances and resolutions relating thereto and imposing penalties and restricting the use of the moneys derived from said tax.

be recommitted to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this motion that has just been made, as I understand it, is made to send the income tax bill back to committee. I would have much rather had a vote on the bill itself upon the Senate floor.

Mr. President, the reason that the income tax bill came out of committee was because for a period of nine months this General Assembly has been dealing with a problem that has many sides, and a great many of the Members of the General Assembly were of the opinion then, and I for one am of the opinion now, that until a final determination is made on the income tax, we cannot get down to the business at hand, that of balancing the budget, passing the necessary legislation and calling it quits for this Session. Therefore, when the bill was in committee in the first instance, I believe in the month of June, the bill came out for two readings and was sent back to committee. Later a committee meeting was held and the committee voted to keep the bill in committee. That was against my political judgment. I voted that way because the Democratic Caucus felt that its members on that committee ought to be so instructed, and I followed the caucus action.

Mr. President, after that vote I publicly stated to my group that I thought it was a mistake, that I thought that the only place a bill could be killed would be by either a motion in the committee to postpone it indefinitely, or to put it on the floor and vote the bill up or down. Some of my colleagues did not agree with that, but some did agree with that. At no time have I, or any of my colleagues to my knowledge, ever promised anybody they would vote for the income tax.

Mr. President, I believe that every Member of this Senate knows that in the early inception of the fight on the budget, I took the positive position that on the face of the figures that had been handed us in March, that no new taxes were needed. This Legislature then proceeded to exceed the demands of the budget. The only mistake that I can see now that I have made is that I did not listen to the advice of my deceased father, who once told me that you cannot be a statesman and still breathe. Politicians breathe; statesmen are buried. I tried to become a statesman while I was still breathing, and you just cannot do it.

Mr. President, the situation now resolves itself to where we are back where we started from. I can assure the Members of the Senate that when that bill came out of committee, it came out with an honest effort to get a vote regardless of what was said in newspapers, regardless of what was used in the campaign in my county against me, regardless of any insinuations or rumors. There was never any ulterior motive in bringing the bill out of committee. I speak for Senator Barr, and I am sure that the Members of the Finance Committee will uphold me when I say that I said to the Chairman of the Finance Committee that night, "If we vote 'no' on this bill at this time, does that mean that the bill is dead and we cannot proceed with the business of the Session?" The Chairman of the Committee, Mr. Newell Wood—I hope that he forgives me for divulging matters that took place in the committee, but I think it is important—said to me and to the Members of the Committee, "As Chairman of this Committee, I cannot tell you that any bill is dead so long as the committee wants to bring it up again." I said, "In the face of that, Mr. Chairman, I think that the only way to bring this before the people of Pennsylvania in such a way that they can understand that we are stymied beyond any hope of compromise is to bring the bill out on the floor, and I would ask enough Democrats to vote with those Republicans who so feel to put the bill out on the floor." As it was counted, two Democrats were needed. Senator Barr and myself made the sacrifice, if you please, and we voted the bill out on the floor.

Mr. President, at no time, contrary to anything that has been said, have we ever made any agreements to give any Democratic votes. I do not think there is any question that I have met with the Governor, and I would meet with the Governor again if the Governor so thought that my meeting, or a group of Democratic Senators meeting with him, would be in the interest of Pennsylvania. I did not know when I was elected to this office that I was to come into this Senate Chamber and refuse to meet with the Majority Party at any time to work out some solution to a grievous problem that faces the people of the Commonwealth, and so long as I am a Member of this Senate I will stand for compromise. I will stand for any kind of a meeting, any kind of an agreement that will be beneficial to the people themselves, and in any legislation that is ever before this Senate, if a compromise is in order to help the people, I will vote for the compromise. I have discovered in my short lifetime that life itself in every instance is a compromise, and much legislation has been passed both here and in every legislative hall in the various capitols of the various States, and in the United State Capitol itself, upon the basis of agreement, upon the basis of compromise.

Mr. President, where are we today after we send this bill back to Committee? We are right back to where we were on January 2, in the year of our Lord 1951. We find upon one side the Governor's Budget Director saying, "These are the figures that the Governor must have." We find the Revenue Secretary saying, "These are the figures upon which I make my prophesy of the amount of money that will come in in the next few years, this biennium," and on the other hand you have the Governor saying, "I cannot accept any figures except those given me by my Budget Director, under the Constitution and under the laws of the Commonwealth." On this side of the fence we have men saying, "No new taxes are needed, no new revenue is needed, we have sufficient taxes, expenses can be curtailed and we can meet the obligations of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, we have the Members of this Senate who have pledged, I believe almost to the man, to give to the school teachers an added increment this year, and you are not going to give them that added increment, men and women of this State of Pennsylvania, unless you meet the problem of giving the increased revenues. That problem, now that this bill goes back to committee, becomes the problem of the Senate of Pennsylvania, because the House has already notified us, they have given us two tax packages and they are no longer in the mood or of the inclination to create any additional tax revenues for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I might say to the Members of this Senate that that night in the Finance Committee I voted to bring every tax bill that was in that committee out upon the floor of the Senate. The income tax and every other tax bill that was introduced in the House and passed over to the Senate was given a vote by me to come out upon this floor, because, whether some men want to recognize it or not, I want to say to the Members of this Senate, that this problem is the problem of all the Senate. It is not the problem of the Republicans nor of the Democrats. It is the problem of all the Members of the Senate. We are elected in our various districts to do the duties that are given to us by the Constitution, and we are compelled to obey the Constitution and the laws of this Commonwealth to give to the people of this Commonwealth the necessary funds with which to man their government.

Mr. President, whether we agree with the Governor or not in the amount of money that he says he needs is one thing, but I say it becomes incumbent upon the Members of the General Assembly to give to the Governor that amount of money which he says is needed unless they say to him, "We will give you so much, Governor, and that is all." Then the Governor is forced to the necessity of doing what he must do in the end, taking his pruning knife and cut here and there. Either we say to him, "This is all we are going to give you," and go home within the next two or three weeks, Mr. President, or we are a group of vacillating men who have not the courage to stand up upon our feet and do the job that we are supposed to do as Members of this Senate.

Mr. President, I have often said in the Senate, and I am going to repeat it now, political victory is not so sweet that I would purge my soul to gain it. Those of us who have tasted victory know the joy of the taste, and those of us who have tasted defeat also know the bitterness of the taste. I can best describe it, Mr. President, in an incident that happened when I was a small boy in a coal mining town in western Pennsylvania. We were coming home from school one day, and I was just a little lad, and there were a group of people gathered around a house in this coal mining town, and being an inquisitive little boy and always sticking my nose in where I shouldn't, I edged my way into the room and there lying upon the floor was a woman, whose children were in school with me. She was beating her forehead upon the bare floor of that room, screaming and crying, and her heart was broken. Her husband had been killed in a mine that day, a mine falling from down in the hill, and left her with seven children, without any means of support. Her grief was great, and I never knew that kind of pain. For some reason or other, grief is something that I never had. I have lost some dear ones, but I have never really had that sense of loss that I had last Tuesday morning.

Mr. President, something happened last Wednesday morning, a lump formed, and you know to this day—I can honestly say to the Members of this Senate that those who know me know that I never wanted to be a County Commissioner—that lump has not dissolved yet. The reason it has not dissolved, Mr. President, is not because of the grief of losing a political office. It is because of the grief at the injustice and the innocent victims of that injustice, not me. Those couple hundred innocent people, who only have two and four years to go for their retirement, who have built up no security because they are only under a certain retirement system which compels them to be on the job, who are losing their jobs through no fault of their own, and the lump is caused because I feel that I failed them in not recognizing, not recognizing to what extent some people would go in seeking revenge for a fancied wrong. I do not hate them.

Mr. President, I am going to second this motion to send this bill back to committee. I am going to second this motion in the feeling and in the sense that this bill will never be approached again during this Session of the Legislature.

Mr. President, I am going to ask the Chairman of that Committee not to call for another vote upon this bill and to announce to the people of Pennsylvania today that this bill is really dead. This bill has been built into an awful monstrosity. Some of the persons who have been opposed to it have neglected to give it even the kind of consideration that any bill ought to have. It has been considered from the light of blind opposition, prejudice against it has run high.

Mr. President, I am going to say to the people of Pennsylvania that you cannot continue to increase the cost of schools, you cannot continue to increase the cost of government on the patchwork system of taxation that we now have in Pennsylvania. That is not a new statement. I have made that statement time and time and time again upon this floor of the Senate. We have named committee after committee after committee to study the fiscal problems of the Commonwealth, and to come in with recommendations. I am going to say to you, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we are not solving the problem, we are just postponing the day when we will have to face this problem.

Mr. President, you cannot increase these costs of government without finding some method of providing money from a broad base tax principle. Some of us have our pet projects, some of us have our pet tax schemes, and they are not always agreed upon by others, but I think there are sufficient courageous men in the Senate of Pennsylvania to pass at the right time a broad base tax.

No, Mr. President, the only thing that can be done is to create a patchwork proposition, take a deliberate figure and say this is what we think is needed, and in spite of what the Governor says or does, give him that amount and go home, because when we brought the bill out of committee we brought it out with the hope that the Legislature, the Senate of the Legislature, would be awakened to the realization that they had a job to do.

Mr. President, we have two school bills here. I doubt if any Member of the Senate will vote against them. I know I will not, because I am going back to my father's advice. I am going to let the statesman stay buried; I am going to vote for them. Where the money is coming from, let the boys worry about it. They want the legislation, we will give it to them, but you are just kidding yourselves, kidding the people. I want to say to the newspapers of Pennsylvania that they ought to step in and look at this picture realistically, admit that the Senate has failed miserably to provide an answer.

Mr. President, I said in January that we did not need any more money, and I say to you that if you take the figures of January and you maintain that schedule, you do not need any more money. Somewhere along the line the truth will come out. The whole picture was not painted in the budget. The whole truth of the last biennium was not painted in the budget. I tried to bring it on the floor. I gave the cue to those who were interested.

I tried to explain why some eighty-nine millions of dollars did not show up as a need in this budget. I tried to show where moneys were taken out of private funds, out of earmarked funds, and spent without consideration as to where that money would come from in the next biennium to replace the amount that was spent. It was not considered.

Mr. President, I want to say that I am not ashamed of any part that I have played in this Senate. I want to say that to the best of my knowledge and to the best of my ability I tried to do the job so that the people of Pennsylvania would benefit. Whether I failed or not in that job is not for any individual to judge. It is for the people to judge. Maybe their answer was given last Tuesday, I don't know, but I believe in the will of the people. I abide by the apparent decision, and I say to you Members of the Senate when you send this bill back to committee, I will second the motion to send it back, but when you do, you are not solving the problem. You are just postponing the day. Sooner or later you will have to answer just what are we going to do and how much money are we going to spend. That is your problem. Now, I tried to solve it and I failed.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I feel like a frustrated woman here today. I was hoping that I was going to get the opportunity to vote on this bill, House Bill No. 840, because I, too, have been kind of kicked around and mistreated a little bit in the public press and by some politicians.

Mr. President, I have in my hand here a clipping from the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph, where the Republican Majority Leader on the other side says that not only am I for the income tax, but the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh is for the income tax. I guess that is just one of those campaign orations. He said all I was doing was laying the groundwork so that Lawrence could be in a position to put an income tax on the people in Pittsburgh, but wants the people in Harrisburg to put it on first.

Mr. President, the only way you can defeat a bill is to vote on it on the Senate floor. Yesterday there was an editorial in one of the local papers where it said, "Barr slipped once; hope he does not slip again." I do not consider that I slipped, and if I vote against this motion to recommit, I guess the papers will say I slipped again.

Mr. President, I am going to vote against the motion to recommit just because I want the chance to vote on the bill. Everybody knows how I am going to vote on this bill, but I think we are postponing the inevitable. I do not know, I am not a Member of the Republican Caucus, they have probably taken Caucus action as to their procedure, but I think if we are men elected here to vote, we should vote this bill down rather than take the sneaky way of sending it back to committee. The only way a bill can be defeated is to be voted on twice. I was hoping that they would vote on it today, and then reconsider the vote by which it failed and then vote on it the second time, because I would like to make myself, my position, clear because when people place tags on you such as this, I am fearful the same tag will be placed on me during the next campaign when I am running for office next year. Fortunately for me, I was not running for office this year. Unfortunately for Senator Dent, he was.

Mr. President, I think when we tried to do the right thing for the people of Pennsylvania, getting this bill out, that we have been subjected to abuse, and abuse that is not quite fair. The only way I think we can vindicate ourselves is to have a vote here on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. HULASKA. Mr. President, the record shows clearly that during the dying days of our last weeks here before the recess, that I rose in place and asked that the bill come out of committee in order to give us all the opportunity to vote on it, and I am disappointed today to see the bill going back without that privilege being afforded us. That bill should be voted upon once and for all. It should be passed or be defeated.

Mr. President, I agree with the statement made this morning by my colleague from Washington County, Senator Lane, and the one made now by Senator Dent, that we must have more taxes. We all disagreed in that statement in the early part of the year. However, after the budget was proposed to us we had several bills come over from the House dealing with hospitals, and school-teachers and State increases for pay rolls, and they should be met. That requires additional taxes, but I cannot agree with my colleague from Westmoreland County when he says we have failed in our duties. We have not failed. We are in Session, we have in the Committee on Finance today a number of bills that if acted upon and passed will give us more revenue than the income tax bill. We have the cigarette bill, C.N.I., one per cent on real estate transfers, the soft drink tax, bring it back up. There isn't any more five-cent pop, it is seven, eight, nine, ten and twelve cents. Reenact that measure, and we can take care of all of our commitments.

Mr. President, I do not believe we should vote for appropriations and not for taxation. It is our duty if we vote for appropriations to vote for taxation to meet that requirement, and I stand ready to vote for tax measures today to meet every requirement as requested by the Governor, but certainly it will not be a State income tax. The record shows that my colleagues and myself voted for every tax that came before this body this year. I believe the entire Democratic group voted for every tax measure. We have not voted "no" on one of them, but certainly it is our prerogative to say "no" on one bill. We have that right, and we do not like the income tax.

Mr. President, as I understand it, we are not going to vote for it, but we should have the right to be recorded "yes" or "no" on that bill, and if the bill goes back to committee I would not object. I hope it is killed once and for all, but in the same breath I hope that today or tomorrow we call a meeting of the Committee on Finance, and bring out the bills already passed by the House, place them before the body here and meet the requirements as requested by the Governor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I yield to the Minority Floor Leader.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that we get an understanding vote on this position that we are taking, I would like to withdraw my second to the motion to recommit, and now yield to the gentleman from Washington. Mr. LANE. Mr. President it is my position—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, unless the gentleman is on the floor to second the motion, the gentleman is out of order. As the record now stands, a motion has been made at this point and there is no seconder, and until the motion is seconded, unless that is the purpose of the gentleman from Washington, the gentleman is out of order.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I yield to the Majority Floor Leader.

Mr. WALKER. I yield to Senator Taylor.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Shall the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair cannot determine when a Senator asks for recognition what he is going to say or what he going to do. Now, how can I say that I am not going to recognize a Senator unless he prefaces his request for recognition by saying that he rises for the purpose of seconding the motion?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the gentleman from Washington County has arisen, and I presume that he has risen for the purpose of making another motion since the first motion has not been seconded. Under the rules of this Senate, can he make another motion at this time?

The PRESIDENT. No.

Mr. DENT. Before the previous motion was seconded, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The first motion has to be disposed of either by refusal to second or withdrawal by the one who makes the motion.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I understood the gentleman from Washington to say that he yielded to the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. WALKER. And I in turn yielded to the gentleman from Dauphin, who has seconded Senator Wood's motion, and, therefore, if the gentleman from Washington so desires, I certainly feel he should be recognized now.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, is there a seconder to the motion now?

Mr. WALKER. The motion was seconded by the gentleman from Dauphin, Senator Taylor.

Mr. PRESIDENT, may I suggest that under the rules a motion to recommit is not debatable. If the gentleman is desirous of discussing the recommitment of the bill, of course, that is entirely in order and we will not raise the question. I do not want to prolong the debate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I had planned on making another motion, and since there is a question in our minds on this side of the Senate I intend to make the motion and, of course, it is the prerogative of the Chair as to the decision he might make.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, yield?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Now, the Chair wants to be absolutely impartial in his rulings. Let us reconsider the record at this point, as I understand it.

I recognized the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, and he yielded the floor to the Senator from Westmoreland, who took the floor and withdrew his motion. Then Senator Taylor took the floor and seconded the motion. Now, the Majority Floor Leader takes the position that a motion to recommit is not debatable and, of course, the Chair is compelled under the rules to agree with him.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, am I out of order to make another motion?

The PRESIDENT. Yes, the Chair regrets to advise that another motion is out of order at this time.

Up until you yielded the floor to the Minority Floor Leader, I was not going to take the position, in the absence of a seconded to the motion, as to what you might say when you took the floor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I yield to the Minority Floor Leader.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in all rules of procedure, in all parliamentary laws, there are motions that take precedence over other motions.

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL NO. 840 BE DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. DENT. At this time, Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 840 be dropped from the calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to advise the Minority Floor Leader that under the rules that motion does not take precedence over a motion to recommit.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to see the rule because in my interpretation of the rule, it says that any motion to drop from the calendar takes precedence over a motion to recommit.

The PRESIDENT. I would like to invite the Minority Floor Leader to the desk.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I recognize the authority of the Chair and the written record or the printed rules. However, I think every man in the Senate who has served here for a good many years knows that a motion to drop from the calendar has always taken precedence in procedure. While it is not in the written rules it was contained in the typewritten sheets we used to hand out here. However, I am informed that the only rules in order are the printed rules, and the Chair can do nothing except abide by those rules and I cannot do anything but abide by the Chair's decision. However, I do think that my good friend from Washington County was given a little mouse trap.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair must declaim any credit for setting the trap.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I rise on a point of clarification. I would like to interrogate my colleague from Cambria, Senator Haluska.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, would you please instruct the stenographer to read the first paragraph of Senator Haluska's speech?

The PRESIDENT. Will the stenographer read the opening paragraph of Senator Haluska's remarks?

(The reporter complied.)

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I thought he said "vote for it." If that appears in the minutes, I wish that the correct language would be used. I thought I heard Senator Haluska say, "afford us the opportunity to vote for the bill." That is the only correction I have.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the record speaks for itself.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it seems to me that we are back in the same position we were months ago. We are going to recommit this bill, and you know and I know that if the opportunity presents itself, if the Majority agrees, we can bring that bill out on the floor again. As a matter of fact, the Chairman of the Committee admitted as much quite a long time ago, and I think we are gilding the lily. I think the opposition is rather desperate in the action that they are taking today, when they take the attitude that they will declare us out of order when we wish to make another motion.

I say to you, Mr. President, that we are ducking our responsibility as Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania. There is no use for us to stand here and vote to recommit this bill, and then have it hanging over our heads from now on until we adjourn. I say we should call the bill up and defeat it today, reconsider it and call it up tomorrow and defeat it again, and then we are finished with it from then on as far as this Session is concerned. It seems to me as though those on the other side do not want to kill the bill, but want to recommit it and then hold it over our heads when we debate other tax measures. I say to you that they should reconsider the action they are taking on the other side, and bring the bill up and let us kill it once and for all. I believe that the "rebels" over there agreed off the record, to go along with us and kill the bill, and now we are recommitting and we are going to have the same problem.

I say to you, Mr. President, if they call that bill up again in the Finance Committee for reconsideration, I will resign from the committee.

Mr. ROSENFEFLD. Mr. President, in order that there be no misconstruction or misinterpretation, I would like to state for the benefit of the record, and the press, that it was the unanimous action of the Democratic Caucus to vote against this measure, and if no such vote was afforded it was the unanimous action of the Democratic Caucus that we move to take the bill from the calendar. Thus since we would not have an opportunity to do either, I do not want the vote of any Democrat on this side, whether for or against this particular motion, to be either misinterpreted or misconstrued.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to put the mind of the gentleman from Washington at ease. I want to assure him, as I have been assured, that when this bill is returned to committee, there it will repose from now on. He will not be in any danger of having that bill haunt him any longer. We are taking it from the calendar and returning it to committee as the action of the Majority, fully convinced that the bill has no opportunity of being passed, and it will not be a recurrent issue in the Senate during this Session. Therefore, it will not be necessary for the gentleman to tender his resignation as a very valuable Member of the Senate Committee on Finance.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we seem to be using the expression "mouse trap" around here today, but I think we are acting like mice instead of men, and the expression is appropriate.

So, Mr. President, I have been advised by my colleagues that people may not understand if I vote against this motion to recommit. I sometimes think it would be better to lose and do the thing right, but for fear of being told by the papers that I have slipped again, I am afraid I will have to go along with the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

CALENDAR

SENATE

TUESDAY, November 27, 1951.

The Senate met at 4 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D.D., Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Lord of all good life, we lift our thoughts to Thee. Be Thou our Master every day, our nearest Friend when we are alone, our strong Saviour when we are tempted to be shabby in our work or shady in our dealings, our Guide in all we think or do. Thou lovest the best in us, O Lord; accept nothing but the best from us.

Touch us with a searching sense of Thy nearness. Give us so much of Thyself that we cannot be little or narrow. Keep us clean, O Lord. Make us strong in the daily round of duty and care, poised and confident in the face of trying tasks and heavy burdens, and joyous and glad as we strive to be true to the highest.

In Jesus' name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. CROWE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session for the purpose of considering some remarks allegedly made by the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska.

Mr. WADE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved by Senator Walker, and seconded by Senator Wade, that the Senate do resolve itself into Executive Session for the purpose of considering remarks made by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska. All in favor of the motion let it be known by saying "aye."

(Carried)

The PRESIDENT. The Senate is now in Executive Session.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have before me a copy of one of the metropolitan papers of the city of Pittsburgh in which there is, in quotes, a statement attributed to the gentleman from Cambria. I read the quote to him:

"I was offered sufficient patronage that if used to my advantage I would be sitting pretty the rest of my life."

The quotation, Mr. President, is with reference to House Bill No. 840, commonly called the flat income tax bill. Now, I ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. President, if the quotation I just read to him is correct, and ask him if he made that statement.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it sounds very familiar.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I ask the gentleman, so that I understand, did he make that statement?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I made no statement in this Chamber at any time. I made certain statements at a public gathering, at a public court house in the county of Cambria, and I said then that I shall make no further statement except on the advice of my counsel, unless the Senate of Pennsylvania wishes to hear my statements, that I shall waive immunity and I want those whom I mentioned to waive immunity, and I shall answer any questions asked me without any hesitation, without shadow-boxing, to a constituted body of this forum, will take oath and make those who are involved waive immunity.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have before me a copy of the Johnstown Democrat, from Monday morning, October 15, and with the gentleman's permission I would like to read it.

"Senator John J. Haluska yesterday charged that he had been offered a bribe if he would abandon his opposition to the proposed State income tax. Speaking at a Democratic meeting in Ebensburg Court House, Senator Haluska declared, 'I was offered enough that I would not have to work for the rest of my life if I would withdraw my opposition to the income tax measure.'"

Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman if that is a correct quotation of what he said at that time.

Mr. HALUSKA. It sounds familiar, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, so that I understand, may I ask the gentleman, did he make such a statement at that time?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it sounds very familiar. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny County?

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I have no objection to returning a favor, but if we could just get a yes or no answer I would appreciate it very much, and then I could put the gentleman in a position to interrogate me.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I think I answered the question fairly. I say it sounds very familiar.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, all I am asking the gentleman from Cambria is, did he make the statement?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, will you read the statement again so I can follow you very carefully?

Mr. WALKER. I will read the first couple paragraphs of this newspaper, Mr. President.

"Senator John J. Haluska yesterday charged that he had been offered a bribe if he would abandon his opposition to the proposed State income tax. Speaking at a Democratic meeting in Ebensburg Court House, Senator Haluska declared, 'I was offered enough that I would not have to work for the rest of my life if I would withdraw my opposition to the income tax measure.'"

Now, did you make that statement?

Mr. HALUSKA. It sounds as if I made a statement similar to that, yes. I cannot follow every word, but it sounds very familiar, and I will say on the whole it sounds nearly like the statement I made.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I now invite the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, to present to the committee of the whole, which is the Senate now in Session, any substantiating evidence he might have to corroborate the facts on which this statement is based.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny County, Senator Walker?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Does the Senator from Allegheny County recall—I do not have the papers with me, they are down in my hotel room—a quotation in the Pittsburgh Press, as of last Sunday, wherein he stated that since the Senator from Cambria County made a remark at a public meeting, that he feels definitely that he should answer them at a public meeting, and that he, as one, will agree to that. Will the gentleman now agree to that?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think that this is just about as public as you could possibly get it. The Senate has resolved itself into a committee of the whole for the purpose of considering these charges. The gentleman certainly cannot say that this is a private hearing because it is in the open Senate, with the public and the newspapermen gathered. It is not a Senate Session because the committee of the whole has been resolved by going into Executive Session, and I now invite the gentleman to present whatever evidence he has to substantiate the charges which he made at that Ebensburg meeting.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I did not ask for a speech. I asked, will he or will he not agree to the statement that he made as to a public hearing?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, we are giving the gentleman a public hearing right here and now.

Mr. HALUSKA. Now, Mr. President, let's not make mockery of this. This is just what I feared. He knows this is not a public hearing, he knows full well. He has been in this Chamber long enough to know that I cannot have counsel, neither can he or anybody else while the Senate is in Session, and I have asked for the body to be formed, set up by the Chair or by the body as a whole, wherein I may have counsel at my side, and in the same breath those who may be involved, that they may have counsel, but as long as we are in Session he knows full well that is not possible. Therefore, this is not a public hearing.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Cambria, and I am not trying to take advantage of him because of the fact that I happen to be a member of the bar, but he certainly does not need a lawyer to state to the gentlemen of the Senate, resolved here in a committee of the whole, as to who offered him what, when, where, and that is the information I think the Senate is entitled to.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the Senate will have that information, if they set up the proper mechanics to do it, and it will only take a few minutes to do that. I want the gentleman to answer my question, does he believe in what he said in the papers, wherein he stated that he believes that I should make my remarks at a public hearing, and he is for that. That was his quotation. Does the gentleman from Allegheny County retreat from that position now?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I certainly am not retreating from that position. The gentleman has a public hearing, just as public as he can get. The only thing the gentleman is complaining about is whether or not he has a lawyer. I repeat, Mr. President, he certainly does not need a lawyer to tell the gentlemen of the Senate, against whom the accusations were made, as to who offered him what, when, where. Now, he is getting a public hearing. I am merely asking him to submit, to make a tangible statement.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the gentleman may think for himself, but he cannot think for me. If he wants to have a mock session, make mockery of this, that is his privilege, but I am only asking him one question. First of all, did he make that remark in the newspaper and does he believe in it now? If he waits a few minutes, I will go down in the hotel room and get that paper, and quote the exact words.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am agreeing to a public hearing. I am trying to give it to the gentleman now. I am insisting that the game be played on the field where the accusations were made. The Senate is involved in this, and this is a Senate matter, and the Senate has resolved itself into a committee of the whole and I am giving the gentleman the opportunity. I assured him he would have the opportunity of making a public statement, in public before a committee of the whole, and that is what he has here.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am taking his remark that he believes that the statement should be cleared where the accusation was made. I am glad he made that remark. He is smart, but he slips sometimes. The accusation was made in public, according to his own words, and should be answered in public. Is he agreed to this? I did not make it in the Senate Chamber. I will make it in the same chamber when the Session is recessed, and counsel is at my side, where I may be interrogated and we may interrogate. That has been done before in Pennsylvania.

If Members of this body are interested to know what is happening and to know what I have to say, how can any of you vote against a public hearing and a fair trial where counsel may be procured?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to advise the gentleman from Cambria that the accusation made involves the other forty-nine Members of the Senate, a majority of whom are sitting here now as a committee of the whole, having resolved itself into Executive Session, and we are giving the gentleman from Cambria the opportunity at this time to state publicly who offered him what, when, where.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am giving the gentlemen of the Senate the opportunity to hear me under oath. Only a coward will hide behind immunity, and I am no coward, and the men in this Chamber are not cowards, I am sure they are not. Every man in this Chamber is interested in knowing the truth, and I want to testify to this Chamber, to the press, to the public and to my God under oath and that I shall do at the first opportunity.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I might remind the gentleman that when we entered in upon our duties as Senators we took an oath, and the gentleman is still under that oath because the oath lasts as long as his tenure in office exists, and as I gather now from the gentleman, he refuses to state before this Senate who offered him what, when, where. Does the gentleman refuse to answer that?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not refuse to answer, not at a public hearing. If the gentleman is interested to know the truth, I am not welching one bit. I shall name places, I shall name names, I shall name the offer when I am under oath, and I want those to answer under oath, and I am entitled to my rights to have counsel at my side. This is a serious matter. I never made those remarks in the Chamber. I made them at a public hearing. I shall answer them at a public hearing at the first opportunity afforded me.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand then that the gentleman refuses to answer the interrogation?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not refuse to answer any interrogation. I want to know whether the gentleman from Allegheny refuses to stand by what he said. I am interrogating him.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I was distinctly under the impression that I propounded an interrogation of the gentleman if he would please advise us who offered him what, when, where. I now ask him, does he now refuse to answer here before the Senate when we are resolved into Executive Session?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I shall answer those questions when the proper mechanics are set up, and everybody will have the opportunity to hear them. I shall answer them under oath by waiving any immunity that may be around me, and I want those who question me and those that are involved to waive the same immunity, and if the gentleman from Allegheny County wants to be technical that is one thing, but if he is deeply interested in knowing the truth and knowing full well that I said repeatedly that I stand ready to tell all that I know when the proper mechanics are set up, how can he deny me that right?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as I gather it then, the gentleman refuses to answer the question before the Senate, resolved into Executive Session, as to who offered him what, when, where?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I refuse nothing. I shall answer those questions when the proper mechanics are set up, under oath.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I understand then that the gentleman will only answer the questions providing he can arrange the mechanics.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have nothing to do with arranging mechanics. I have no knowledge whether there would be a committee of fifty men set up, whether there will be a committee of ten men set up, five Republicans and five Democrats, whether nine Republicans and one Democrat or ten Republicans. I do not care. To me it makes no difference. I trust in everyone. You may set up your own mechanics, a constituted body, and I have nothing to say or I cannot dictate your policy. I shall abide by your decision.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think it is pretty obvious to the gentleman from Cambria what the decision is. We have provided the mechanics, we have set up a committee of the whole, the Senate is resolved into Executive Session, and the gentleman is being given the opportunity of advising the Senate who offered him what, when, where.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny County will be given the opportunity to hear what has been offered why, where, and when. He is now given that opportunity, but it is quite evident that he does not want to hear it. He wants to hear it on his own terms.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to hear it now. That is what I am saying to him. I am giving him a chance to say now in the presence of this Senate who offered him what, when and where.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am giving the gentleman from Allegheny a chance to set up the mechanics to hear it.

Mr. WALKER. We set up the mechanics, Mr. President, and I think it comes with poor grace for the gentleman at this time to suggest that after the Senate, or a majority of the Senate, decided how they desire to hear him, that he is now attempting to set up his own rules under what circumstances he will tell this Senate whether or not he has a prima facie case to institute or to carry on any investigation. All we are asking the gentleman, Mr. President, is to tell the Members of the Senate who are directly involved in the statement he made in Ebensburg as to who offered him what, when and where.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am not refusing to tell that when the proper mechanics are set up, but it appears to me he wants to play the game his own way or take the ball and bat and go home. He has made his own rules, he has not consulted anybody. This is the rule, we shall hear it now or not at all. I say I am entitled to counsel.

This is a serious matter. Precedent has been set in Pennsylvania in cases of this nature, and they had counsel. They had a hearing, and I am entitled to my constitutional right to have counsel at my side, and then they may ask me any question. There will be no pleading, no crying. I will do the talking.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I might remind the gentleman from Cambria that this does have precedence, that during my short tenure here in the Senate I recall a similar incident when charges were made by a Member of the Senate, not on the Senate floor, and later the gentleman was called to account for the matters that he had stated, and the procedure followed is the identical procedure we have followed up to this point, with this exception, Mr. President. When given an opportunity and when the question was propounded to him, the gentleman involved answered the question.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, if I have knowledge of the case he is referring to, if my memory serves me correctly, there was a committee set up, I think, of both the House and Senate in that case. Is that true?

Mr. WALKER. No, Mr. President, it is not true. It was heard right here on the Senate floor in Executive Session, and the gentleman from Fayette, Senator Cavalcante, was the gentleman involved, and he made the statements and answered them from the seat which I think you now occupy in the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, is it not true that a committee was set up in that case and Cavalcante refused to attend the meeting?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, a similar committee is set up now, a committee of the Senate of the whole.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, you will find it was a committee of the Senate and the House if you check the records.

Mr. WALKER. Well, I will not argue, Mr. President. I gather the gentleman will not answer the interrogation at this point.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I want to say that I will answer the questions if Members of the Senate are interested in knowing the truth with reference to the remarks I made at the Court House in Cambria County. I shall answer the question, and I repeat for the last time I shall mention names, I shall mention places, I shall mention the offer with regard to my position on the income tax if and when they want to hear it, but if they are going to hide behind technicalities, I am convinced, in my own mind, and the people of Pennsylvania are convinced, that they are not interested in knowing the truth. They want to have a one-way ticket, and that is not going to be. I am entitled to my rights, and I say let it be a matter of record. I will answer every one of the questions that is brought to me about the newspaper clippings in order. It will take me less than ten minutes to answer them, and then I want to be interrogated, and I want to interrogate and my own counsel wants to interrogate, and he can be interrogated.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I submit to the gentleman, that the people of Pennsylvania will clearly understand that he was given an opportunity to state anything he had, to corroborate the statements he made and at this time he refuses to answer.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

COMMUNICATION

EMBASSY OF ISRAEL

Washington, D. C.
November 16, 1951

Dear Lt. Governor Wood:

Senator Stiefel has sent me a copy of Senate Resolution No. 96, adopted in the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania on September 24, 1951.

I write to convey my Government's deep appreciation of the action of the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania on behalf of the Penn-Israel Amity Woodland Project. The proposal to plant half a million trees in the hills of Jerusalem illustrates the constant friendship and sympathy which the leaders of the State of Pennsylvania have always shown towards Israel's aspirations and interests. The founders of your Commonwealth, including the great William Penn himself, were powerfully influenced by the Hebrew tradition. Indeed, I believe that the Hebrew language was a common subject of study by the Quaker pioneers. The Senate of your General Assembly has thus given expression to a continuous tradition, reaching far back into the origins of the Commonwealth. I have observed with gratitude the support given by the Pennsylvania Representatives in the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States to the legislation securing the inclusion of Israel in the Mutual Defense Program.

I share your hope that the trees characteristic of Pennsylvania, may prove adaptable to the climate and soil of our country. In any case, whatever trees are planted in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, will be a fitting symbol of the friendship between us, and of our common interest in the restoration of fertility and beauty to the barren areas of the world.

May I hope that this expression of appreciation will be made known in suitable form to the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I remain,

Yours very sincerely,
ABBA EBAN
Abba Eban.

The Honorable,

Lloyd H. Wood,

Lt. Governor of Pennsylvania

SENATE RESOLUTION

FELICITATING DR. ROBERT LIVINGSTON JOHNSON,
PRESIDENT OF TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

Messrs. CHAPMAN, STIEFEL, MEADE, McCREESH, SILVERT, ROSENFELD, NEFF, HALUSKA, YOSKO, WALKER, RUTH, LANE, BANE, DiSILVESTRO, LEADER and BYRNE, offered the following resolution which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, November 27, 1951.

Whereas, On December 4, 1951, Dr. Robert Livingston Johnson will round out his first decade of service at the helm of Temple University in the capacity of its third president; and

Whereas, Under the presidency of Dr. Robert Livingston Johnson, this great American Seat of Learning "built on Acres of Diamonds" has continued its sustained phenomenal expansion, steadily forging ahead to the very vanguard of the Nation's leading university-systems; and

Whereas, During the presidency of Dr. Johnson, the student enrollment of Temple University soared from less than 13,000 in 1941 to slightly more than 24,000 in 1950 and some 350 members have been added to the faculty; and

Whereas, With all its expansion of facilities during the last decade and the greatly increased number of students, Temple's reputation for quality has not only been maintained, but has been substantially increased, a feat of no mean proportions, attributable primarily to Dr. Johnson's indefatigable drive, zeal and energy; and

Whereas, The effulgence of Dr. Johnson's leadership marked by a creative blend of profound efficiency, organizational ability, indomitable spirit and magnetic personality, has rendered a great service to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing a superior, well-founded college educational program for tens of thousands of Pennsylvanians generally and those of the lower and middle income groups in particular; and

Whereas, During the recent global war Dr. Robert Livingston Johnson mobilized and placed all of the facilities and resources of Temple at the disposal of the Federal Government, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the City of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, Dr. Johnson's adroit leadership is contributing at the present to the successful drive for the expansion of Temple University Hospital which upon reaching the goals will create under the aegis of the School of Medicine of Temple University, now among the outstanding in the Nation, a Medical Center of monumental proportions; and

Whereas, His anchorage in the finest traditions of American Democracy and rich store of experience garnered through unselfish services in various fields of manifold educational endeavors, single out Dr. Robert Livingston Johnson as a Pennsylvanian whose greatness is mounting to towering proportions; and

Whereas, On Saturday, November 24, 1951, hosts of Dr. Johnson's well-wishers and admirers have celebrated in Philadelphia the completion of a decade of his services as the third president of Temple University; now therefore be it

Resolved, That on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania, the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania extends hereby its felicitations to Dr. Robert Livingston Johnson upon attaining another milestone in his fruitful services to our Nation, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the City of Philadelphia; and be it further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be and is hereby directed to forward copies of the instant Resolution, following its passage to Dr. Robert Livingston Johnson and the members of the Board of Trustees of Temple University.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1102

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1102, entitled: "An act to provide for liens for the cost of hospital care and treatment of persons wilfully or negligently injured, the liens to exist on rights of action and on counterclaims and on verdicts and judgments recovered as the result of such injuries and on moneys paid in settlement of such actions and counterclaims and providing rights of action to recover such liens if not paid."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

GEORGE W. WADE,
SAMUEL G. NEFF,
CHARLES R. MALLERY,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)
ROBERT F. KENT,
EDWIN W. TOMPKINS,
THEODORE H. SCHMIDT,

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act to provide for liens for the cost of hospital care and treatment of persons wilfully or negligently injured the liens to exist on rights of action and on counterclaims and on verdicts and judgments recovered as the result of such injuries and on moneys paid in settlement of such actions and counterclaims and providing rights of action to recover such liens if not paid

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Commonwealth any political subdivision of the Commonwealth and any corporation or association maintaining a hospital in this State in which medical and surgical services are rendered to the public shall have a lien upon any and all rights of action and counterclaims which any person admitted to any such hospital for care and treatment of personal injuries wilfully or negligently inflicted shall have against any other person firm or corporation on account of such injuries provided that such lien shall be effective against only that portion of funds recovered or paid on settlement remaining after the payment of reasonable attorneys fees and court costs incurred in the prosecution of the said rights of action and counterclaims The extent of such lien shall be the amount of the reasonable charges of such hospital for the care and treatment of such injured person but the per diem rate for room and board included in such charges shall not exceed the rate for room and board in the public ward of such hospital

Such lien shall exist only if a notice in writing as herein provided is filed on behalf of the hospital in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which an action or counterclaim was commenced or filed by such injured person or in case of his death by his personal representative prior to the payment over by the defendant in the action of any moneys as compensation for such injuries Such notice shall be filed to the number and term of such action and shall set forth (a) the name and location of the hospital (b) the name and address of the injured person (c) the date of the injury and (d) an itemized statement of the charge of the hospital for the care and treatment of the injured person It shall be the duty of the authority filing any such notice in the office of the prothonotary to mail postage prepaid a copy of such notice to the defendant alleged to be liable to make compensation for the injuries sustained if his address is known or to his attorney of record and if known to any insurance carrier which has insured him against such liability

Section 2 After notice has been filed as provided in section one of this act the lien of the Commonwealth the political subdivision the corporation or association for the amount of the reasonable charge of the hospital for the care and treatment of any injured person as provided in section one of this act shall also attach to any verdict or judgment rendered or entered in any action or on any counterclaim brought in the county by such injured person or by the personal representative of the estate of such injured person in case of the death of the injured person against any defendant for the recovery of damages on account of injuries received as well as to any moneys paid or payable by such defendant in settlement of any action or counterclaim to the injured person or his personal representative

Section 3 After a lien attaches to a verdict judgment or moneys payable in settlement of any action or counterclaim as provided in section two of this act no satisfaction of such judgment shall be entered on the record of such action and no moneys shall be paid over by the defendant in settlement of the claim of the injured person or his personal representative bringing such action or counterclaim until the lien of the hospital has first been paid in full not however exceeding the amount of the full and true consideration payable by the defendant Unless the lien of the hospital is so paid the defendant shall remain liable to the Commonwealth the political subdivision or the corporation or association operating the hospital in which the care and treatment was provided to such injured person and a right of action shall exist to enforce said lien against the defendant for a period of one year from the time of the satisfaction of the judgment or the payment over of the moneys in settlement of such action or counterclaim

Section 4 Any notice filed under and in accordance with this act shall be noted on the docket record of the cause of action to which it relates as a hospital lien noting the amount of the lien

Section 5 The authorities of any hospital to which a lien has been duly paid as provided in this act shall file in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which notice of a lien was filed a duly acknowledged certificate to the effect that the lien filed by such hospital for care and treatment has been duly paid or released and authorizing the prothonotary to discharge the same Thereupon the prothonotary shall note upon the docket record of the action as to which notice of a lien was filed a memorandum of the discharge or release of said hospital lien

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1644, as follows:

An Act declaring the Communist Party and similar revolutionary organization illegal making membership in or participation in the revolutionary activities of the Communist Party or any organization furthering the revolutionary conspiracy by force and violence a felony and providing penalties.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Upon evidence which has been presented and proof which has already been established before the Congress of the United States the federal courts of the United States the courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania there exists an international revolutionary Communist conspiracy which is committed to the overthrow by force and violence of the government of the United States and of the several states including that of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania such conspiracy including the Communist Party of the United States its local components in Pennsylvania and the members thereof.

The Communist Party of the United States in Pennsylvania and all other organizations no matter under what name whose object or purpose is to overthrow the Federal or State Government by force and violence are hereby declared illegal and not entitled to any of the rights privileges and immunities attendant upon legal bodies created under the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any political subdivision thereof and whatever rights privileges and immunities heretofore granted to said party and other organizations with the same revolutionary purpose by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the same are hereby terminated.

Whoever therefore being a member of the Communist Party of the United States or any other organization no matter how named whose object or purpose is to overthrow the Federal or State Government by force and violence knowing the revolutionary object or purpose thereof or whoever participates in the revolutionary activities of the Communist Party or any other organization with the same revolutionary purpose knowing the revolutionary object or purpose thereof is guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not exceeding twenty (20) years or fined not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or both.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, the bill on which we are about to vote is a bill which would outlaw in Pennsylvania the Communist party, and make it a felony for a person knowingly to belong to the Communist party with the intent to overthrow the Government by force or violence. Mr. President, if we pass this bill today, I think it will, as the years go on and this Session is remembered, be one of the landmarks of the 1951 Session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

Mr. President, in some quarters this bill is considered controversial, but it seems to me that any fair-minded citizen, who has given any study to the matter and the implications of it at all, would certainly be in favor of the bill. There has been a good deal of newspaper comment on this bill since it has been introduced, and in particular I am referring now to an article which appeared in the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph, one of the great papers of Pennsylvania, on Monday, August 27, in which a rather lengthy analysis of the bill is set forth. Among other things, this article in the paper comments on the fact that the bill sets forth a legislative determination that the Communist party in the United States is dedicated to the overthrow of the Government by force and violence. The article goes on to quote from the records of the United States Congress, from the United States Supreme Court and from the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, which records find the same premise as a fact.

Mr. President, it seems to me that there can be no doubt now in any American's mind, or in the mind of any Pennsylvanian, that we have a total and a complete philosophical conflict with atheistic communism in Russia. It is quite clear that this gap can never be bridged. It is appropriate, particularly here in Pennsylvania, that we who are the legislative children of the founder of our State, William Penn, who founded this State as a haven for those who were interested in religious freedom, should take this action and outlaw the Communist party in Pennsylvania, and remove it in the future from the ballot in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, the past decade has seen many Americans awakening to the dangers that world-wide communism presents today. Among other things, we have seen the C.I.O. itself take strenuous efforts to rid itself of all unions or members who might be tainted with control from the Kremlin in Moscow.

Mr. President, I think in passing we ought to note, too, that one of the active sponsors of this bill, perhaps the father of it, is the newly elected Supreme Court Justice of Pennsylvania, Judge Michael A. Musmanno, of Allegheny County. Judge Musmanno himself in the post-war years has caused the arrest, indictment, trial and conviction, at a great personal sacrifice, of two of the leaders of the Communist party in western Pennsylvania, but, Mr. President, I think we should all remark and remember that this bill, after all, is merely a police action. It is not the final answer in any sense to communism. It is a necessary step, a step we must take, but only a beginning.

Mr. President, there is still time in this Session of the Legislature to do much more to strengthen our Country in so far as it is possible for us, as Members of this Legislature, to do so. We must remember that communism is a disease that breeds on a sick society. Just as a healthy person can throw off many diseases and infections, so a strong society has nothing to fear from communism. It seems to me that we can direct our efforts in the next few days and weeks that we are down here to strengthening the society of Pennsylvania. We have a good many bills awaiting passage yet, which would make happier and healthier the Pennsylvania working men. We have a whole package of labor bills. Certainly one of the things that we can do for the people is to provide safe, healthy and pleasant working conditions. We should preserve in every way possible and strengthen the integrity of the families of Pennsylvania, and last but not least we must strive at all times to make it possible in Pennsylvania for workmen to work at wages that will enable them to live along with their families, in a decent and humane manner.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have before me a constitutional and factual analysis of House Bill No. 1644, which was prepared by the author of this legislation, His Honor, our State Supreme Court Justice, Judge Michael A. Musmanno.

Mr. President, in perusing over this analysis, I have done so for several days. I find that in this it is well outlined that communism is criminal. The Communist party is an agent of Soviet Russia. I also find that in this analysis of House Bill No. 1644 it is clearly constitutional and in compliance with the Constitution of this Commonwealth. I also find that House Bill No. 1644 preserves the constitutional rights of the individual in this Commonwealth, and the Communist party is most certainly a military fifth column in this great Nation of ours.

Mr. President, this legislation, according to this analysis and my belief, is a necessary and a protective measure and such action is needed to implement Federal legislation. I also might add that Governor Fine in a recent speech urged that Pennsylvania take the lead in the fight against communism and, therefore, I want to make this analysis a part of the record on this momentous day when we take the step to actually outlaw communism in this great Commonwealth of ours.

1. History of House Bill No. 1644

On August 6, 1951, there was introduced into the House of Representatives a bill which has become known as the "Anti-Communist Bill." The bill was introduced bi-partisanly, that is, by Messrs. Mazza, Tompkins, and Ziegler, Republicans; and by Messrs. Schmidt, Saraf and Paul F. Jones, Democrats. There is nothing partisan in this legislation.

The bill was referred to the House Committee on Judiciary and reported out on August 13th. It obtained its first reading August 14th, second reading on August 15th, and on August 20th came before the House for third reading. The measure was fully debated and then voted upon. It passed the House by a vote of 145 yeas to 8 nays. It was then referred to the Senate Committee on Judiciary.

House Bill 1644 is intended to implement federal and state legislation aimed at defeating and destroying all subversive attempts to overthrow our federal and state governments by force and violence.

The bill provides for the outlawing of what every American realizes is a full-sized danger to the American way of life. There is no American worthy of the name who will defend the Communistic way of life, because Communism seeks to destroy the homes of America, the families of America, the churches of America, the equal opportunities of America. It would substitute Lenin for Washington, Marx for Lincoln, Stalin for our American presidents. This is admitted by all Americans. Why then, should there be any reluctance to eliminate this monstrous menace?

House Bill No. 1644 declares that the Communist Party or any other organization committed to the overthrow of our government by force and violence shall have no legal sanction in Pennsylvania. Is there anyone to say that a revolutionary body prepared to introduce bloodshed and chaos into our daily lives should have legal sanction? The danger this legislation is intended to overcome is real and not merely fanciful or conjectural. The Federal Internal Security Act of 1950 proclaims:

"There exists a world Communist movement which, in its origins, its development and its present practise, is a world-wide revolutionary movement whose purpose it is, by treachery, deceit, infiltration into other groups (governmental and otherwise), espionage, sabotage, terrorism, and any other means deemed necessary, to establish a Communist totalitarian dictatorship in the countries throughout the world through the medium of a world-wide Communist organization."

"In the United States those individuals who knowingly and wilfully participate in the world Communist movement, when they so participate, in effect repudiate their allegiance to the United States, and in effect transfer their allegiance to the foreign country in which is vested the direction and control of the world Communist movement."

"The Communist organization in the United States, pursuing its stated objectives, the recent successes of Communist methods in other countries, and the nature and control of the world Communist movement itself, present a clear and present danger to the security of the United States and to the existence of free American institutions."

2. Criminality of Communism is Well Established

This finding by the Congress of the United States is now the law of the land, namely, that the Communist organization in the United States presents "a clear and present danger to the security of the United States and to the existence of free American institutions."

Even more recent than the enactment of the Internal Security Act of 1950, supra, has been the decision of the United States Supreme Court upholding the constitutionality of the Smith Act, (54 Stat. 671, 18 U.S.C.) Eugene Dennis, secretary general of the Communist Party of the United States, and ten other top Communist leaders, were convicted of organizing the Communist Party to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence, and of teaching and advocating the duty and necessity of overthrowing and destroying the government of the United States by force and violence. The Supreme Court, on appeal thereto, declared, through Chief Justice Vinson:

"Petitioners intended to overthrow the Government of the United States as speedily as the circumstances would permit. Their conspiracy to organize the Communist Party and to teach and advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force and violence created a 'clear and present danger' of an attempt to overthrow the Government by force and violence." (341 U.S. 494)

Our own Superior Court declared in Pawell vs. U.C. Board of Review, that:

"Courts have long recognized and have taken judicial notice that Communism, as a political movement, is dedicated to the overthrow of the Government of the United States (and, with it, the governments of the States as necessary incidents in our system of divided sovereignty) by force and violence. (146 Pa. Superior Ct. 147,150.)

In CIO vs. Douds, 70 Sup. Ct. 697, Justice Jackson of the United States Supreme Court outlined quite vividly the purpose of the Communist Party:

"The goal of the Communist Party is to seize powers of government by and for a minority rather than to acquire power through the vote of a free electorate . . . Violent and undemocratic means are the calculated and indispensable methods to attain the Communist Party's goal. It would be incredible naivete to expect the American branch of this movement to forego the only methods by which a Communist Party has anywhere come into power. In not one of the countries it now dominates was the Communist Party chosen by a free or contestable election; in not one can it be evicted by any election. The international police state has crept over Eastern Europe by deception, coercion, coup d'etat, terrorism and assassination. Not only has it overpowered its critics and opponents, it has usually liquidated them. The American Communist Party has copied the organization structure and its leaders have been schooled in the same technique and from the same tutors." (p. 697).

Who can doubt that the Communists are at work to betray America, if they can, into Soviet hands? Who does not now know of the infamous Communist traitors who have purloined atom bomb secrets and State Department secrets to turn over to the Soviets, names that have become a byword and a hissing: the Alger Hisses, the Whitaker Chambers, the Klaus Fuchs, the Harry Golds, the Julian Wadleighs, the Judith Coplons, the Elizabeth Bentley? How many are there today working in our vital industries and possibly even in our government departments? Registering them is not enough, investigating them is not enough. They must be apprehended and rendered immobile so that they can do no damage.

In various parts of Pennsylvania the Communists actually have headquarters in which they glorify Russia, degrade America and plan for the revolution. Under present law these headquarters cannot be dismantled except by long drawn out court proceedings, if at all. Under this bill these headquarters, which are in effect advance posts of the Red Army, would be closed at once.

3. The Communist Party is an Agent of Soviet Russia:

The Communists actually boast of how they are going to Sovietize America. William Z. Foster, national head of the Communist Party in the United States, said:

"When a Communist heads the Government of the United States—and that day will come just as surely as the sun arises—the government will not be a capitalist government but a Soviet government and behind this government will stand the Red army to enforce the dictatorship of the proletariat."

Earl Browder, former secretary general of the Communist Party, said: "The revolution does not simply happen. It must be made."

Opponents of House Bill No. 1644 have said that this law would drive the Communists underground. They are underground now. We have found an Alger Hiss in the State Department, we have found Communists in other governmental departments, in labor unions, in the movie industry, in the science and atom bomb laboratories. This law would force them into the open. Although it has been said that the FBI could arrest on a minutes notice all the dangerous Communists in America we know that four of the most dangerous ones escaped even after conviction by a United States Court.

Some opponents say that it is not American to outlaw a political party because if you can outlaw the Communist Party, conceivably in a later day the Republican or the Democratic Party could be outlawed. But the fundamental error in this type of reasoning is that the Communist Party is not a political party. (As stated by Justice Jackson in CIO vs. Douds, 70 Supreme Court at p. 698, "The Communist Party alone among American parties past or present is dominated and controlled by a foreign government. It is a satrap party which, to the threat of civil disorder, adds the threat of betrayal into alien hands." A political party exists to elect candidates to office, but the Communist Party in Pennsylvania has no provisions to elect anyone to office. It cannot be on the ballot because it has been adjudicated a subversive force.)

(The Communist party is a criminal conspiracy, not a political party.) It is committed to overthrow the government by force and violence. It is simply preposterous to say that by outlawing a revolutionary body you then provide the means for outlawing a perfectly constitutional, legal political organization such as the Republican or Democratic party, which are founded simply and exclusively on the proposition of winning the confidence and the votes of the people by improving their lot through the highest type of governmental administration and legislation.

4. House Bill 1644 is clearly Constitutional.

It is undisputed and indisputable that the Communist Party in Pennsylvania is committed to the overthrow of the government of Pennsylvania, as well as that of the United States, by force and violence. Why then may not the Pennsylvania Legislature declare illegal such an organization and any other organization or organizations committed to the same revolutionary purpose?

In Commonwealth v. Blankenstein, 81 Sup. Ct. 340, our Superior Court declared:

"That the Commonwealth has authority to enact legislation intended to preserve the stability of the government and to prevent the incitement of tumult tending to disturb the public peace and conduct tending to treason cannot be seriously questioned." (p. 342)

In the Blankenstein case (supra), the defendant, a proved Communist, was found guilty of sedition under the Act of June 26, 1919, as amended by the Act of May 10, 1921, P.L. 435. He asserted that the Act was constitutional, but the Superior Court, speaking through Judge Henderson, said:

"The right of self-protection is an attribute of government. No one, whether he be alien or citizen, has any warrant in the Constitution to overthrow its authority by violence, and the right to counteract violence includes the power to prohibit conduct the purpose and effect of which is to produce public disorder and antagonism against the State." (pp.342-343)

This same Act came under attack for alleged unconstitutionality in the case of Commonwealth vs. Widovich, 295 Pa. 311, where several Communists had been convicted of engaging in seditious activities. The Supreme Court, speaking through the brilliant Justice Kephart (later Chief Justice), declared:

"The legislature, under the police power, to preserve the State's republican form of government, to suppress insurrection and to maintain the safety, peace and order of its citizens, may enact laws to suppress acts or attempts to commit acts of violence toward the government." (pp. 317-18.)

The Supreme Court here found that the Communist Party "is affiliated with the 'Third International' of Moscow, which is a world-wide revolutionary organization, and it is admitted that a literal interpretation of Communism, as taught by Marx, Lenin, and their school, includes a proletarian revolution and the dictatorship of the proletariat, to be consummated by force." (pp. 316-17.)

Why may not the Commonwealth protect itself against an organization admittedly under the domination and control of a foreign hostile power, doing business within the very borders of our Commonwealth? Even, if outlawing such revolutionary organizations, were in contradiction of a stated limitation in the Constitution, the Legislature could still enact such legislation under the broad police powers of the State. (Comm. v. Widovich, supra, p. 318.)

House Bill 1644 does not offend against any provision in the Constitution but to show how far the Legislature may go in protecting its sovereign power, we will quote again from Justice Kephart:

"The police power is the greatest and most powerful attribute of government; on it the very existence of the state depends: 6 R.C.L. 183; District of Columbia vs. Brooke, 214 U.S. 138; Bank v. Haskell, 219 U.S. 104; Eubank vs. Richmond, 226 U.S. 137. If the exercise of the police power should be in irreconcilable opposition to a constitutional provision or right, the police power would prevail: Jacobson vs. Massachusetts, 197 U.S. 11, 25, 26; Buffalo Branch, Mutual Film Corp. v. Breitinger, supra, 234; Leiper v. Baltimore & P.R.R.Co., 262 Pa. 328; Scranton v. Pub. Ser. Com. 268, Pa. 192; Springfield Water Co. v. Phila., 285 Pa. 172. (p 318)

The Communist appellants in the Widovich case urged that the Sedition Act violated Sections 2, 7, 9, 13 and 26 of Article I of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and Article XIV of the amendment of the Federal Constitution. Answering, Justice Kephart said:

"The sections of our Constitution chiefly relied on are parts of the second section, which reads: 'The people . . . have at all times an inalienable and indefeasible right to alter, reform or abolish their government in such manner as they think proper'; and part of section 7: 'The free communication of thoughts and opinions is one of the invaluable rights of man, and every citizen may freely speak, write and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty.'

"Whatever may have been the understanding of section 2, the Civil War definitely decided that no change in the form of government can come about through secession or the withdrawal of a part of the people from our scheme of government. That effort to separate was met with successful armed resistance. The established government is the government of all the people; any change in its form should come from the majority, and the Constitution points the way to effect such a change." (p. 317)

In 1924 the Communist leader Gitlow was prosecuted and convicted under a New York statute directed against criminal anarchy. On appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States he claimed that the law was unconstitutional because it infringed on the constitutional right of free speech. The Supreme Court said:

"By enacting the present statute the State has determined, through its legislative body, that utterances advocating the overthrow of government by force, violence and unlawful means, are so inimical to the general welfare and involve such danger of substantive evil that they may be penalized in the exercise of its police power. That determination must be given great weight. Every presumption is to be indulged in favor of the validity of the statute. That utterances inciting to the overthrow of organized government by unlawful means, present a sufficient danger of substantive evil to bring their punishment within the range of legislative discretion, is clear." (269 U. S. at 668-669)

It will be noted that in this decision the Supreme Court said that "every presumption is to be indulged in favor of the validity of the statute."

The same reasoning would apply to House Bill 1644. In the absence of anything in the statute which clearly offends against the Constitution (and no one can say that there is any such provision in the bill), it is to be presumed that it is constitutional.

It would be a dereliction of duty to refrain from passing needed legislation, with every presumption of its constitutionality, only because there might be an unarticulated objection of a remote and highly improbable unconstitutionality. With the precedents which we have before us in the United States Supreme Court, in the Pennsylvania appellate courts and in the Congress of the United States, the remoteness of unconstitutionality of House Bill 1644 is as far away as to be practically non-existent.

What member of the Legislature is going to vote against a bill aimed at an undisputed clear and present danger on the unsubstantiated rumor that it might be unconstitutional? The Constitution is not a self-defeating instrument, nor is it a suicide pact.

Another expressed fear, which is utterly groundless, is that House Bill 1644 would create ex post facto law. This bill naturally would not go into effect until after it has passed both houses and is approved by the Governor, so that those who are now members of the Communist Party and leave it, provided they have not committed any other now indictable crime, will be free to begin life anew.

5. House Bill 1644 preserves Constitutional Rights

House Bill 1644 does not curtail the right of anyone to argue for a change in our government. If one be so foolish he may, under the provisions of this legislation, argue publicly that he believes the United States should be a colony of Russia. If, however, he should undertake by himself or in concert with others to bring about the Sovietization of America, by the use of force and violence, he would then be in trouble. America will never disturb anyone, (and this legislation upholds that sanctity), who advocates alteration in government so long as such change is accomplished by a decision made in the ballot box. But when one decides upon the use of violence to effect a change, he will be and should be prosecuted.

"Whatever theoretical right there may be to the argument that there is a 'right' to rebellion against dictatorial governments is without force where the existing structure of the government provides for peaceful and orderly change. We reject any principle of governmental helplessness in the face of preparation for revolution, which principle, carried to its logical conclusion, must lead to anarchy." (Chief Justice Vinson in Dennis, v. United States, supra.)

The Smith Act and even our present Sedition Act, already upheld in the appellate courts, go constitutionally further than H. 1644. Under those federal and state laws, there is a restriction on the so-called absolute right of free speech. But under H. 1644, a person may not be punished unless he is a member of a revolutionary organization committed to destroy our very government by force and violence. Being a member presupposes that he has gone through whatever preliminaries would be required to establish the applicant's qualifications for membership in the revolutionary organization. The second situation in this bill which would bring into effect its punitive provisions is that situation where one participates in the activities of the Communist Party or any other revolutionary organization, knowing its revolutionary purposes. The third punitive situation is where one knowingly conspires, aids or abets any person or organization whose activities further the purpose of the Communist Party or any other revolutionary organization to bring a revolution by force and violence.

The fears expressed by some individuals (who apparently have not closely read the bill) that some innocent people might be victimized by its provisions are entirely groundless. In order to be punished under H. R. 1164, it must be proved that the accused knew and actively took part in a movement designed to overthrow the government by force and violence. And why should any mantle of immunity be thrown about anyone who is a knowing and active participant in a movement designed to raze the very structure of American government and the democratic ideals which make America?

6. The Communist Party is a Military Fifth Column

The program of the Communist Party is defined by its members as "scientific socialism." That "science" includes scientific warfare. Compton's Encyclopaedia, 10th Edition, War Volume, and which is studied in Communist classrooms, devotes an important section to the employment of "Propaganda and Fifth Column" in modern warfare.

"Every nation recognizes its value, because if the 'will to win' can be broken by propaganda instead of by inflicting grievous losses, this is 'just as good war' as fighting battles.'" (Compton's, p. 124).

The Communists recognize the Fifth Column and its activities as an extension of its warfront. And yet, paradoxically, we allow the Communist fifth column in America free access into our military establishments and industries and the maximum use of our communications and transportation facilities. Communist journalists are allowed to gather data on our defense setup and report to Russia; they are permitted to gather news everywhere and distort it. Communist scientists are permitted to study our latest machinery and inventions and report to the Soviet Union. And we know all the time that these Communists are enemies of the United States. By the adoption of House Bill 1644 in law, a mortal blow will have been dealt to this phase of Communist aggression.

7. House Bill 1644 is a necessary Protective Measure needed at once.

The program of the Communist Party so unmistakably provides for overthrow of government and so unmistakably foretells a host of evils of even greater magnitude, that the Legislature should not be required to wait until violent overthrow or until even an attempt at such overthrow is imminent. A government should not be asked to gamble on the hope that its sworn enemies will fail in securing the required opportunity and necessary number of supporters to accomplish their revolutionary intention. As the Supreme Court put it in Gitlow v. N. Y. 268 U. S. at 669, this amounts to saying that the State's right "to protect itself would come into being simultaneously with the overthrow of the government, when there would be neither prosecuting officers nor courts for the enforcement of the law."

The Communist Party is a highly organized movement and through years of working through the accepted and normal channels of American life, has absorbed all the benefits of corporate existence and governmental protection while working to destroy the very system on which it feeds. The innumerable mechanical devices of American modern life are used by them in preparing their revolutionary schemes. Depriving them of this equipment will seriously cripple their efficiency. Make it illegal for one to belong to this type of revolutionary organization and you will reduce the membership 98% because Communists, like all criminals, are essentially cowards. 98% of them are Communists because they believe they will gain fat commissar sinecures, come the revolution. Wipe out their meretricious hope and they will desert the Communist Party like rats deserting a sinking ship.

This legislation will wreck their machinery of preparation, prevent the recruitment of followers for their unconstitutional and bloody enterprise and knock out their self-assured fifth column.

8. State action needed to implement Federal Legislation.

This legislation is needed in Pennsylvania. It does not comport with history or wisdom to say that the task of extirpating Communism from America should be left to the Federal Government. When prohibition was law of the land, the State had its own prohibition enforcement act, even though there existed at the same time a federal prohibition act.

In many ways the State is better equipped to find Communists than the Federal Government. Without in any way intending to criticize the Federal Bureau of Investigation, for which, with the rest of America, we have only commendation and praise, it is a fact, as previously stated, that four convicted Communist conspirators, in New York, under strict FBI surveillance, escaped.

With a state statute outlawing Communism, every county detective, every city and borough policeman, and every township officer will be on the alert to arrest Communist revolutionaries, and every county will be ready, through its District Attorney's office and its courts, to prosecute the accused immediately. The Federal Government, because of its limited facilities in Pennsylvania, is compelled to move slowly and restrictedly.

9. Governor Fine urges Pennsylvania take Lead in Fight against Communism.

On August 21st Governor John S. Fine made a speech in Pittsburgh in which he said that Pennsylvania has been a "leader" in the fight against Communism and that "we will continue to attack it until it is stamped out." The Governor is absolutely right in his statement. Pennsylvania is and should be the leader to drive Communism out of America life. The Governor said further that once Pennsylvania acts "other states and other countries will adopt that program."

One hears opponents of anti-Communist legislation say that we are living in a period of hysteria and should not pass laws on this subject for that reason. The 145 members of the House of Representatives who voted for House Bill No. 1644 were not under the influence of hysteria when they approved it. Only eight could see any fault in the legislation. Are we to say that our system of democracy has broken down. And that 145 are all wrong and 8 all right?

These 145 representatives did not vote for this bill because they were hysterical. They voted that way because they were, as all of us are, gravely concerned over the preservation of the American way of life. They were concerned, as all of us are concerned, over our boys being sent to Korea and other parts of the world to save civilization. They had in mind, as all of us must be keenly aware of the top ranking position held by Pennsylvania as the industrial arsenal of freedom for the people of America and for the freedom-hungry peoples of the world.

It is not hysteria but solemn alarm which directs our attention to the serpent of treachery which has shown its fangs in many phases of American life.

The time has come to strike at that serpent. It is fortunate that the Legislature is in session. Were it to enact no other legislation this year but would eradicate Communism from the Keystone State it would earn the gratitude of every freedom-loving Pennsylvanian and become known in history as the session which once and for all ended the life of the Communist Party here. Once House Bill 1644 becomes law the Communist Party in Pennsylvania will fold up. Other States will then follow Pennsylvania's lead. Other countries will follow the United States.

With Communist fifth columnism destroyed, Joe Stalin will be unable to move beyond his own borders. Stalin needs traitors in order to conquer countries. With his fifth columnist traitors eliminated, Stalin will be like a spider with his legs cut off.

Enactment of House Bill 1644 into law will be the first knife to begin that highly salutary amputation on Joe Stalin.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with the permission of the Senate, I would like to clarify something that is bothering some of the Members of the Senate, on our side in particular. I have here the Senate Calendar from the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, in which they list the bills they oppose and the bills they favor, and among the bills opposed by the Federation was House Bill No. 1644, which the Senate just passed unanimously.

Mr. President, I want it clearly understood that the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor was interested in one section of the act which was amended, and, therefore, they are in favor of the bill.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1715, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to The Brandywine Battlefield Park Commission for the payment of necessary expenses

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to The Brandywine Battlefield Park Commission for the payment of general expenses supplies printing and equipment necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the commission and to maintain the lands or structures acquired under the provisions of Act No. 517 approved July 5 1947 (P. L. 1293) for the two fiscal years beginning June 1 1951

Section 2 When approved by the Governor the appropriation in the act providing moneys for the purposes herein indicated for the biennium will be reduced by the amount appropriated by this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

HOUSE BILL No. 629 CALLED UP FROM THIRD READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up House Bill No. 629 from the Third Reading Postponed Calendar for consideration at this time.

Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 629, as follows:

An Act to establish a separate orphans' court in and for the county of Beaver

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In the thirty-sixth judicial district of the Commonwealth composed of the county of Beaver a separate orphans' court is hereby established the name and style of which shall be the Orphans' Court of Beaver County which court shall be a court of record and shall consist of one judged learned in the law

Section 2 Said judge shall hold office in the manner as the judges of the court of common pleas of the county The annual salary of the said judge shall be the same as is paid to the judges of the court of common pleas of the said county and shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of said judges of the court of common pleas are now or may be hereafter made by law payable

Section 3 The terms of court of the said orphans' court shall be the same as the terms of the court of common pleas of the said county and may also be held at such other times and as often as the judge thereof shall deem necessary and proper

Section 4 The said court shall have and exercise all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in or which may hereafter be conferred upon the orphans' court of the Commonwealth under and by the virtue of the laws thereof

Section 5 The commissioners of the said county shall provide proper and suitable apartments in which the said orphans' court shall be held and its business transacted and in which the records thereof shall be safely and securely kept

And said bill having been read at length the third time; and agreed to,

HOUSE BILL No. 333 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up House Bill No. 333 from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar for consideration at this time.

HOUSE BILL No. 334 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up House Bill No. 334 from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar for consideration at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 334, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by further providing for reimbursement by the Commonwealth to school districts and vocational school districts.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before offering my amendment, on behalf of Senator Walker, Senator Fleming and myself, I want to take one minute to give just a word of explanation as to what this amendment does.

Mr. President, several years ago, if you remember correctly, they divided the school districts of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Philadelphia is now a school district of the first class and Pittsburgh is first class-A, and under the formula of the school subsidy Pittsburgh, from that time on, has suffered a terrific injustice. To give the gentlemen of the Senate an idea, in round figures, there are in Philadelphia eight thousand teaching units. In the city of Pittsburgh, there are twenty-six hundred teaching units. In other words, Philadelphia has three times the number of teaching units as the Pittsburgh school district.

Mr. President, under this bill Philadelphia will get, if my amendment is not adopted, six times the amount of money that Pittsburgh does. My amendment simply says that the return for school districts of first class-A will be the same as school districts of the first class. In other words, under the bill as it is written now, Pittsburgh will only get $625,000 return and Philadelphia will get $4,000,000. This is just to correct that inequality.

Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Walker, Senator Fleming and myself, I offer the following amendment.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, may we be at ease for a minute or two?

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, there are a couple of points I would like to clear up for the Members of the Senate. Some are of the opinion that House Bill No. 334 is an appropriation bill. It is not an appropriation bill. It simply is the bill that mandates the return per teaching unit in all class districts in the State.

Mr. President, some think if we pass this bill, it will cut the allocation of money to other school districts. That again is not true because this simply mandates, if it becomes law, what shall be the return per teaching unit in each type of school district in the State. In other words, this will not cost Philadelphia one cent, and it will not cost Pottsville or any other city in the State any money.

Messrs. BARR, FLEMING and WALKER offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, (Sec. 2502), page 14, line 9, by inserting after the word "pupils" and before the word "Provided" the following: "Provided further That no school district of the first class A shall be paid by the Commonwealth on account of the instruction of pupils under the provisions of this section an amount per teaching unit which shall be less than the amount per teaching unit paid by the Commonwealth to a school district of the first class on account of the instruction of pupils and".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move the adoption of the amendment.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I do not particularly relish the obligation which I feel to oppose this amendment, but it seems to me, if the spirit of equalization of State-aid to schools is going to be lived up to, that we must point out the fact that there should not be any differentiation made for any particular city of any size whatever.

Now, Mr. President, many years ago we established in this Commonwealth what educational experts had unanimously agreed is the finest system of financing public schools on a State level that exists anywhere or has ever existed. That formula has been carried out. We have established, incidentally, a Tax Equalization Board to determine local realty values so that we cannot "fix" the score back home to take advantage of our brothers in some other part of the State.

Now, this amendment proposes to desert that formula, and say that one city school district shall not get any less per unit than another city school district gets, apparently ignoring the realty values that might be behind such a movement. Philadelphia does not get so much per unit arbitrarily. As a matter of fact, Philadelphia feels just as much as Pittsburgh does that it has to have more money for its schools, and so at Philadelphia's request we passed a bill this Session to make an additional realty tax possible for school purposes, and not to be outdone, Pittsburgh came along and had the same kind of a bill introduced in the House. It passed the House unanimously. It came over to the Senate and came to the Education Committee, where we treated it very sympathetically because we said that if Pittsburgh feels the need of more money for schools and is willing, as Philadelphia is willing, to supplement the State subsidy with an additional effort on their own part, let us give them that opportunity. Yet, I find, by looking at yesterday's calendar, on page 21, House Bill No. 488, Printer's No. 476, "An act to impose a temporary tax on real estate for public school purposes in school districts of the first class A for current expenses," and the bill was dropped from the calendar or recommitted to the committee from which it came.

Mr. President, I inquired, knowing Pittsburgh's solicitude for its schools and its school costs, as to the occasion for this, and I was told from two different sources that a study had been made and it was determined that Pittsburgh did not need any more money. Well, if Pittsburgh does not need any more money when it is coming out of their own pocket, I question whether they need it any more when it is coming out of your pocket or my pocket. The thing I am fearful of, and dreadfully fearful of, is that I shall look up the records and I shall find that possibly Frackville gets a few more dollars per unit than Tamaqua does, and then I shall introduce an amendment to the bill that Tamaqua shall not get less than Frackville, no matter how I define the names of the towns. Then Senator Stevenson will find that Lock Haven gets somewhat less than Bellefonte, and he is in with a bill and your formula of equalization of educational opportunity in this Commonwealth, which has made us famous in that respect at least, is thrown down the drain pipe.

Mr. President, I would most sincerely, and only with kindness in my heart for Pittsburgh, believe me, urge for the sake of the future of the public school system in the entire Commonwealth that we stick to our formula, and that we vote down the amendment proposed for Pittsburgh's special case.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not like to recall things to my good friend, Senator Wagner, but I think that people from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia sat here in this Senate and voted the appropriations for the distressed school districts in his county, and the next county to them, which I think comprised about ninety-five per cent of the distressed school districts in Pennsylvania.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, at this point I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Education Committee if there is not a bill being passed which would freeze the subsidies going back to some school districts, so that they will not suffer under this bill. Am I correct in that, Senator Wagner?

Mr. WAGNER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I am correct in that?

Mr. WAGNER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. What is the difference then? If some school districts are frozen with a separate act, your whole system of equalization goes out of the window. Now, at least be consistent about our returns to the school districts.

Mr. President, you remember several years ago in here, when Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were the same class school districts, we got the same return. Then Philadelphia came in and asked to be separated from the city of Pittsburgh, which I and Senator Walker vehemently opposed on this floor but lost. Now, the people of Pittsburgh are again suffering for that.

Mr. WAGNER. Well, now, Mr. President, I would suggest to the gentleman that there is just a slight difference in the several things which he considers parallel to this. So far as distressed school districts are concerned, whether they are in Schuylkill County or Allegheny County, all of us will vote for them when we know the need is acute. There is not a man in this Senate, if Pittsburgh came in here next week and said they were not able to pay their teachers' salaries, and could prove their case and show why there was a deficiency in their revenue, who would not vote the necessary thousands or millions of dollars to keep the boys and girls in school, and teachers in the classrooms in Pittsburgh.

Now, Mr. President, there is a difference between distress and an established basis of subsidies. I would also remind him that this freeze clause which he talks about was put in so that there would not be a few schools in the State or districts getting less money than they got years ago. That is a hard pill to swallow, and under this formula, which made more money available to ninety-five or ninety-six per cent of the school districts, there were a few that because of the formula would have gotten less money from the State than they got ten years ago, and we thought—

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for just a moment?

Mr. WAGNER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to correct the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, on one thing. We are getting less on account of the separation from Philadelphia than we would have gotten under the same thing you are talking about, under this freeze clause for other districts.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I think Pittsburgh and Philadelphia both come under the minimum payment.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we get the minimum.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, there is a minimum reimbursement under which no district shall go, and that has been increased under this bill, so that, if I am not incorrect, Pittsburgh will get substantially more under this bill than they are getting under the present bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Pittsburgh will get $250 while Philadelphia gets $500.

Mr. WAGNER. Well, Mr. President, there again we are comparing Peter and Paul just as two individuals and not necessarily as personalities, just as physical beings. Pittsburgh is not neglected under this bill. They are enriched, and their reimbursements are increased over the present arrangement. I think that should be made abundantly clear.

Now, Mr. President, if Philadelphia gets more per unit than Pittsburgh gets, that can only mean, and I do not make the measurements, that Philadelphia does not have as much local wealth back of a unit of pupils as Pittsburgh has, and the whole formula is designed to equal that, help the poor fellow give his children as good an education as the wealthy fellow, and so we give the wealthy fellow a little bit, the rich man a little more and we give the poor fellow enough to keep stepping.

Now, Mr. President, if you want to discard all of that, the amendment will be the beginning of that destruction.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it is true that House Bill No. 488 was dropped from the calendar yesterday, and I do not think that the school board should be criticized because they have handled their affairs in a businesslike manner, and found they will have a little surplus and that they will not need the increased mill and a half on the real estate in the city of Pittsburgh. I do not think they should be criticized for good management and a high percentage of collection of taxes.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. FLEMMING and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—8

Vol. 32.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1951.

No. 93.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, November 28, 1951.

The Senate met at 1 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D.D., Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. Almighty God, Whose favor is life and Whose loving kindness is better than life, we give Thee thanks for Thy good gift of life, for work to do and strength to do it, for the confidence of our neighbors, the faith of our friends and the love of our families. We thank Thee for the freedom that is ours to be our best, and for the brotherhood of mankind which can make our land the best.

Lord, remind us often that one square inch of this good land of liberty is worth more than a thousand square miles of those lands where tyranny lives, and Godlessness reigns and truth is in chains. O God, give us the simple decency then to use our freedom not for selfish ends, but for great good purposes. So may our Country be kept great by our loyalty to the highest, even in little things. Amen and Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. WATKINS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Walker asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SCARLETT, because of illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. DIEHM, because of illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. WAGNER, because of illness.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Certainly, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, as all of us know, here in Pennsylvania the deer season opens up next Monday, and many of the Members of the House and Senate who take to hunting big game made plans, including myself, on the premise that the Session would be reconvened on the tenth day of December, and being a game hunter for thirty-three successive years, I wanted to maintain that record and I also made plans.

Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny County whether or not in his judgment we shall have before this body any tax bills next week that may require a vote. If not, then I should like to be released for next week and take care of my hunting duties. However, realizing that I have a responsibility, if the gentleman thinks that the tax program will come up for final vote, then, naturally, I must forego my pleasure. Can the gentleman tell me what he has planned up to the present moment along those lines?

Mr. WALKER. Well, Mr. President, I am very desirous of answering the gentleman's question as nearly correct as I can with the somewhat limited knowledge that I have of developments up to this point, and I would like to say to my distinguished colleague from Cambria that as far as I know now there will be Sessions the early part of next week, at least Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and perhaps further Sessions on Thursday and Friday.

I am hopeful, Mr. President, and I do not want to be misunderstood in this, that the fiscal problems of the Commonwealth will be finally resolved next week for the 1951-1953 biennium.

Mr. HALUSKA. Then, Mr. President, I take it from that statement that the gentleman feels definitely that this body will vote on a tax program. Mr. Walker, can you tell me whether or not it may be before Thursday?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am sorry, I wish I could give him the information but, frankly, I do not have it at this time, Senator. I do not know how rapidly or how conclusively this fiscal picture will develop. I do not want to be trite and say to him that the committee reports progress, but we are hopeful that the fiscal problem will be solved as far as this biennium is concerned next week.

Now, whether the roll call, Senator, would be on Tuesday, or Wednesday or Thursday, I do not know.

Mr. HALUSKA. I see, Mr. President. The gentleman realizes I am sincere in my interrogation.

Mr. WALKER. I appreciate that, and I am confronted with the same thing, as are quite a number of the Members of the Senate who for years have done the thing that you are talking about. We all want to go hunting but we would like to get this thing over with and that is of concern to all of us, and I appreciate the sincerity of your desire to not break your long years of recreation during the hunting season.

Mr. HALUSKA. Well, may I ask, Mr. President, does the gentleman think I am, comparatively safe in being away Monday and Tuesday, and be back here Wednesday?

Mr. WALKER. Well, Mr. President, I will say this to the Senator. I think he has a greater degree of safety in being away Monday and Tuesday than he would have in being away, let us say, Wednesday and Thursday. As the gentleman knows, if the Finance Committee would meet, the earliest date they could meet would be Monday and that would mean that the earliest that bills could appear on the Senate Calendar, if any are reported out of the Finance Committee, would be on the Tuesday Calendar, at which point they would be on Second Reading.

Mr. HALUSKA. Then, Mr. President, it seems I could take the chance of coming back Wednesday, I would assume.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would say that to the gentleman, if he is desirous of making arrangements like that, if he will leave with the Secretary of the Senate some method of communication with him, I assure the gentleman that he will get a daily report of the status of the fiscal problem so he will know just where we are with it.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I appreciate that, but it just so happens where our camp is located in Tioga County, it is so far out of civilization that there are no phones within thirty miles.

Mr. President, it may be that I could drive into town Tuesday night and call somebody. I feel it is my duty to support the tax program, it is my obligation, and after being in Session for nine months, I would hate very much to be away on that date. That is why I would really like to lend my support in passing some kind of a tax program.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate that.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, would the gentleman yield?

Mr. HALUSKA. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not wish to take any offense at any remarks made by the gentleman from Cambria, but I do wish to have the record show that there are no points in Tioga County that are more than thirty miles from telephones.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to advise the gentleman from Tioga County that I was down in camp during the first day of turkey season, and the big snow came and it took me exactly three hours to get from the camp to the pike. Now, that is only about, probably, eighteen miles from our camp, and then I do not know how far I had to go to a telephone from there. It is a nice little part of the country, I must say that.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. KESSLER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 892, entitled:

An Act to add subsection (d) to section 530 of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth; courts, county boards of election, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by requiring that the Flag of the United States be flown or displayed at polling places on election days.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to make a brief statement before I present this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, may proceed.

Mr. YOSO. Mr. President, I received letters, and I am sure other Members of this Senate received letters, from the Pennsylvania Hospital Association, outlining the current financial condition of some of these institutions by virtue of the fact that they have not received their quarterly appropriations. I understand they did not receive those appropriations, although we did provide stopgap funds here before the recess, for the reason that the Attorney General decided that the funds to these institutions were in a non-preferred class and, therefore, the appropriation that we made, the stopgap appropriation, funds from that appropriation could not be used to allocate funds to the institutions.

Mr. President, I tried to get a copy of that opinion. I called the Attorney General's Department. They made a search and they could not find it. I called the Budget Bureau, and the same thing applied there. I, therefore, assumed that whatever opinions were expressed were verbal.

In any event, Mr. President, from statistics that I compiled yesterday there are approximately two hundred sixty state-aided institutions that are now awaiting these funds. The first quarterly allocation was due on August 1, and the second quarterly allocation will be due on December 1, and there are some people of the impression that the Legislature must decide the full amount of the appropriation to be made to these institutions. Of course, I disagree with that. I disagree with that because, regardless of how much appropriate to any particular institution, they only get what they earn, and what they earn is decided by reports that are filed by these institutions, which are subsequently audited by the Auditor General's Department. As of the present time, some two hundred fifty-eight institutions are involved, one hundred fifty-eight of them have filed their quarterly reports, ninety-eight of these reports, have been audited and the balance are in the process of being audited, so that these funds are due and payable to them.

Mr. President, they are up against it financially, and I think they ought to have their money. For that purpose I think the Appropriations Committee ought to meet and provide the necessary funds to at least take care of the first quarterly payment which was due on August 1, and I understand that amount is about four and one-quarter million dollars.

Accordingly, Mr. President, I present the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE SUGGESTING APPROPRIATION COMMITTEE MEET
TO PROVIDE TEMPORARY APPROPRIATIONS FOR STATE-AIDED INSTITUTIONS

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, November 28, 1951.

Whereas, as a result of the confusion presently existing in the State's Fiscal program, approximately 260 State Aided institutions have not received appropriations which would be due them quarterly, August 1, 1951 and which will become due December 1, 1951 and which they would normally receive every three months thereafter during the current biennium, and

Whereas, many of these institutions now find themselves in strapped financial circumstances resulting in an inability to serve the citizens of this Commonwealth in the usual manner, and

Whereas, this condition has been brought about only because of a verbal opinion by the Attorney General of this Commonwealth, which opinion has attempted to segregate funds for these institutions into a "non-preferred class," and

Whereas, the verbal opinion of the Attorney General was rendered only as a subterfuge to carry out the threat of the Governor of the Commonwealth relative to the withholding of funds in order to create the financial situation which now exists in these institutions; the creation of the existing financial situation in state-aided institutions was intended as a means of exerting pressure upon the Members of the Senate to vote for the proposed income tax, and

Whereas, it is highly questionable whether funds of this kind or appropriations for this purpose should legally be considered non-preferred, and

Whereas, it is conceded without question that expenditures of this kind are of the greatest need and represent the highest moral obligation of this Legislature since they concern themselves in the main with services to citizens of this Commonwealth, who are most needy, and

Whereas, as a result of said opinion by the Attorney General of this Commonwealth, most of the appropriation bills for this purpose have been re-referred to the Appropriation Committee,

Now therefore it is suggested now that the income tax bill is dead, that the Appropriation Committee of the Senate meet to re-consider said appropriation bills for the purpose of providing sufficient temporary appropriations, re-report them, as amended, to enable this body to take immediate action, so that the periodic payments due and to become due, can be made to the institutions involved until such time as appropriations in a definite amount are determined by the General Assembly.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

RECESS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate

do now take a recess for ten minutes, to permit a Democratic Caucus.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I want to make some clarifying remarks so that my colleagues on both sides of the house, and especially my colleagues on this side of the house, shall not be accused by newspapers or by their constituents in the place where they are being persecuted for things they have not done, and things they have not said with regard to the charges that I have made. I feel that I owe it to them, and I want to frankly state my position.

Mr. President, when I made my speech at the Ebensburg Court House, I said in addition to being approached myself—now get this right, Mr. President—I said there are rumors that other deals are in the making. I said that one of them was that Senator Dent and Senator Barr are interested in the Pittsburgh investigation. The other was that certain minority representation will be given the Democrats on the Liquor Control Board. The third was that there was a rumor that on the Turnpike Commission, one of those positions would be given to a Democrat. I said if my charges are properly investigated, all of these rumors should be aired accordingly to clarify the rumors afloat in Pennsylvania. They were only rumors.

Mr. President, I at no time accused anybody. At no time did I mention names, and I am even told now that my colleague from Beaver County, Senator Neff, was mentioned by me. No reporter, no other living person can stand in place and say that I ever mentioned the name of Senator Neff as being involved in any deal. Others talked about deals, and I said all these deals should be properly aired.

Now, Mr. President, to show you how far one may go, in today's Pittsburgh Post Gazette, Wednesday, November 28, under an editorial, I read as follows:

"Indeed, Senator Haluska hints"—now, imagine that—"hints that two prominent Senators in his own Democratic Party toyed with a political deal regarding the State income tax." I have never said two, prominent Democrats or two prominent Republicans. I have never mentioned names. The paper goes out and creates a hint, and accuses innocent people. I think it is most unfair.

Mr. President, I read here in the Patriot, wherein I asked the Governor what personal consideration will be shown those Democrats who may vote for the income tax. Mr. President, I made that remark and I stand back of it because I heard of these rumors. None of my Democratic colleagues prompted me to make that remark, none of my Democratic colleagues knew I was making that remark. I was speaking solely for myself, and the record so shows it. The other Democrats who attended the meeting at Hershey asked their own questions about the fiscal problem, but they were not involved or should not be accused for the remarks that I made. I want them exonerated. I stand back of the remarks that I made. I want none of my colleagues involved or dragged into any sin of omission if there is any. I feel there is none. When the time comes I will speak for myself but I do not want any colleagues accused unjustly.

Mr. President at no time did I say that Senator Dent and Senator Barr were making a deal or were made an offer to clear the Pittsburgh investigation. They take care of their own problems. Personally I do not think Dave Lawrence the Mayor of Pittsburgh needs any clearance. That is my personal thought and what Senator Barr did in committee on the income tax and Senator Dent, that was their own personal privilege and their duty. As I said yesterday, or the day before yesterday, the record shows that I spoke on the floor of this Chamber and I said that the income tax bill should come out of committee. Give us the right to vote for it or against it. Let us dispose of it. They helped to bring it out. That was up to them. It was not at my insistence. I guess Republicans voted for it, too. They were ready to vote for it or against it. That is entirely up to their conscience. I cannot speak for them when a final vote would come, but I assume they would have voted against it but it is very unfair, Mr. President, for the papers to carry a story that hints certain men are involved, because I owe that to my colleagues on both sides of the house, and when I mention names, I will mention names directly. I do not want to be quoted as quoting hints, and then somebody pick them up back home and accuse innocent men. Of course, it is true the paper sometimes has a way of putting words in the mouths of people. That is entirely up to them, but they should be fair in this matter and hold me responsible for what I have said, but do not drag in the names of people who are not involved.

CALENDAR

FOR WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1951, OVER IN ITS ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Calendar for Wednesday, November 28, 1951, in its entirety, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, December 3, 1951, at 4 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 2:19 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, December 3, 1951, at 4 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1951.

No. 94.

SENATE

MONDAY, December 3, 1951.

The Senate met at 4 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPENS, D. D., Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. Almighty God, by Whose grace we live our lives and do our work, we thank Thee for Thy guiding hand upon us, for Thy protection round about us and for all the evidences of Thy love and care.

Look with favor, we beseech Thee, upon this Senate assembled for a new week of responsibility and labor. Prosper whatever has been accomplished that is in accordance with Thy will.

Grant unto these, Thy servants, wisdom as they face the tasks yet before them, and may they labor as in Thy sight alone. Give them a vision of truth and justice, endow them with patience and strength, and keep them loyal to the highest and best. Our times are in Thy hand, O Lord. Let Thy hand be upon their shoulder, Thy voice be their chief counsel and Thine approval their highest goal.

Lord, Thou alone knowest what burdens these men carry. Grant them Thy help and guide them, we pray. In the Master's name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. CROWE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 334, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by further providing for reimbursement by the Commonwealth to school districts and vocational school districts The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsections 4 5 and 6 of section two thousand five hundred one and sections two thousand five hundred two and two thousand five hundred three of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1806) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2501 Definitions For the purposes of this article the following terms shall have the following meanings

(4) "Minimum Subsidy" shall designate the minimum amount per teaching unit payable by the Commonwealth to any school district or vocational school district under the provisions of this act the minimum subsidy shall be

[eight hundred dollars ($800)] one thousand dollars ($1000)

(5) "Maximum Subsidy" shall designate the maximum amount per teaching unit which may be payable by the Commonwealth to any one school district or vocational school district under the provisions of this act. The maximum subsidy shall be for the school year [1948-1949 two thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($2450) for the school year 1949-1950 three thousand three hundred fifty dollars ($3350) and for each school year thereafter three thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($3450)] 1950-1951 three thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($3850) for the school year 1951-1952 four thousand dollars ($4000) for the school year 1952-1953 four thousand three hundred dollars ($4300) for the school year 1953-1954 four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) for the school year 1954-1955 four thousand seven hundred dollars ($4700) for the school year 1955-1956 four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) for the school year 1956-1957 five thousand one hundred dollars ($5100) for the school year 1957-1958 five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) for the school year 1958-1959 and for each school year thereafter five thousand five hundred dollars ($5500). Provided That in the event that Federal moneys shall at any time be made available to the Commonwealth for school purposes the Superintendent of Public Instruction may from time to time increase the amount of the applicable maximum subsidy to school districts but not to vocational school districts to an extent necessary to absorb the amount of any allocation of Federal moneys so that "maximum subsidy" as hereinabove limited shall always have reference to payments made out of appropriations of Commonwealth moneys irrespective of any available Federal moneys.

(6) "Standard Reimbursement Fraction" School districts' or vocational school districts' standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed annually in the month of December by the Department of Public Instruction.

[In the case of a school district its standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year 1948-1949 by subtracting from two thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($2450) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's assessed valuation per district teaching unit by six-one thousandths (.006) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($2450) for the school year 1940-1950 by subtracting from three thousand three hundred fifty dollars ($3350) an amount determined by multiplying the school districts valuation per district teaching unit as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board by four-one thousandths (.004) and dividing the difference so obtained by three thousand three hundred fifty dollars ($3350) and for every school year thereafter by subtracting from three thousand four hundred fifty ($3450) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board by four-one thousandths (.004) and dividing the difference so obtained by three thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($3450)]

A school district's assessed valuation to be used for purposes of computing the standard reimbursement fraction for the school year 1948-1949 shall be the assessed valuation of the district's taxable real property as determined for the preceding year for county tax purposes for the school year 1949-1950 and for every school year thereafter each district's valuation to be used for purposes of computing its standard reimbursement fraction shall be the valuation placed upon its taxable real property by the State Tax Equalization Board.

[In the case of a vocational school district its standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year 1948-1949 by subtracting from two thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($2450) an amount determined by multiplying the assessed valuation per district teaching unit by three one-thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by two thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($2450) for the school year 1949-1950 by subtracting from three thousand three hundred fifty dollars ($3350) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board by two one-thousandths (.002) and dividing the difference so obtained by three thousand three hundred fifty dollars ($3350) and for every school year thereafter by subtracting from three thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($3450) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board by two one-thousandths (.002) and dividing the difference so obtained by three thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($3450)]

A school district's or vocational school district's valuation to be used for purposes of computing the standard reimbursement fraction shall be the valuation placed upon its taxable real property by the State Tax Equalization Board.

A school district's or vocational school district's number of district teaching units for purposes of determination of the standard reimbursement fraction shall be obtained as follows (i) divide by twenty-two (22) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public high school during the preceding school term (ii) divide by thirty (30) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public elementary school during the preceding school term and (iii) add the quotients obtained under (i) and (ii) above except when the pupil-teacher ratio exceeds thirty-three (33) in which case the sum obtained under (i) and (ii) above shall be multiplied by thirty-three (33) and the product so obtained shall be divided by the pupil-teacher ratio of the district. No school district or vocational school district shall be credited with less than one teaching unit or be assigned a reimbursement fraction lower in value than the minimum subsidy divided by the maximum subsidy. All one-room schools operated in accordance with the provisions of this act shall if their operation is approved by the State Council of Education be credited with at least one teaching unit. The State Council of Education shall withhold its approval of any one-room one teacher school unless (i) topography distance or condition of roads are such as to make transportation of pupils impractical or (ii) it is impossible to accommodate pupils in existing graded schools in the district or other districts or (iii) the district is financially unable to construct a consolidated school.

Section 2502 Payments on Account of Instruction [Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1948-1949 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($2450) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction].

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth [for the school year 1949-1950] on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools [and] joint elementary schools and joint high schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools [and] joint elementary schools [by three thousand three hundred fifty dollars ($3350) and] and joint high schools by the district's standard reimbursement fraction and for the school year 1950-1951 by three thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($3850) for the school year 1951-1952 by four thousand dollars ($4000) for the school year 1952-1953 by four thousand three hundred dollars ($4300) for the school year 1953-1954 by four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) for the school year 1954-1955 by four thousand seven hundred dollars ($4700) for the school year 1955-1956 by four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) for the school year 1956-1957 by five thousand one hundred dollars ($5100) for the school year 1957-1958 by five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) for the school year 1958-1959 and for each school year thereafter by five thousand five hundred dollars ($5500). Provided That the amount of payment to be made by the Commonwealth to any school district during the school year [1950-1951 for the school year 1949-1950] 1951-1952 and 1952-1953 for the school years 1950-1951 and 1951-1952 on account of the instruction of pupils under the provisions of this section shall not be less than the amount paid to the district during the school year 1949-1950 on account of the instruction of pupils. Provided further that if the number of teaching units in any school district for the school year 1950-1951 or 1951-1952 is less than the number of teaching units for the school year 1948-1949 the payment by the Commonwealth shall be reduced proportionately.

[Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1950-1951 and for every school year thereafter on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools [and joint elementary schools] by three thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($3450) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction].

In addition to the payments hereinbefore specified the following supplemental payments shall be made to the district of residence on account of pupils enrolled in elementary schools or high schools operated by joint boards of which the district of residence is a member and pupils enrolled in school operated by union or merged districts.

(1) In the case of joint elementary schools five hundred dollars ($500) per teaching unit multiplied by the standard reimbursement fraction of the district of residence.

(2) In the case of joint high schools five hundred dollars ($500) per teaching unit multiplied by the standard reimbursement fraction of the district of residence.

(3) In the case of elementary schools operated by union or merged districts eight hundred dollars ($800) per teaching unit multiplied by the district's standard reimbursement fraction.

(4) In the case of high schools operated by union or merged districts eight hundred dollars ($800) per teaching unit multiplied by the district's standard reimbursement fraction.

In all cases the supplemental payments specified in the foregoing shall be made only for organizations approved by the Department of Public Instruction.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section when because of sparsity of population road or climatic conditions or lack of other available high school facilities the State Council of Education has approved the continued operation of a small high school the district shall receive an amount based on a number of teaching units equal to the number of teachers approved by the State Council of Education as being required to provide a satisfactory educational program in such school provided that the number of teachers employed is not less than the number approved

For no year shall any school district or vocational school district receive less than the minimum subsidy per teaching unit

Section 2503 Payments on account of tuition (a) Each school district regardless of classification sending pupils to another school district or vocational school district or to a joint [high] school approved by the Department of Public Instruction shall be paid by the Commonwealth for every school year on account of tuition an amount to be determined by multiplying the sum of "overhead cost per pupil" and "instruction cost per elementary pupil" or "instruction cost per high school pupil" as the case may be as defined in section two thousand five hundred sixty-one of this act or in the case of district pupils attending a school not located in this Commonwealth on the basis of a reasonable tuition charge per pupil to be determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction (1) by the number of district pupils [except district pupils attending a high school operated by a joint board of which the district of residence is a member] sent to schools of other districts or to [a joint school] joint schools and (II) by the district's standard reimbursement fraction and (III) for tuition up to and including the school year 1948-1949 by seventy-five-one-thousands (.75) and thereafter by eighty-five-one-thousandths (.85) and (IV) subtracting from the amount so obtained the per pupil state appropriation paid to the district where the pupil attends school multiplied by the number of pupils

[(b) Each school district regardless of classification which is a member of a joint board which operates a joint high school sending pupils to such joint high school approved by the Department of Public Instruction shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1948-1949 and for every school year thereafter on account of the instruction of such pupils an amount to be determined by multiplying the sum of "overhead cost per pupil" and "instruction cost per high school pupil" as defined in section two thousand five hundred sixty-one of this act (I) by the number of district pupils sent to such joint high school and (II) by the district's standard reimbursement fraction]

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Mr. KEPHART read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 896, entitled:

An Act to confer jurisdiction in habeas corpus upon the several courts of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth and upon the judges thereof.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, among the duties that I try to perform in the Senate and as a Member of the Senate, I am a Member of the General State Authority. As a Member of the General State Authority, I am called upon many times to act upon various projects that are designed to make Pennsylvania a better place in which to live.

Mr. President, out in Westmoreland County we have a park known as Bushey Run Battlefield Memorial Park. The guiding light behind this park was the late Mark Bomberger, then Editor of the Jeannette News Dispatch. He has written two books and many articles upon the Battlefield, and there are many historians who believe that this was one of the most decisive and one of the most important battles of the Colonial Days. There are those who hold forth that this particular battle changed the entire course of empires. Those of us who live in Westmoreland County are very proud of the handy work created there by Mark Bomberger and those who served with him on the Battlefield Commission.

Mr. President, for many years we have tried to purchase a piece of ground, approximately thirty acres in area, upon which are buried the fifty-five soldiers of Colonel Boquet's command, so marked by Colonel Boquet upon his map which he made the day of the battle. We have tried to purchase this land through the years. At one time I remember we had an option to purchase it for about $12,000. That was a good many years ago.

Mr. President, the reason I am on my feet today is because a story appeared this morning in the Philadelphia Inquirer, written by that well-known political canvasser, Joe Miller. Joe calls attention to the story by headlining the fact that something like $1,000 an acre was to be paid for these thirty acres, and the story carries the implication that this is an exorbitant sum. We have a lot of land in Westmoreland County that you could not buy for a thousand dollars an acre, and we have some that you could buy for a lot less. I imagine that holds true everywhere in the State of Pennsylvania, but what I want to call attention to in this Senate is this. Every now and then a man has to stand up and call a halt to some things that go on. I do not think that Joe intentionally wanted to leave the implication that is carried in the story and is read into it by some, but for me I want to say this to the Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, I have taken all the abuse I am going to take for one year. I have had enough for this year, and they will have to start abusing me after January 1. I do not intend to take any more this year, and I do not like the implication that I have fought for this purchase because I am interested in the land being sold. I am only interested like any other citizen of Westmoreland County, and like any other citizen of the State ought to be interested, but to prove that this is not an exorbitant sum for a piece of land that is valuable to the citizens for purposes of public recreation and for memorial purposes, as a Member of the General State Authority I remember a purchase that was made of 61.71 acres of land down in Montgomery County by the General State Authority, or rather through the Department of Forests and Waters, called the Andora Nurseries, Incorporated, and that particular land was purchased for a sum of $145,000, or $2400 an acre.

Now, Mr. President, it all depends. Land values are the same as personal values. There are some persons who are not worth a dime; there are other persons that you envy because of their stature, because of their character, because of their abilities, and so it is with land. Some land is worth less and some land is very valuable. The fact that fifty-five soldiers are buried there uncommemorated, unmarked, these graves are unmarked, and yet they are known to be those who preserved and, I believe, opened up this great West of ours to the colonization and the settlement by the American Colonists which gave this great Country of ours a gateway to the west, ought to be commemorated, and if it is $30,000, it is $30,000. I do not know what the final viewers' price will be upon that land, but whatever it is I do not think we are making a mistake in purchasing it.

Mr. President, the only reason that I am interested in it is because of the long fight to acquire this particular piece of ground, and anybody knows that land that was worth $10,000 fifteen years ago could easily be worth $30,000 to $40,000 today. I do not think the State of Pennsylvania would be using bad judgment in purchasing this ground out in Westmoreland County.

Mr. President, they said there is no water there. I don't know whether Mr. Miller knows this or not, but Westmoreland County has a municipal authority, spending something like $25,000,000, and I say to the people of Pennsylvania and to the Members of the Senate, we will soon have such a coverage of water lines in Westmoreland County that you will not be able to sink a pick without hitting a water line. We are going to have the greatest water system in the entire State of Pennsylvania and second only to one in the entire Nation. We are proud of Westmoreland County's advancement in this field. We think that Westmoreland is one of the greatest places in which industry can settle, and we know it to be the best place in which people can live. We think we ought to expand Westmoreland County's recreational facilities. I, for one, say to the people here today, whether it is $1,000, $500 or $100 an acre, it is not exorbitant for land in Westmoreland County, because land in Westmoreland County is worth a whole lot of money.

No. 95.

SENATE

TUESDAY, December 4, 1951.

The Senate met at 4 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Doctor Stephen happens to be the Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, of which I have been a member for over fifty years. I feel awfully good that Doctor Stephens, our Presbyterian Minister, is going to give our prayer today. I hope he helps all of us.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D. D., Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. Eternal God, Who keepeth the stars in their courses and upholdeth all things by Thy power, we praise Thee that Thou art also our Father and the Invisible Presence close beside us.

Help us to remember that Thou are here with us in the Senate Chamber, "closer to us than breathing, nearer than hands and feet;" that nothing can shut Thee out and that nothing can be hid from Thee. Help us then to live and do our work in the knowledge that Thine eye is always upon us, and that Thou dost always have the final vote, always.

Help us to remember too, that Thou art here to help us, that Thou hast available for us great reservoirs of power and peace. When we grow tense and edgy, help us to relax and know Thy peace. When we grow tired and weary, help us to rest in the Lord, wait patiently for Him. When we grow impatient and discouraged, remind us that Thou art working with us in all good things. When we grow hard and cynical, make us remember that Thou dost believe in us and art trusting us, and when we have done right, when we have done the honest, the kind, the unselfish, the courageous, the big thing, help us to feel so good inside that we will never want to do anything else. Amen and Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time the Chair calls to the rostrum the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (George N. Wade) in the Chair.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON from the Committee on Executive Nominations reported with a favorable recommendation the following nomination, made by His Excellency, the Governor, which was laid on the table:

NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR

ALDERMAN, SECOND WARD, FARRELL, MERCER COUNTY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, November 28, 1951.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Saverio Grande, 1301 Bond Street, Farrell, Mercer County, for appointment of Alderman in and for the Second Ward of the City of Farrell, Mercer County, until the first Monday of January 1954, vice William E. Ward, resigned.

JOHN S. FINE.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 895, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 652 of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," by authorizing the payment of expenses to members of recreation boards in counties of the third class.

Mr. PROPERT, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 350, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause two of section 1709 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class, amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," by authorizing an annual tax for the purchase and maintenance of fire apparatus and suitable places for the maintenance thereof.

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 877, entitled:

An Act fixing the fees and mileage of the coroner in counties of the fourth class.

Mr. ROBINSON, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 891, entitled:

An Act to further amend section 1001 of the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto," by permitting employes of school districts to serve as councilmen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. In 1949 the Republican party through the legislature gave the people of Philadelphia the right to frame a Home Rule Charter, and at a special election this year the people adopted such a Charter to go into effect the first Monday in January of 1952.

In 1949, and again this year, this legislature passed a resolution, which I introduced with the backing of the Republican party, to amend the Constitution so that the governments of the City and County of Philadelphia could be consolidated. The adoption of this amendment at the last election removed constitutional barriers to such consolidation.

Now we are ready to complete the final step—which is the actual consolidation of the City and County governments. This bill, which I now introduce, is the consolidation bill, and will carry out the mandate of the people in adopting the consolidation amendment.

In it Philadelphia is given the maximum of Home Rule, the maximum of self-government. Former county functions are integrated under the new city charter so that there will be fewer elected officers, a more understandable ballot and a more economic and more efficient government for the people of Philadelphia, immediately and without delay, but subject to change by amendment to the Home Rule Charter.

To have placed the burden of integration under the Home Rule Charter, as suggested by some sources, would have occasioned a delay in actual consolidation until at least the next election and would have perpetuated certain officers which are no longer necessary. It would have made consolidation vastly more difficult, because of the problem of integrating these officers into the new charter.

To have placed the burden on City Council would have imposed a burden it was not set up to carry out—it should have enough to do to legislate for the City under the new charter without taking on this added burden. But above this, to place such a burden on City Council would be an unlawful delegation of legislative power.

Unfortunately, if we are going to consolidate the City and County governments now, if we are going to have a more economic and efficient government without delay, certain unnecessary former County officers will have to be dropped. If the fact that they were just elected in the past election is to stand in our way, then consolidation must be postponed for four years until these men take office and serve out their terms. The interests of good government for all the people transcends the interests of these individuals.

This is especially so in view of the fact that they ran for office knowing that their offices might be abolished in streamlining and consolidating the City and County governments upon the adoption of the City-County consolidation amendment. Furthermore, they can be placed in positions with commensurate duties and salaries by the Mayor, if he so desires. But it would be a transgression of the principles of Home Rule for this Legislature to require the Mayor to appoint them or any others except those required by the Constitution, such as the Coroner.

Officers, whose position and duties will continue the same after the passage of this bill, such as the Sheriff, will be retained in office by this law.

I am authorized to say that conferences will continue between the parties now holding them with respect to this problem and it may be that changes will be made in this bill. But in view of the shortness of the time, it is necessary that some bill be started through immediately.

Therefore, Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Chair the Consolidation Bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. KEPHART read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 897, entitled:

An Act to implement Article fourteen, section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania; providing for the election or appointment, compensation, terms and disposition of the duties of certain of the former County officers and employes in the City of Philadelphia; abolishing other such former County officers, boards, and commissions and distributing their former duties; specifying the former County employes who shall have a civil service status under the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter, and upon what conditions; exempting certain officers and employes from the civil service provisions of the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter; imposing additional duties upon the Governor of the Commonwealth and upon the judges of the Courts of Common Pleas, the Judges of the Orphans' Court, the Prothonotary, the Board of Registration Commissioners, and certain City officers, departments, boards and commissions of Philadelphia; specifying how the number, qualifications and compensation of employes who were not heretofore City employes, but who were paid out of the City treasury, shall be determined; and providing that this act may be modified by amendment of the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter except in certain particulars.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, will the Chair permit me to ask Senator Kephart whether he will permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KEPHART. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I have not had an opportunity to read the bill, but I would like Senator Kephart to tell me whether this bill generally agrees with the newspaper report—I do not know whether he has seen it—which is in today's Evening Bulletin.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I have not seen today's Evening Bulletin, so I could not answer that question.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Senator Kephart, does your bill contain a provision that freezes in office the present county employees, and if he wants that to be clarified, does it require qualifying tests based on the individual's record of service, his experience, his familiarity with the work and his ability to perform the prescribed duties?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, it provides that in connection with the transfer of county employees to respective city departments, that where the department is transferred the employees go along with it and that they are given qualifying tests to determine whether they shall continue to perform their duties or not, which qualifying tests are given by the Personnel Director or approved by the Civil Service Commission. If they pass the qualifying tests, they then are under Civil Service, along with the other city employees.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Thank you, Senator Kephart.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROSENFELD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we are now faced with dealing with a question whose history goes back thirty years. In the Legislature of 1919, I believe, and again in 1921, a constitutional amendment was provided for giving cities, if they so desired, the right to local self-government. That amendment was passed by the people of this Commonwealth in 1922. From 1922 until recent times, efforts were made to give the citizens of the city of Philadelphia local self-government. Some years back it was determined by those people who were interested in it, and those groups that were interested in it, that they could not depend on a party to get them that local self-government. The result was that these groups associated together in the city of Philadelphia in order to accomplish this purpose, and the purpose was to obtain broad local self-government for the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, as a result, finally after a great many years of working, disheartening defeats caused by political manipulation, the local Republican organization in Philadelphia was finally forced to introduce and pass a measure which would guarantee to the citizens of the city of Philadelphia local self-government. Not only did this program go to the municipal functions which existed and which were within the confines of the operation of the City of Philadelphia, but the plan envisioned—

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question? May I ask the gentleman if it is his purpose to debate the bill?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, my purpose is not to debate the bill, and I will keep my remarks as short as possible.

Mr. WALKER. That will be appreciated, but do not debate the bill which has just been introduced.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, part of that program was a city-county consolidation for Philadelphia, with the right of local self-government by the city officials of the city of Philadelphia, and it was on that basis that the Home Rule Act was passed. It was on that basis that the Mayor of the city of Philadelphia appointed a Charter Commission, a bipartisan Charter Commission, made up not only of Republicans and Democrats, but made up of people representing those groups and organizations which had for many years been interested in this work. The members of that Commission worked hard and long, and notwithstanding years of proposals for new city charters, that Commission worked for eighteen months until it came out with something which was acceptable to it, and which it thought would be acceptable to the citizens of Philadelphia. It envisioned also the passage of a city-county consolidation amendment, and made provisions for it because this whole program was tied up in local self-government.

Now, Mr. President, we see within thirty days after the passage of the city-county consolidation amendment, which was envisioned by the drafters of the new City Charter and which was envisioned by the citizens of the city of Philadelphia, keeping in mind that it took eighteen months to prepare a new City Charter, that we are faced with a proposition which will take away from the citizens of the city of Philadelphia the right to that local self-government, because the introduction of this bill and the passage of this bill by the Legislature, and its signing by the Governor, will mean that any subsequent Legislature can change that if they want to. I am not saying that because I like to say it, and I am not saying it because I happen to be of a different political persuasion than the gentleman who introduced this bill. I am saying it because the group who are interested in this whole program in the city of Philadelphia decided that that is not what they wanted, that that is no local self-government.

Mr. President, I see in the provision with regard to Civil Service and this job freeze, on behalf of an organization that has dragged the city down to its present level, on behalf of an organization who has run the city into such a ground that it has been forced to impose a wage tax on citizens who do not even live in the city of Philadelphia, I see in that the fine hand of politics, I see in that the fine hand of gutter politics. I want to put the Senate on notice now—I am making no threats, and I am making no warnings. We have enough important work to do without that.

Mr. President, I have been here for eleven months this Session, and I have heard many bills read, none at length. I have heard some fine debates, fortunately most of them have been very short, but I am saying now that if this piece of legislation, with its implications, rears what I consider its ugly head, I will take this floor, much as I dislike to do it, and will listen to the reading of every bill, and much as I dislike to do it, will debate this proposition at length, at great length, at very great length. I am privileged to say that not only I will participate, but my five colleagues from the city of Philadelphia will participate, and at least the additional fifteen colleagues of mine on this side of the house.

Gentlemen, I hope it will not be necessary, but I feel it is a duty which I owe not only to myself, not only to the groups who have worked so diligently and hard, and who see in this effort the loss of everything they have worked for, but for the citizens of the city of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KEPHART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I would just like to say to the gentleman that I am very happy that he is putting not only himself, but also his five colleagues from Philadelphia and also the whole of the Democratic Members of the Senate on record as being against the city-county consolidation of Philadelphia and in favor of delaying the will of the people. He wants to freeze the situation the way it is for four more years, rather than have the streamlining done now.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President—

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I do not want to object to any further remarks, but may I suggest, in all due respect to all of our colleagues from Philadelphia, that we are perfectly willing to listen to the debate on this bill when it is before the Senate for action, even though it is debated a long time, a very long time or a very, very long time, as suggested by the gentleman from Philadelphia, but please let us not have the debate at this point.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, may I suggest to the Majority Leader that I will take thirty seconds and will not rise again on this subject.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I suggest you confine the other gentlemen from Philadelphia to that.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I am sorry, but the Senator from Philadelphia has been recognized.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, then I object to any further remarks under the question of unanimous consent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, objects to any further debate on the bill which has just been introduced.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I assume I may proceed. Senator Kephart stated that—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I objected to any further remarks under the heading of unanimous consent, and I ask that the Chair rule on my request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair has been advised that objection has been raised to the debate on the bill which has just been introduced. If the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rosenfeld, wants to proceed with other matters, it would be in order.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, if the Majority Leader does not want me to give the Senate the benefit of this wonderful remark I was going to make, I have to accede to the ruling of the Chair.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WAGNER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 898, entitled

An Act to amend Section 322 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by further defining eligibility for the office of school director.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Messrs. WAGNER and WADE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 899, entitled

An Act to add Section 516.1 to the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by authorizing attendance of school directors at meetings of educational or financial advantage to the district; and providing for the payment of their expenses.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Messrs. HARE and WOOD read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 900, entitled

An Act to further amend clause (d) of Section 404 of the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties," by further providing for determination of the compensation to be paid.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 901, entitled

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties," by changing the formula for computing amount of benefits; and revising the formula for determining financial responsibility.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. HARE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 902, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for payment of the costs of defraying the Commonwealth's share of expenses to be incurred for furnishing certain utility services to State institutions within the Department of Welfare.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 903, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies to defray the Commonwealth's share of expense and charges in connection with capital improvements to the Pennsylvania Training School at Morgantown.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 904, entitled

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons, designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," by authorizing the posting of lists containing the names, addresses and amounts of general assistance granted to all persons receiving general assistance.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 905, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for payment to the Borough of Somerset for defraying the Commonwealth's share of expenses and charges in connection with capital improvements to the Somerset State Hospital.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I got up before, after Senator Rosenfeld completed his remarks, in a desire to pay you a tribute but you just overlooked me. Now, I want to take the opportunity and do it now.

Mr. President, I am now going to talk about the Kephart opus at the present moment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair apologizes to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel.

Mr. STIEFEL. Now, Mr. President, here was an opus presented by Senator Kephart, from Philadelphia, and you referred it to the Committee on Local Government. I just got up to pay you a tribute for this referral, because I feel that the membership of this committee—and I am not casting aspersions on other committees of the Senate—that this membership of the Committee on Local Government is so circumspect, so cautious and so thorough that I am sure in their deliberations about this Kephart ripper bill they may even put zippers in the rippers, you see, and maybe correct the situation which Senator Kephart wants to create in Philadelphia.

Therefore, Mr. President, I have confidence that in the Committee on Local Government they will delve into this problem, and be very careful before reporting this bill to the floor of the Senate.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WATSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 906, entitled

An Act to further amend the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 382), entitled "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of "Authorities" for municipalities, counties and townships; prescribing the rights, powers and duties of such Authorities heretofore or hereafter incorporated; authorizing such Authorities to acquire, construct, improve, maintain and operate projects, and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor; providing for the payment of such bonds, and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof; conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities; authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof; and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates," by further prescribing purposes for which authorities may be incorporated.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 907, entitled

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred seventy-four (P. L. 73) entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," by granting to every corporation heretofore or hereafter incorporated for the purpose of furnishing certain surface, under-surface and sewage drainage, the power to appropriate private property, in certain cases, and, subject to approval by the Public Utility Commission for the construction, maintenance and operation of its facilities, and providing for the assessment of damages arising from such appropriation and the method of appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. PROPERT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 908, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for payment to the Borough of Norristown for defraying the Commonwealth's share of expenses and charges in connection with capital improvements to the Norristown State Hospital.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. MALLERY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 909, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for payment to the Borough of Huntingdon for defraying the Commonwealth's share of expenses and charges in connection with capital improvements to the Pennsylvania Institution for Defective Delinquents.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LEADER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, the bill which I am about to present deals with the apportionment of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into Congressional Districts. This bill is the result of perhaps one of the most exhaustive, unbiased and nonpartisan efforts to deal with this problem that has ever been put forth, because I believe that good government is good politics; in fact, the very best politics.

Mr. President, I would like to recommend this bill, based on the study of the League of Women Voters. I would like to recommend it to the gentlemen of the Senate, and to His Excellency the Governor.

Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LEADER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 910, entitled:

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into Congressional Districts.

Which was committed to the Committee on Reapportionment.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1727, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 596) entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" by further providing for certain minimum and maximum pensions.

FORMER SENATOR RAHAUSER PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICE. The Chair observes the presence of a former distinguished Member of this Senate. He is now District Attorney for the County of Allegheny, and is Judge-Elect of the Orphans Court of the same county. Will the gentleman take a bow?

SENATE RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES MADE ON SENATE FLOOR BY SENATOR JOHN HALUSKA, IN PUBLIC HEARINGS, AND A REPORT MADE TO THE SENATE

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which read as follows:

In the Senate, December 4, 1951.

Whereas, on November 27, 1951, on the floor of the Senate, Senator John Haluska, a member of the Senate from Cambria County, stated that an article appearing in the Johnstown Democrat of October 15th was substantially correct and "sounds nearly like the statement I made." The article referred to read as follows: "Senator John Haluska yesterday charged that he had been offered a bribe if he would abandon his opposition to the proposed State Income Tax. Speaking at a Democratic meeting in Ebensburg Court House, Senator Haluska declared 'I was offered enough that I would not have to work for the rest of my life if I would withdraw my opposition to this Income Tax measure.'"

Whereas, Senator Haluska refused to present to the Senate sitting in a Committee as a whole any facts to substantiate the above statement but insisted on appearing at a public hearing of a Senate Investigating Committee, where he would waive immunity and where he expects those involved to waive immunity and

Whereas such charges cast reflection upon the integrity of the members of the Senate and

Whereas the seriousness of such charge demands immediate action in the interest of the citizens of the Commonwealth to prevent such unlawful conduct, if true, now therefore be it

Resolved that a committee of ten members, be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, five of whom shall be members of the majority party and five to be members of the minority party and the said committee be and is hereby authorized and directed to make an immediate investigation of all of the said charges made on the floor of the Senate by the said Senator John Haluska, in public hearings, and that the Committee shall make its report to the Senate at the earliest possible moment before the adjournment of this session of the General Assembly, and be it further

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be adopted.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to say for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate that in presenting that resolution I appreciate the fact that the gentleman from Cambria is not on the floor, inasmuch as he asked for a leave of absence last week and expects to be with us tomorrow. The purpose is merely to set in motion the machinery that will bring about the public hearing that was so vigorously debated on the floor of the Senate last week, and it is not with any thought or attempt to take advantage of the gentleman's absence. It is merely granting to him the thing that he has been so insistent upon.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE INSURANCE DEPARTMENT TO INVESTIGATE MANNER IN WHICH OTHER STATES SOLVE PROBLEM OF INSURING CERTAIN OWNERS IN RE. PUBLIC LIABILITY AND PROPERTY DAMAGE INSURANCE

Messrs. SILVERT and WADE offered the following resolution which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 4, 1951

Whereas, An owner of automobiles or trucks sometimes finds the insurance company which has heretofore insured him against public liability and property damage has refused to renew his insurance policies because of excessive losses or for other reasons and such owner is obliged to obtain insurance from an Assigned Risk Pool; and

Whereas, If the insurance company which is one of the insurance companies in the Assigned Risk Pool, insures such an owner and subsequently fails financially, the owner may be faced with claims which he is unable to meet; and

Whereas, If all the insurance companies in the Assigned Risk Pool were to share such risks, the insured automobile or truck owner would not likely be subjected to liability because of the failure of the insurance company; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Insurance Department is familiar with the nature of this problem; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby directs the Insurance Department of this Commonwealth to make an investigation of the manner in which insurance departments of other states have solved the problem of insuring certain owners and of distributing the risk of public liability and property damage insurance where individual insurance companies have refused to insure such owners; and be it further

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint two senators and the minority leader of the Senate appoint one senator who with the Secretary of the Insurance Department of Pennsylvania shall function as a committee for the consideration of the results of the investigation of the Insurance Department and shall prepare a report of its findings and recommendations, which report shall be presented to the Senate by January fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THAT PUBLIC HEARINGS BE ARRANGED TO GIVE ALL PERSONS AN OPPORTUNITY TO EXPRESS VIEWS AND PRESENT FACTS IN SOLVING BUDGET DIFFICULTIES

Mr. Yosko offered the following resolution which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 4, 1951.

Whereas, the Honorable John S. Fine, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania submitted his budget report to the General Assembly early in the Session, and

Whereas, shortly thereafter the Honorable John M. Walker, Majority Leader of the Senate and the Honorable John H. Dent, Minority Leader of the Senate, disagreed with numerous items contained in the Governor's budget, particularly with regard to the revenue needed to finance the obligations of the Commonwealth for the current biennium, and

Whereas, as a result of the discrepancies and inconsistencies indicated by surveys of Governor's budget, the longest Legislative Session in the history of Pennsylvania has resulted, and

Whereas, the Pennsylvania Economy League very recently made a survey of the budget, as well as of the financial needs of the Commonwealth for the current biennium and in the report of its findings, stated that no new or additional taxes were necessary to finance the obligations of the Commonwealth during the current biennium under certain conditions, and

Whereas, at the request of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, certain colleges and universities in Pennsylvania, were requested to make a survey of the budget needs of the Commonwealth for the current biennium, and a preliminary report by this group has been submitted to the Members of the Senate today with notice that the final report will be filed on December 10th, and

Whereas, although disagreement was indicated in both the reports of the Pennsylvania Economy League and the group representing the colleges and universities with the conclusion arrived at in the Governor's budget report, recommendations to eliminate waste, extravagances, loose spending, overlapping and red tape in the State Government were not recommended as a means of affecting economies which would reduce budget needs and result in a more efficient administration of the affairs of the State Government, and

Whereas, the Institute of Certified Public Accountants, as a result of a Resolution adopted in the 1949 Session, made a survey of the various departments, boards and commissions of the Commonwealth and following its survey prepared and filed reports of its findings, as well as making certain recommendations to eliminate waste, extravagances, loose spending, overlapping and red tape and in particular, recommended the establishment of a uniform accounting system to be administered by an Accountant General, and

Whereas, because of the differences of opinion expressed by the Governor in his budget report, as compared with the findings of the Majority and Minority Leaders of the Senate, the Pennsylvania Economy League and the group representing the universities and colleges of Pennsylvania, it is deemed advisable to hold public hearings to obtain the views of all interested parties in order that an agreement may be reached on the budgetary and financial needs of the Commonwealth for the current biennium, after considering possible economies, to be affected by the elimination of waste, extravagances, loose spending, overlapping and red tape.

Therefore Be It Resolved, that it is the sense of the Members of the Senate that public hearings be arranged to begin on Monday, December 10th, in the Senate Caucus Room for the purpose of giving all persons, an opportunity to express their views and present such facts and statements as may be helpful in solving present budget difficulties in the best interest of the people of this Commonwealth, and

Be it Further Resolved, That the Members of the Senate shall have the right to requisition such records of the departments, boards and commissions of the Commonwealth and to summon such personnel of the Commonwealth as might be deemed necessary to aid in the purpose of these hearings and in the solution of these problems.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we are about to vote on House Bill No. 1648, is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if I remember correctly in my perusal of this bill, this changes the primary elections to April and May; April the Presidential Election and May the Gubernatorial Election, and also for all municipal elections.

Mr. President, I would like to know if someone can tell me the reason for this bill. First of all, I do not think a fellow running for a borough or township commissioner should have to campaign from March until November. Is there anyone on the other side who can advise me why we need this?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I offer my somewhat limited service to my distinguished colleague from Allegheny County?

Mr. BARR. You may.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman repeat his interrogatory, please?

Mr. BARR. Can you tell me the reason for changing the date of the primary for municipal elections to the May month?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the explanation that was given to me I will be very happy to give to the gentleman for whatever it is worth. My understanding of it is that instead of having primaries in the fall, that is in September, and the general elections in November, they tried to establish some uniformity in the primary elections, so that they would have the opportunity of presenting the primary ballots and the general election ballots to the absentee soldier voters. If the gentleman will recall, in the 1951 elections we had a very bad situation where we crowded them together and we picked out sort of a compromise month, the month of July, for the primary, which was the earliest that you could have it, and the latest that you could have it in order to furnish the ballots to the applicants who were in military service.

Now, Mr. President, the Election Bureau has figured out that this would be the very best they could do in order to give them the opportunity of mailing out primary ballots and having the returns come in, prepare the general election ballots, send them out and then get the returns from the absentee soldier vote.

Mr. BARR. It means also then, Mr. President, that a person cannot change his political affiliations for a full six months period in any one year. Is that correct?

Mr. WALKER. I think that would be correct, Senator. Under the present law you cannot change your registration between the primary day and the general election day.

Mr. BARR. Are you of the opinion that we are going to be continually at war, that we have to have a military ballot every year?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I wish I could answer that question. I have a couple of boys growing up, and I am scared to death, too.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of information.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to know how the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, is recorded as voting.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Clerk has advised that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, is not recorded as having voted.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call the Chair's attention to the fact that the gentleman from Philadelphia was in his seat when the roll was called, and under the rules of the Senate must answer the roll call.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman's point is well taken.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, my silence was a silent protest against the whole package. As long as I am forced to vote, I will vote "aye," because the bills are all going to be passed anyhow.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a bill providing for a study commission on State finances and tax questions. The bill provides for the creation of a commission of nine persons to study all the functions of the Executive Branch of the government, the State Government, and submit a report to the 1953 Legislature.

Mr. President, the purpose of such a study as this is not only to effect all possible economies in the operation of our State Government, but to give the taxpayers assurance that every penny spent is being spent wisely. In the case of the Federal Government, approximately fifty per cent of the recommendations of the Hoover Commission, authorized several years ago, have already been approved. Statisticians tell us that full enactment and faithful execution of the complete list of recommendations could bring total savings of five billion dollars a year.

Mr. President, just as an illustration, this is more than the total cost of the Federal Government each year up to 1931. Naturally, it is impossible to estimate at this time a comparative savings that might accrue in Pennsylvania through the work of such a commission, but we do know that it holds the promise of returning to the taxpayers annual savings of many times the cost of the commission's work.

Mr. President, the commission's assignment, as defined in the bill, would be "to study the Executive Branch of the Government of the Commonwealth with a view toward recommending more efficient and economical methods of providing State services." To this end, it would seek out duplications of service and effort, recommend the abandonment, modification or consolidation of departments or offices as may be required in the interest of efficiency and economy. Perhaps no Session of the Legislature, at least in recent years, has so badly needed a clear picture of the financial situation of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I believe the Members of the Budget Office and the Members of the Senate and the Members of the House have made an honest effort and a sincere effort to work toward, first, finding the actual existing conditions and, second, the most practical solution. However, after more than eleven months in Session, when we have been confused with statements and re-statements, I think the results, while this has not been the only problem—the fiscal problem was not the only one confronting us—yet it has been the most contentuous one and, certainly, every Member of the Senate, yes, every Member of the Legislature, would welcome a study and know the true value that a commission of this kind could render to the taxpayers and to the Members of the Legislature.

Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WADE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 912, entitled:

An Act creating a Commission on Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Commonwealth; providing for the membership of such Commission; prescribing its powers and duties, and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

HOUSE BILL No. 1698 CALLED UP FROM THIRD READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in order to expedite the business of the Senate, I would like to ask unanimous consent of the Senate at this time to refer to the Senate Calendar in order to call a bill up out of order and have it recommitted for the purpose of discussing an amendment in a committee meeting, which will be held later today.

Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Postponed Calendar House Bill No. 1698 for consideration at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1698, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon certain documents prescribing and regulating the method and manner of evidencing the payment of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain persons partnerships associations and corporations recorders of deeds and the Department of Revenue saving certain local taxes and authorizing amendments extensions and supplements to the ordinances and resolutions relating thereto and providing penalties.

be recommitted to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, a few months ago I introduced a bill that would direct the Auditor General to file copies of audit reports with the Senate Librarian.

Mr. President, according to the record, that bill passed the Senate and it passed the House, I think, on September 27. A check was made the other day to determine whether or not the Governor had signed the bill, and I am informed that although it passed the House on September 27, it was not referred to the Governor's Office for either veto or approval, and I hope that if it was just an error or an omission on the part of somebody not to transmit that bill to the Governor, that when the House reconvenes on Monday that that and other bills passed on the same date which have not been transmitted to the Governor's Office will be transmitted. I hope, too, that the Governor will approve the bill which I introduced and which passed both the House and the Senate. I say that, Mr. President, because I think it is very important that every Member of the Legislature has access to the audit reports made by the Auditor General because they contain information that every Member of the General Assembly ought to acquaint themselves with. You know, after all, we appropriated a little over $2,000,000 to the Auditor General to make these audits. He audits all the boards, departments and commissions of the Commonwealth. He audits everybody that collects money for the State and everybody that receives money from the State, and I am sure that if you ask former Senator Heyburn, now the Auditor General, as to whether or not he is a little bit disappointed at the little attention that is paid to these audit reports, he will tell you that he is disappointed. After all, he sends his men out to do this work, they do it conscientiously, they try to find out what is wrong, if anything, and they make an accounting of money that we appropriate. If there is anything wrong, they report it and they make certain recommendations in these reports, and, I repeat, every Member of the Legislature ought to acquaint themselves with the material in these reports.

Mr. President, the other day I had a little time left, and I thought I would take a look at the audit reports of the medical-surgical State hospitals in Pennsylvania. There are ten of them, and I was amazed to find some of the things that I did, frankly, and I am going to say now I found evidence of free and chiseled service. I examined those audit reports, and I found that the revenue agent who is assigned to these institutions by the Department of Revenue wrote off enormous sums of money for services rendered to patients that received service in these hospitals. I also found that the Department of Justice wrote off sizable sums, sums that were referred to the Department of Justice for collection.

Mr. President, I also found that the accounts receivable were rather high, and I also found numerous criticisms in the reports on these hospitals. For instance, and these audit reports were all made as of the end of the fiscal year, May 31, 1950, in the Ashland State Hospital there was a total of $393,390.99 written off. In the accounts receivable, there are $14,442.04.

In the Blossburg State Hospital, the total written off is $285,671.06, and the accounts receivable totaled $102,581.76.

In the Connellsville State Hospital, the total written off was $42,788.39. The accounts receivable were $34,061.16.

In the Coaldale State Hospital, the amount written off was $130,756.26. The accounts receivable, $13,406.66.

In the Hazelton State Hospital, the amount written off was $192,975.21. The accounts receivable, $37,776.42.

In the Locust Mountain State Hospital, the amount written off was $131,610.76. The accounts receivable, $7,934.38.

In the Nanticoke State Hospital, the amount written off was $141,806.45. The accounts receivable, $26,714.59.

In the Philipsburg State Hospital, the amount written off was $104,225.08. The accounts receivable, $20,764.35.

In the Scranton State Hospital, the amount written off was $372,643.03. The accounts receivable, $75,044.85.

In the Shamokin State Hospital, the amount written off was $193,846.56. The accounts receivable, $63,077.40. The total, Mr. President, written off in those hospitals was $1,854,207.01. The amount written off by the revenue agent of the Department of Revenue was $1,638,127.16, and by the Attorney General $216,079.85.

Mr. President, here this money is being written off, written off in the form of handouts, at a time when we are having all of this trouble with the budget. What are these write offs, Mr. President? They are nothing more than political patronage, political favor, and you know how it happens. I do not know whether you have had any experience with it or not, but a person wants some hospitalization. Instead of going to one of the regular hospitals, they go to a State hospital and then they get their bill after they are discharged and then, what happens? They go to the political leader and turn it over to him and what does he do? He calls up the revenue agent at the State hospital, who fixes it up for him and writes it off. It is not only criminal, but it is worse than the things that are going on in Washington.

Mr. President, in Washington they talk about mink coats and when they talk about a mink coat in Washington, what happens? It makes the editorial page and it makes the headlines in large bold type, but yet here is a sum of money that would buy at least five hundred mink coats and there is very little or anything said about it. How long is this going to continue?

Mr. President, I am reliably informed that the Members of the Board of Trustees of these State hospitals are disgusted with this situation. They are disgusted with the situation because they have no control over it, and they have no control over it because the revenue agent that writes off these sums is designated to that hospital by the Department of Revenue and not by the members of the boards of trustees, and it is about time we do something about it, not just talk about it here in the Senate.

Mr. President, I am going to refer this matter to the Governor, and I am going to ask him to put the State Police on this job and investigate everyone of the persons that got service there to determine whether or not they are financially able to pay, and if they are, see that they do pay.

Mr. President, in the 1947-49 biennium, we appropriated $7,428,300 to these institutions. It was raised in the 1949 Session to $8,780,000, and now at this Session they are asking for another increase to $9,750,000. I say to you, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that the amount written off represents almost twenty-five per cent of the total appropriations to these hospitals. The least they could do is make an honest and a sincere effort to collect this money, but instead of doing that they are making a racket of it and it is about time we do something about it. We talk about the five per centers in Washington. I have every reason to believe that these politicians that fix it up to write these sums off, collect a fee from the patients for doing it, and I am making that charge here and now, and I ask that it be investigated. As a matter of fact, a matter as serious as this ought to command a public hearing. There is only one difference between Washington and Harrisburg. In Washington, when something like this crops up one Senator need only ask for a public hearing and he gets it, and what happens here when you ask for a public hearing? You introduce a resolution and the Clerk reads it, and you ask for unanimous consent, regardless of the merits of it, and the Majority Leader, in some cases very reluctantly, gets up and says, "I object." Then it goes to the Committee on Rules and there it dies a slow death.

Mr. President, I took the trouble to count the number of resolutions that were submitted to the Committee on Rules. There are twenty-nine of them, twenty-nine of them, and none of them reported out. Why are we afraid to have public hearings here? What is wrong with public hearings? If they do good in Washington, they will do good in Harrisburg. They will uncover some of this loose spending, some of this inefficiency that exists here in the State Government, and the sooner we begin to conduct public hearings on matters of this kind, the less trouble we are going to have with the budget and the better government we are going to have, but as long as we shield these things, as long as we pass them up, as long as we hide them, so long these conditions are going to continue to exist.

Mr. President, I hope that other Members of the Senate will take the time to read some of these audit reports that are made by the Auditor General, and I am sure if you do you will feel as I do about the entire situation in this Commonwealth.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am very glad to hear my colleague, Senator Yosko, speak about the hospitals through which the State gives free medical attention. I think something should be added to this.

Mr. President, four months ago I stood on this floor and pointed out how the hospitals came into operation under the old law of 1887, and how they had been abused over the years. They were made to give free hospitalization to the coal owners, the industrialists and the railroad owners of the counties in which they were situated for men who were hurt. In other words, Pennsylvania has been paying monies for men who have been hurt in industry, when industry should be paying the bill.

Now, Mr. President, there is one other thing that I believe he failed to add. I believe that we should have an investigation of medical associations, especially the medical men who practice in these hospitals. I have learned since I made my talk in the Senate that the doctors tell their patients that this operation is going to cost you so much, that I will get you free hospitalization. They collect the fee and the State pays the bill, because they know the right party to go to to get that bill forgiven to the patient.

Mr. President, I will join with Senator Yosko, and I hope that the Senate will approve it, to not only investigate the hospitals but investigate the doctors who practice in those hospitals, because they are all collecting fat fees from their patients while their patients get free hospitalization from the State.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I want to get this into the record while I am at it. This is a part of those audit reports in the form of criticisms.

1. Interest was not charged on overdue accounts.

2. Credit reports of patients were missing, and some of those on file were not completed or signed by the patients, and in one of the institutions, I think, there were five hundred patients treated and there were only one hundred forty-seven credit cards available to the auditors, and some of those were incomplete and not signed.

3. Employees exceed their vacation and sick leave.

4. Supplies are kept in numerous rooms and tunnels. Space for this purpose is inadequate.

5. Fixed Assets Ledgers are not maintained.

6. Boards of Trustees failed to hold an election of officers as required by Section 401 of the Administrative Code.

7. Drug rooms are located in the basement of the hospitals and are not protected against heat, dirt and dampness.

8. Records of the hospital are stored in the basement and date back to as far as 1912.

9. Heating facilities are inadequate, resulting in a great deal of dirt and dust and lack of proper heating.

10. Some employees handling funds are not bonded.

11. Numerous employees have access to the store room and as a result, a proper accounting of supplies purchased are taken from the store rooms and not marked, which opens the door to thievery.

12. Supplies are issued without proper requisition.

13. Patients who are treated in the hospital pay the doctors and surgeons fees but do not pay the incidental hospital fees.

14. In one instance, the "iron lung fund" raised by popular subscription is administered by persons not connected with the hospital.

15. Accounts that are over-due and unpaid for a period exceeding 90 days are not referred to the Department of Justice for collection, in accordance with Section 512 of the Administrative Code but instead are written off by the Revenue Agent for the Department of Revenue, assigned to these institutions.

16. An examination of the medical store room disclosed that the usability of many items are questionable due to their age and inadequate ventilation in the room in which they are stored.

17. Kitchen facilities are in very poor condition and the equipment was found to be antiquated and badly worn.

18. One of the hospitals does not have a morgue. Other hospitals only have one operating room.

19. The inspection of the buildings indicated a need for house cleaning. Articles are stored in corridors and the paint work and some floor surfaces were in poor condition.

20. A refuge dump of discarded casts, bottles, tin cans, paper products, etc., are piled up in the rear of one of the hospitals and thus creates a health and fire hazard.

Mr. President, these are some of the things that you will find incorporated in those audit reports, items that ought to be corrected, and the only way that we can correct them is to do something about them here in the Legislature.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I feel impelled to make an observation or two about the remarks just made by the gentleman from Northampton.

Mr. President, certainly all of us are in favor of efficiency. We are in favor of honesty, we are in favor of reducing the cost of operating institutions that give charity service. I do not know why we cannot strive to accomplish those things without creating the impression that anybody connected with such an institution, or anybody in government living in the area where that institution is placed, is under a cloud.

Now, Mr. President, I did not like that remark about the mink coats. Here is a woman in Hazleton whose husband has anthra-silicosis after years in the mines. He is trying to live out whatever is left of his span of life, and his son gets a broken leg or his wife has a situation which requires an operation, and so where do they go? Certainly, they do not go to a private hospital. They do not go to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. They go to the nearest State hospital, because they know it is maintained basically by the State and they know they do not have money to pay for the hospitalization. That is unavoidable.

Now, Mr. President, the gentleman from Northampton says that the accumulation of those kinds of situations adds up in dollars and cents to a worse crime than mink coats in Washington. Now, to me, that certainly is an exaggeration. You say, here is Mr. Miner's wife. Her family is as crooked as certain families in Washington in official circles. The lady in Washington, under the Democratic Administration, got a mink coat, the poor shivering, cold blond, and the lady in Hazleton got a free operation, because she lives in a Republican State and a Republican County. Now, that is just not fair and it is just not true, and as long as we have such things as State institutions, they will go to State hospitals when they do not have money to pay the bill, just the same as they will go to the State for public assistance and not to some other institution.

Mr. President, he made a further statement that he understands that the politicians in the counties where there are State hospitals fix the bills and get a rake off for the job they perform. Now, that hardly is a new high in statesmanship. I presume that he considers a politician anyone engaged in the business of government. That would make me, as a State Senator, a politician. I live in a county that has three State hospitals. The implication would be then, I suppose, that living in a county where they have State hospitals, which State hospitals do not collect the fees for all the services rendered, and I, being a politician there, get a rake-off for bills that are not completely paid. Now, if the gentleman could come in here and say that Senator Wagner, of Schuylkill County, or any other politician in Schuylkill County, got $100 for having a $500 account forgiven, then that is a matter for a hearing, but to stand up here and indict everybody who happens to live near where a State hospital is located is just unfair and it is erroneous, believe me, especially in the instance which I just stated.

Mr. President, so far as Schuylkill County is concerned, there are any number of Republican Senators who heard me say at a Caucus, once to Secretary Brown and in another Caucus in the presence of Secretary Messner, of Revenue, that it was the obligation of the Welfare Department and the Revenue Department to make the State hospitals as nearly self-sustaining as possible, because the closer they came to paying their way, the more approbation they would get legislatively, and to reverse that, it would endanger the continuation of State hospitals. Some of us have made our position abundantly clear on that politically, but you cannot conclude that there is something rotten in Denmark if Denmark happens to be populated by people who do not have resources. I have had members of my family hospitalized, not in State hospitals. I have paid the bills; it has cost me plenty and, believe me, I can understand why, particularly in the coal regions, the most honest people working two, three days a week on an average over a period of years, cannot afford to pay the kind of hospitalization costs that any hospital must charge in this day of inflation of the dollar.

Now, Mr. President, let us not condemn them on that account. Certainly I am in accord with any suggestion made to collect from those who are able to pay to take care of your iron lungs and to help run your institutions ably and not let any political graft be a factor in what happens, but a condemnation as broad as this or a comparison of free operation to a miner's family with a mink coat given to some secretary in Washington is, I think simply ridiculous.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, we are debating many of the services in State Government and a few moments ago I introduced a bill to create a commission of nine persons to study these various and sundry things, but I think we, as Members of this Senate, all of us, Republicans and Democrats alike, might feel very much gratified if no charges of misappropriation of funds or things that are a moral stigma against the Government of the State of Pennsylvania are charged.

Mr. President, Senator Yosko and Senator Holland both struck close to that, but they still failed to furnish this Senate with a single instance of where anything out of line has been done or furnished names or named places. This that we are wrestling with, and have been wrestling with for the past eleven months, is a matter of the changing value of the dollar; that applies to state government as well as our personal budgets and the budgets of all other subdivisions of government. Second, this administration is following an administration which was very ambitious and which desired to furnish services that were believed by that administration to be wanted by the citizens of the State of Pennsylvania and, third, one of the reasons for our financial dilemma is the fact that we are assuming the cost of certain services that we did not anticipate or try to cover before. One of them is the matter of raising funds for education. There is not a member of this Senate who will criticize the Legislature for furnishing the money necessary to conduct a first class educational system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for its citizens, but we recognize the many problems that have grown over the years in our complicated economic system, and know that they can no longer be met in the small school districts, but that is aside from the point that I started out originally to talk about and that is this.

Mr. President, Governor Fine, for eleven months in office, has been most cooperative in everything that I have gone to him with, and I think that applies to every member of the Senate. When I went to him with this bill suggesting a study commission for the State Government and its services, Governor Fine was most cooperative. He has been, as you know, face to face with this problem. He studied it, presented his budget message to us last March and made definite recommendations. Now, we are coming, after these long months, to recognize that he was right and that his recommendations were sound. He has been most cooperative, I repeat, and it was only after full consultation with him that I introduced that bill this afternoon, and I am sure that any commission appointed under the provisions of that bill, if passed by this Senate and House, would receive his continued cooperation.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not mean this as sarcasm, but I am not surprised but I am disappointed in Senator Wagner's attempt to defend the writing off of almost two million dollars worth of services in our state hospitals by giving us an example of some poor woman that needs an operation or some poor man that has a broken leg and needs attention, who does not have the money and has to go to a state hospital.

Mr. President, he knows, and if he does not, I want to tell him, that I am for giving free service to any citizen of Pennsylvania that does not have the money to pay for that service. I said that about public assistance and I say that about our state hospitals, but that does not give anybody the right to chisel sixteen million dollars in relief that was found following an investigation by the State Police and the Joint State Government Commission. I think this matter ought to be referred to the State Police for investigation as well.

Mr. President, Senator Wagner wanted to know what a politician was. In this particular case I am referring to a politician as a person who has enough political influence to be able to call the revenue agents at the hospitals and say, "Fix up this bill," and the revenue agent, of course, listens to him and writes it off. When the revenue agent does that, the way I understand, he is violating the law, because all bills that are ninety days old or more, are not to be written off by the revenue agent. They are to be referred to the Department of Justice for collection, and if the Department of Justice, after its investigation, finds that the person is not financially able to pay, then I think the Department of Justice is authorized to write off these accounts, but not before that and not in the manner and form in which they are being written off to the tune of close to two million dollars.

Mr. President, if the records of these institutions, the patients' records, their credit records, were not in the shape that they were found to be in and in the shape that the audit reports state they were found in, I, of course, would not have said a word about this thing today, but when the patients' credit reports are not available to the auditors, then there is something wrong in Denmark, somebody is shielding something. When the credit report is not completed, when the credit report is not signed, then there is a suspicion of skulduggery, there is a suspicion of something being done that is not according to Hoyle.

Mr. President, I am sure if I were to ask Senator Wagner whether he believed that the total of all the cases, representing $1,854,000, represented the type of case that he referred to, I am sure he would say he did not know, and if he did not know, then why defend it, and if he did not know, then the thing to do is to have a public hearing, call these people in and let us find out what is going on. If there is anything wrong, let us correct it. That is the way to go at this problem; not just talk about it, but do something about it. I repeat, that is what is wrong here in the state. People do things that violates the confidence that the administration placed in them, and the worst that happens to them is they are fired but there are very few of them fired. They are fired from one department and hired in another.

Mr. President, as far as charging somebody with something is concerned, I want to repeat, if the records were in order at these hospitals, I certainly would not be on my feet today saying the things that I have said.

Mr. WAGNER. Well, Mr. President, I just want another paragraph or two.

Mr. President, I think I made it abundantly clear that I was not justifying every dollar that is written off by the state hospitals. I do not know that every write-off is legitimate. I am perfectly satisfied, and I have expressed that feeling to the Department of Welfare and the Department of Revenue, to make it as efficient as we can and get all the money we can. I know of nobody in the state hospitals in my district being fired for fixing bills, and I know of no one who has been suspected of taking money for fixing bills, but what I want to make abundantly clear is this. First, that you cannot condemn the State hospitals and their operations, or the present or past administration, because there is a deficit there. That is my point.

Mr. President, I also want to make abundantly clear that in my moral code there is a world of difference between the wife of a deputy attorney general in Washington getting a mink coat and a miner's wife in Hazleton getting an appendectomy.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Schuylkill that I am just as interested in having the leg of a miner's wife fixed after it is broken or a child taken care of as he is. However, I do not like the term State hospital as used by him. These are not State hospitals. They are carried as medical-surgical hospitals in the budget, not as State hospitals. We have State institutions throughout the State and they are kept by the State, and I have no objection to the State institutions, but I do have objection to having in Schuylkill County two or three hospitals who give medical and surgical attention as free, even to those who can pay for it.

Now, Mr. President, under the law they cannot do it, because the act which was written stated that only those who were hurt in industry either in the mines, the factories or the railroads, would be admitted to the hospital and that those who could not pay would be given preference over those who could pay. That is in the act; way back in 1887 it was written.

Now, Mr. President, today it is different. Thank God, we got unions and we have health insurance in unions in their contracts, and the union members' son or daughter or wife does not have to beg to go to a hospital. They have health insurance and they go to a hospital. The United Mine Workers have health insurance for their people the same way, and, of course, according to the medical men, we have a Blue Cross which a great number of the people have and I do not understand why these ten hospitals have to continue to increase their appropriations each biennium after biennium. Doesn't anyone have any money in Schuylkill County? I know the schools are always cheated out of money, and if that is so, Mr. President, I believe it would be a very fine idea to have this commission formed, this committee formed, to not only investigate the Schuylkill hospital situation but the school situation up there, which is always broke and has not been able to pay the wages of their teachers who come down here begging, and also to find out what the Legislature can do to make Schuylkill County a county which can hold up its head with the other counties of the State.

Mr. President, for the benefit of Mr. Wade—I hope he is here—he is exactly nine months late with his bill, exactly to the day he is nine months late in bringing to the floor his brain child, the Hoover Commission, because on March 12, I introduced a Hoover Commission to do exactly what he is trying to do now. After my bill was introduced, he introduced a resolution and then he found out that the resolution could not do the job, so he immediately copied my points of the Hoover Commission in my bill and introduced a bill, and I am awfully sorry that he has given birth to this bill, because in giving birth to this bill there is another child on the Calendar which is nearly a year older than the one he has given birth to today.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the record shows that I was absent from this Session on Monday and Tuesday of this week, and I, like many other Pennsylvanians, had planned a hunting trip which I have made every year throughout my life since I was old enough to hunt, and I made plans for a week, especially after I learned that we would be in recess until the tenth day of December. However, being called back before that date I changed my plans somewhat, and I was compelled yesterday to cut my trip short from a six day week to a day and a half.

Mr. President, I would like to inform my colleague from Tioga, Senator Berger, that I spent a couple happy days up in the Tioga country, and I returned home last night because I learned, by telephone, that some action was being taken with reference to the charges that I made at the Cambria County Courthouse quite sometime ago. I am happy to learn that during my absence this body has come to the realization and they acted in an orderly fashion. I was much disappointed, to say the least, in the action taken by the gentleman from Allegheny last week when he tried to convince this body and myself that what charges I may have made should be aired before a committee of the whole. I think he realized then, and realizes now, that he was wrong, and I want to pay tribute to the public press of Pennsylvania for bringing this matter to a head. I think the press has played a major part in making it possible for the people of the Commonwealth to hear what I have to say.

Mr. President, at the present time I have no knowledge of what the committee anticipates and I do not know whom I should refer my remarks to, either to the gentleman from Allegheny County, Senator Walker, or to the gentleman from Tioga, Senator Berger, but I would like to ask now, Mr. President, can they tell me when and where the meeting will be held so I may contact my counsel, the former Attorney General, Charles J. Margiotti, who told me he would be here as quickly as possible. He is in Washington, D. C., holding hearings, and I do not want to mislead him. I would like to know when we shall have these hearings so I may get in touch with him immediately and then tell this body as to whether or not we can agree to their terms on the date set.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I learned a few minutes ago that Senator Berger was chosen as Chairman of a ten man committee, appointed to hear the charges that I have made. Can you tell me, Senator Berger, as Chairman of that committee, when and where the hour that the meeting will be held?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President we anticipate requesting a recess in a short time for the purpose of holding a meeting of the committee just appointed this afternoon, at which time we will decide when will be the earliest possible time when we can commence these hearings. We anticipate asking Senator Haluska, or consulting with him, as to the time which would be agreeable to him.

Mr. HALUSKA. Thank you Senator Berger, after you have called the meeting I may be able to reach my counsel and have his availability conform with their plans, if possible, but if they should set a date arbitrarily and I can not reach him, it would not be fair to me or him. I hope I can reach my counsel immediately after I hear from the committee.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, to permit a meeting of the Committee on Finance.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOOD, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1693, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. ## SENATE BILL NO. 671 CALLED UP FROM THIRD READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Postponed Calendar Senate Bill No. 671 for consideration at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 671, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by further limiting eligibility for general assistance.

be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

SENATE BILL NO. 706 CALLED UP FROM THIRD READING POSTPONE CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Postpone Calendar Senate Bill No 706 for consideration at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 706 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to add clause (m) to section 108 of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 566) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for occupational disease contracted by an employe arising out of and in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry the Workmen's Compensation Board Workmen's Compensation Referees and dean of medical schools creating a medical board to determine controverted medical issues establishing an Occupational Disease Fund in custody of the State Workmen's Insurance Board imposing upon the Commonwealth a part of the compensation payable for certain occupational diseases making an appropriation and prescribing penalties" by designating diseases of the heart and tuberculosis of the respiratory system as occupational diseases when contracted or incurred by firemen or policemen.

be recommitted to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to oppose the Majority Leader's motion to recommit this piece of legislation. For your information, Senator Fleming and I sponsored this bill about six months ago. The provision of this bill would protect the volunteer firemen and volunteer policemen in Pennsylvania, and place then under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act in regards to diseases of the respiratory organs and diseases of the heart.

Now Mr. President, we worked on House Bill No. 213 for quite a number of weeks. That bill became a law, but that applies only to paid fireman and paid policemen in Pennsylvania. We had an amendment in there which would have taken care of the volunteer fireman and volunteer policeman, but it was knocked down. They passed House Bill No. 213. So, Senator Fleming and myself sponsored Senate Bill No. 706 and now the bill is going back to committee, and I suppose it will be dead.

Mr. President, I say to you Members of the Senate here today that the volunteer fireman in Pennsylvania perform a service that could not be paid in dollars and cents. I say that they are entitled to this protection, and I ask each and every Member here to vote "No" on this motion to recommit this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call. (During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Request has been made to have the roll verified. The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative as follows:

Berger,	Kessler,	Propert,	Watkins,
Blass,	Letzler,	Robinson,	Watson,
Chapman,	Mallery,	Snowden,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	Pechan,	Taylor,	Wood,
Freed.	Peelor,	Wagner,	Hare,
		Walker,	Presiding Officer

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative as follows:

Bane,	Dent,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Barr,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Silvert,
Barrett,	Holland,	Neff,	Yosko,
Byrne,	Lane,	Rosenfeld,

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. HOLLAND and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Berger,	Letzler,	Robinson,	Watkins,
Blass,	Mallery,	Snowden,	Watson,

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do not rise.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with the permission of the Members of the Senate, I would ask to take a few minutes to run through the second battle of Bushy Run.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, may proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, some of these releases went out and erroneously gave out the information the battle of Bushy Run was part of the French and Indian War, and some citizen back home who knows all about that battle from memory corrected me and wants me to correct the record so that it is known that this was a war between the Colonials and British against the French and Indians. He wants me also to say to the Members of the Senate that this was part of Pontiac's war and not in any way connected with the French and Indian War. He wants me further to state that the fifty-five soldiers in question are the dead ones; that there were quite a few who were not killed, and that this was a great battle and that five hundred Colonials, under Colonel Bouquet, a Swiss, were fighting in the pay of the British, and it was due to the fact that he was a Swiss mercenary, that the British never paid him the great honor that was his due. I think the British ought to be sent a copy of this statement.

Further than that, Mr. President, he wants us to know that there were five hundred American Colonials, including women and children, who were beseiged at Pittsburgh, at Fort Pitt, and that the British gave up the fight and, according to him, surrendered without a battle to the French, and that only a handful of men were under Colonel Bouquet. This man said that Mr. Braddock was a stupid, obstinate fool. He also said that Forbes may have been a good man, but he obstinately insisted on building his own road through the wilderness instead of using the southern road through some other section.

Mr. President, I want the people to know that this is a great institution out there, and that we in Westmoreland County are very proud of this battlefield. I think that everybody here ought to go along with me in insisting that the General State Authority purchase that particular piece of land. I further want to state, too, that a statement which he makes here is very important, and I want to call it to the attention of the Pittsburgh members of Allegheny County. This gentleman says, "I say we should not only have a fitting memorial at Bushy Run, but we should also name one of the new buildings at the Point after Colonel Bouquet. He said this as an instruction to me. "As you are the State Senator from the district where Bouquet saved the lives of those surrounded at Fort Pitt, and saved Pittsburgh"—I always did say that Pittsburgh ought to bless Westmoreland County because we have saved them in the early American days and we are still doing it according to the papers. . . ." "I think you should become one of the principal people to work in this regard." He said, "I am not a historical crank, nor a Swiss, nor am I a Britian-baiter. I belong to no societies or groups, but as a Pittsburger who loves fair play I think that Grant, Braddock and Forbes were bums, and Bouquet should have the honor due him."

I therefore move, Mr. President, that this Senate, if the opportunity presents itself, accord to Colonel Bouquet in the battlefield at Bushy Run the honor due that section of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to advise the gentlemen of the Senate that the Rules Committee, at their very next meeting, will seriously consider the recommendation which we have just received, recommending the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland for the Loyal Order of the Purple Heart for the wounds he has received in the battles of Bushy Run.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, December 6, 1951, at 1 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 7:19 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Thursday, December 6, 1951, at 1 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

No. 97.

SENATE

THURSDAY, December 6, 1951.

The Senate met at 1 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

By appointment of the PRESIDENT pro tempore:

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Fred P. Hare) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D. D., pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. O Lord, our God, again we call upon Thee and pause in reverence before Thee.

We need not tell Thee our needs nor inform Thee of our problems, yet we need to remind ourselves constantly of Thy concern for us, of Thy power to guide and help. So teach us a deeper faith in Thee, we beseech Thee, and a greater kindness with each other. Prosper the Commonwealth, preserve our Nation, and sustain these Senators in the highest traditions of public service.

In Jesus name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. SNOWDEN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I have received a telegram, which I wish to have spread upon the record.

Western Union

Sen. Frank Ruth

Senate Office Bldg., Harrisburg Penn.

Recommend legislation be enacted to prevent future bus strikes such as the one we are experiencing now in Reading. Innocent people of the community are suffering undue hardships that could normally be avoided.

Sincerely

James H. Mantis, Chairman, Merchants of Reading
Penn Street, Reading, Pa.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate

do now take a recess for ten minutes, to permit a meeting of the Committee on Finance.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 904, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United State Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by requiring the posting of lists containing the names addresses and amount of assistance granted to certain persons receiving assistance

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enact as follows

Section 1 Section 7 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read as follows

Section 7 Powers and Duties of County Boards of Assistance Each county board of assistance shall have the power and its duty shall be

(p) To post every three months at the building used for county court house purposes or at any other county or municipal building lists containing the names addresses and amounts of assistance granted to all persons then receiving assistance pursuant to the provisions of clause (d) of section nine of this act within the county for which such local board has been established

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill and I should like to state my reasons for it.

Mr. President, public assistance, since its inception, has been intended for those unfortunates in our Commonwealth who need help. It is true that there is some chiseling going on. I think in a program of this kind, of necessity, chiseling creeps in, but that should not be the reason why we should pass a bill to punish some eighty-five or ninety per cent of relief recipients. I think a better plan would be to insist upon greater investigation to wipe out the chislers. Specifically, I should like to list the reasons for my opposition to this bill as follows:

(a) Would apply a punitive measure to thousands of decent, self-respecting people in an effort to stamp out the relatively few who chisel and cheat.

(b) Would, in doing so, defeat the chief purpose of public assistance which is "to encourage self-respect, self-dependency, and the desire to be a good citizen and useful to society."

(c) Would be a violation of "privileged information" in that it would open up the intimate affairs of family life to neighborhood gossip and the idle speculation of the public at large.

(d) Would not accomplish the desired purpose, there being evidence that such a punitive measure is more likely to deter those who genuinely need public assistance than those who are trading on it as cheats and chislers.

(e) Would provide no evidence of the validity of individual expenditures for public assistance and would open up the names for commercial and or political uses notwithstanding any intent to the contrary.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to support the position taken by Senator Silvert, from Philadelphia County. I am wondering if the membership of the Senate would ever consider posting the names of all those unfortunates who now reside in public institutions. I do not believe there would be one man here who would vote for that type of legislation, and yet here we are endeavoring to lower the dignity of those unfortunates who have to have relief, those persons who, due to circumstances beyond their control, must rely upon society and upon the State for proper subsistence.

Mr. President, I agree there has been chiseling, but I say the corrective measure is this, enact proper legislation to make sure that the investigators are properly qualified to go out and check on those who apply for relief, but I do not believe that we should penalize all these people who must apply for public relief, due to the fact that there are a few criminals that are endeavoring to chisel in the State of Pennsylvania. Therefore, I ask the Membership to oppose this bill on humane merits alone. I do not believe it is the proper type of legislation to be brought before this Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, when I was in Illinois this summer attending a wedding of a member of my family, I happened to pick up a paper in Chicago and noted that day that the Governor of Illinois had signed into law a bill containing practically the same language as is contained in this bill. This could only have been done after the Federal Government amended the Social Security Act. Previous to that time, the States could not derive their money from the Federal Government if they had this type of legislation. Now this Governor and this General Assembly in Illinois is a Democratic Administration, and I take some pride in this, that I suggested to the gentleman whose name is on the bill and who is presiding today, that perhaps we should introduce a bill such as this. I think he will bear me out that I am correct.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this particular bill has been the subject of controversy in practically every State in the Union. It certainly created considerable discussion in the Federal Congress. However, there is one point that is being missed by everyone, in my opinion.

Mr. President, I think Senator Lane hit the nail pretty close to the head when he said there are other considerations in the public assistance program that are just as serious as that of the so-called chiseling relief recipient. One of the considerations, my fellow colleagues, is this. How many of you study the reports given by the Department of Public Assistance every month to the Members of the General Assembly? How many of you know that five thousand persons left public assistance in the month of September, and yet the total cost of relief in the State of Pennsylvania did not go down proportionately to the amount that it should be reduced, if we are running on a per person cost for public assistance. For instance, here are some figures that interest me. The administrative cost, mind you, the administrative cost in the month of October, with 260,000 persons receiving assistance in all categories, was $932,944, or ten and two-tenth per cent of the entire relief bill in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, you cannot keep building up administrative costs and details for the Administration to administer the granting of relief and expect to ever have a real definite savings in the amount spent for public assistance. On the basis of that figure alone, we will spend in this biennium approximately $25,000,000 for administrative costs alone. The administrative pay roll cost in Pennsylvania for all departments is $77,000,000. How long can we sit idly by and watch this monstrosity keep growing, festering itself upon the body politic of this Commonwealth, and then, because it deals with suffering and poverty, we say the subject is taboo and we cannot delve into it and discuss it intelligently? First of all, I do not think any Member of this Senate wants to take from a needy, deserving person in the Commonwealth the aid and assistance that we feel is due that particular person. The question of charity is one that needs no legislation. Every person with a human soul realizes that those who have must try to give to those who have not.

Mr. President, on the question of publication of names, I would say this, and I say it advisedly to everyone. It is a great step and it is one that has many many angles to it. I suggest to the sponsor of the bill—I did not know we were so far along on the particular bill or I would have talked it over with him prior to now—that I believe the first move ought to be to record publicly and publish the names of all those on public assistance who are in the employable ages. I would say that from the age of eighteen to what industry, in most cases, considers the top level of employment, or approximately forty-five years of age, that the names of those persons who are receiving assistance be published. If we start in that particular category, we will find that we are attacking the problem at the sore spot.

Mr. President, a great deal of our trouble is caused by the so-called floaters who come into Pennsylvania. About two weeks ago I received a telephone call from a person who gave me his name, and he said that he was having trouble getting his relief in Pennsylvania, and I said, "Well, what kind of trouble are you having?" He said, "I came from New Jersey, and I have been here one year on November 11." He said, "I applied for relief and I have not heard anything yet." Under the law, he had to be here one year, and I said to him, "Well, when did you come to Pennsylvania?" He said, "November 11, last year." Now, they tell me, and it is worthy of consideration by the Senate, that in the city of Philadelphia there are a great many transient workers who come to work in Jersey, in the neighboring truck patches and truck farms. They are brought in as transient labor or field labor by the thousands. During their short stay in the New Jersey fields they drift over into Philadelphia, and there they get to talking to some of their friends who show them an easy way out, and so, instead of all of them returning to the spot from whence they came, they stay in Philadelphia and pretty soon the relief load in this Commonwealth is bearing the brunt of this particular type of relief recipient.

Mr. President, I do not have the data before me, because I did not realize we were at this point, but I think my memory will serve me pretty close to being right that the average in the State for persons of employable age or single persons, we might say, in the various counties who are on relief is a seventeen per cent minus. I think that figure is pretty close to being right. I hope I am not held to it because I am quoting from memory, and in Philadelphia it is forty-one per cent. Now, in that particular category, in my opinion, is the chiseling. In the other categories, aid to dependent children, blind pensions and the so-called categorical reliefs, there is not too much of an opportunity for any known chiseler to become attached to the relief rolls and stay there, but in the general assistance program is where you will find that a great deal of the so-called unnecessary expense can be found, but the greatest crime of all is the spending of approximately ten cents out of every dollar to publish booklets that go out to persons on relief, telling them about "A Haven For The Aged," I believe was the name of one of the books, and "How To Get Your Glasses Fitted" was another beautiful tome that went out.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the one thing we must remember is that we must never create a sense of permanency in public assistance. We must get away from this feeling that this is a permanent situation. Oh, I know we have had it since 1933, I am aware of that, but I also know that we have created in Pennsylvania a permanent setup, and there are a great many relief recipients in this Commonwealth who think nothing of it, who believe that that is a proper place for them to be. That should be the last philosophy to be allowed to be created and believed in in this Commonwealth. Relief in any instance ought to be nothing except a temporary situation. Oh, I know there are a great many of the oldsters who will never get a job, and I have no complaints with relief to that particular category, but as we get into the application of the Social Security laws and the pension plans of the various industries, that particular category will no longer be a problem for public assistance. The blind assistance will probably always be with us in a greater or lesser degree. The aid to dependent children will be with us to some extent, but the application of your Social Security laws will relieve that situation in time. Seriously, I say to this General Assembly, and I said it in February, in March, in April, in May and on down through, we should not adjourn this Session of the Legislature without doing something about breaking up this monstrosity called the Department of Public Assistance. That is not said in any sense as a character assassination against those who are in that department command at the moment. I do not know anything about them, I think they are just following the regular cut that they found when they came there. I think it is something that has grown up through the years, and no individual person is responsible for it. This is not a criticism of Mrs. Evans or any of her department heads, but I say that we have allowed an evil to grow up in this State.

Mr. President, you say this is one step in the right direction. Maybe it is, but it is only aiming at one particular phase of it. You are not aiming at the core, at the sore spot, at the fester, that, to my mind, is poisoning the whole system. We should take a definite position this Session. We have been here long enough to have done the study ourselves this year, but I understand there is a Hoover Commission or some kind of a commission—the name doesn't even sound good—being created here to study governmental expenses and governmental costs, and all of the things that go into it. Here is something a great many citizens do not know. In the month of October, the year of our Lord 1951, we spent nine hundred two thousand some odd dollars in the Commonwealth. We spent that for administrative cost, which is ten per cent of the $9,642,000 that we spent for public assistance in the month of October. Let us see how that breaks down.

Mr. President, the State pays $5,346,000. Your Federal Government, the much maligned Federal Government, paid to the State of Pennsylvania in that particular month $4,295,000 towards the relief load in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, almost, well, I would say that it is about forty-four and one-half per cent on a rough calculation, of the entire bill for public assistance in this Commonwealth.

Now, Mr. President, you can post all the names you want to, and you might go a little further and post the names of the employees of the Department of Public Assistance, too, because they are all in the same category. They are in this Department of Public Assistance that requires a major operation. I have held forth for years and I still maintain that the only thing we can do to intelligently handle relief in this Commonwealth is to give back to the Department of Welfare the categorical reliefs where they belong under the constitutional provisions of this Commonwealth. Give them to the Department of Welfare, make the administrative cost be carried, if it is at all possible, by the local communities where the supervision will be on a neighborly basis. Then take the public assistance for those who are on general assistance in the Commonwealth and pay that, if you want, through an agency known as the General Assistance Fund or anything you want to call it, but do not allow it to get to be the greatest money spending unit in the Commonwealth. Twenty-five millions of dollars is estimated, and in 1949 to 1951 we spent $28,000,000 for relief administration alone in this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I was privileged to hear a speaker from Washington, D. C., just a week ago, speaking at a State Chamber of Commerce luncheon, in which he quoted the expenditures of the Federal Government. One of the items that he expressed great concern over was the fact that in the Federal Government it cost something like $10,000 to buy something like $30,000 worth of goods, and I said to that gentleman and to the members assembled that we had one that would top that. We had in Pennsylvania an agency that spent $28,000,000 to give away $280,000,000. Now, I think you ought to take time to study this problem. You have 260,000 persons on relief. Now, persons means children, adults and all. It means the aged, it means the blind, it means the halt, it means the weary, it means the lame, it means the unemployed, and you have a total of 260,000. I venture to say that you cannot find 260,000 other citizens of this Commonwealth who are having spent from their own pay rolls that amount of money to keep their families together. I do not believe that you can find in this Commonwealth, take the ordinary working man and take 260,000 of those individuals and multiply the amounts that they spend for the so-called necessities that they are supposed to be getting on public assistance, a sum total of $280,000,000.

Now, Mr. President, I think that the time has come when we should do more than just post names, and I would recommend that before you even pass this bill, if the sponsor can see his way clear to do so, that we start out by posting only the names of those employable age persons. If, in the minds of some of the individuals in this Senate, there is a question as to the decency of the proposition; looking at it on a matter of fact cold economic basis there is nothing wrong with posting all the names, but if we get into the humanitarian angle, and if some feel that it is only charitable to give charity and you should not expose those who receive the charity to ridicule, then, of course, there is a moral question that must be resolved. I personally would vote in a minute to take the names of the employable persons who are on public assistance in this Commonwealth and post those names. You know you will be back here inside of a year, if we ever get out, and at that time the new Legislature can see the results of this particular act and can see whether or not the further posting of all the names would be proper, but at this time I would suggest to the sponsor of the act, if he can see his way clear to do so, that the bill go over at this time rather than take a vote on it in order that a small committee can meet with him and try to work out a solution that is best suited for the purposes that we are trying to attain.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I sat here in this Session for quite a long time. I listened to a lot of hog wash about those that are on public relief, but you know, Mr. President, I never heard one statement about the crooks and the racketeers that infest Pennsylvania, and yet at the same time they want to attack those unfortunates that cannot protect themselves. They talk about the amount of money that is being spent in Pennsylvania today, and I want you to know, as far as aid to dependent children is concerned, my county of Washington spends $125,000 a year, and if the necessity arises, we will double the amount to take care of those unfortunate children. That is the position I take.

Mr. President, Senator Barr made the statement about a Democratic Administration passing this legislation. In reply to his statement, I will say this. Democrats make mistakes, too, and they certainly made a step in the wrong direction. I do not agree that this is a step in the right direction. I say to you that we are shortsighted. We sit here and talk and talk and talk about those poor unfortunates. Of course, we spend money on them. That is our responsibility, that is what we pay taxes for, and if it costs more money, let us spend it, but I do not think we should pass this legislation because what you are doing, you take an old man that has worked all his life, who has bought a little home. He posts a bond so he can get a little bit of relief, yet you are going to put his name up in public places. You would not put the names of those who are in county homes in public places. Well, if we are going to do that, let us post the names of all the criminals that are convicted in the sixty-seven counties of this State. Let us post them, too. They are the ones who committed the crimes, not those old people that need relief. I say to you we should kill this bill here and now.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in my humble opinion, this bill is not needed. I am going to state at the outset that it is my personal opinion that relief in Pennsylvania has been administered well from the beginning. It is the toughest job of any department in this State. I tell you that the troubles they have and what they have got to go through to administer relief in Pennsylvania is a terrific job, and in my district, and I am quite familiar with it, it is my opinion that those who administer relief are too tough, not too liberal. They investigate thoroughly, and anybody they feel does not deserve relief is knocked off, but those people who are on relief, they are unfortunate. A lot of them are just unlucky and, perhaps, there are a lot of Senators sitting on this floor that if they had had the bad luck that most of those people on relief have had, they would be on the relief rolls, too.

Mr. President, I feel that a bill that will publicize and humiliate the unfortunates that are on relief is not necessary in this great State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I do not believe that this is the approach to solve the problem. At the beginning of this Session, after considerable study and consultations with men who have administered relief throughout the State in many counties, I introduced a bill in which we would combine the Department of Public Assistance, the Unemployment Insurance, the Rehabilitation and also the Employment Office. I think before we would go ahead and publish the names of everyone who is on relief, we should first find out how many of those are employable.

Now, Mr. President, I find that those who are in the age bracket in the Allegheny County district and could be employed are suffering from many little physical defects that could be corrected by an operation. There are many of these men and women who are suffering from hernias, which were caused by hard work, lack of medical attention by the corporation by which they were employed. There are many of these who suffer from bad hearing, bad eyesight, and all of these things could be corrected. If the Department of Rehabilitation were part of the Department of Public Assistance, I believe that thousands of people could be taken away from these rolls.

Mr. President, I would like to just for a moment point out what happens when the man with a family is laid off. A man with a family is laid off and his income is such that he lives up to every cent of it, which he receives on payday. There is nothing in reserve. He is laid off, and he immediately goes and applies for unemployment compensation. Unemployment compensation registers him and sends him over to the employment office. All these are under different heads. They send him out on a job, they find out that he has some physical defect that does not permit him to be accepted, so he goes back to the unemployment compensation and they register him again, and in the meantime he has to go on emergency relief and he goes on emergency relief. They send him out on another job, and everywhere he goes it is the same story. I can name hundreds of people that I have at home, which I will make a matter of record at any date, who have gone out after job after job and were turned down for some physical defect which could be fixed up by the Rehabilitation Department. So, the result was that he lands on relief and remains on relief.

Now, Mr. President, I do not think that man's name should be published as a do-nothing or a lazy man, because he has tried and tried and tried. I would ask the sponsor of this bill if he would only go only for one day, and agree that the only people whose names will be published will be those within the age limits who could be employed by industry. In that way we can find out why they are not employed, why they cannot get jobs, and I think eventually when we come back next year we will decide that it is better to consolidate these departments, because each department depends upon the other to do a good job, and if they are under one head you have a coordination of the departments and you would have a considerable saving to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I would ask Mr. Hare, the sponsor of this bill, if he would not very kindly go along with an amendment at this time to just post those who are within the employable age, and I think that would be the first start to cut off quite a few people who now receive relief, because we can find ways and means to get them jobs.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, not very often does someone change their mind on the floor of the Senate, but I do think that Senator Dent's amendment that he spoke of should be added to this bill. So, I further request that the bill go over in order, and maybe we can get the amendment prepared this afternoon and vote on the bill this evening.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I have been sitting here waiting for somebody to get up and tell me what is intended by this bill, and I must assume, since the bill was introduced and was considered by a committee and came out on the floor, that there is somebody here who will talk for it. I will pause for thirty seconds, if anybody wants to get up and explain what he thinks that this bill is intended to do.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand from the gentleman from Philadelphia that I am to limit this to thirty seconds?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, may speak as long as he likes.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am very deeply interested in the discussion on the bill from the other side. I appreciate the fact that the approach to the solution of this question is not a political approach. It is one in which all Members of the Senate will endeavor to solve a very difficult social problem.

Mr. President, some of us can remember, as a matter of fact, I think some of the gentlemen of the Senate were Members of the General Assembly at the time the Department of Public Assistance was created. It was created after a very careful study by a group of citizens all over the Commonwealth, and the committee made a report. There was a Majority Report and a Minority Report. The Majority Report favored the centralization of assistance, the Minority Report pointed out that certain things would happen if this gigantic department were centralized here in Harrisburg. What the Minority set forth in their report, unfortunately, has turned out to be true and, as the Minority Leader has suggested in his remarks, we have a department where the administration of relief now exceeds the amount that was originally spent for relief, even in the early days when I first became a Member of the Senate.

Mr. President, I have listened to a great many plans advocated on the floor of the Senate about how we can streamline and reduce the cost of public assistance in Pennsylvania without injuring the people who are honestly entitled to help or to relief. As you know, the relief rolls make up a variety of specific approaches, and some of them are bad. The only way they could be reduced would be by death. Some of them are general assistance, people who are temporarily inconvenienced because of their economic situation, and those were supposed to be temporary cases.

The trouble has been, Mr. President, that there has crept into our society a peculiar philosophy. It is peculiar in this great Republic because this Republic was founded with the understanding that people would carve out for themselves the opportunities that this great Republic and this great land would give them. There has crept into this Country a philosophy that the Nation, by and large, owes all the people a living, and regardless of the attempt made by the individual to secure that living by his own efforts, that the Nation should take care of them. This Department of Public Assistance here in Pennsylvania is only one of a large number of State-wide departments that exist all over the United States. The Federal Department in Washington has viewed with alarm for a number of years the continued growth of the demands for public assistance. They have seen this thing grow and grow and grow, until they realized, too, that something must be done to curb this philosophy that the Nation or the Country owes everybody a living.

Mr. President, relief was instituted under the Goodrich plan to temporarily help those who for the moment could not help themselves. People now have grown so accustomed, and I am speaking not of the poor unfortunates who are trying to get out from under the relief rolls, but there are certain groups of people on relief who, unfortunately for themselves as well as for society as a whole, have taken the position that this is their due, that by law they are entitled to this, and they make no effort whatsoever to ever change their social standing or their economic standing by doing something for themselves. It has almost become a profession in itself.

Mr. President, coupled with this we have over here a Department of Public Assistance that has been viewed with suspicion year in and year out for a good many years by a lot of the Members of the General Assembly. We have tried desperately to find ways and means of streamlining this Department. One suggestion has been made here three or four times on the floor of the Senate that I think has a lot of merit to it, and that is a conscientious study and the return of the public assistance problem to the political subdivisions at the county level. If that were done, the people administering government at the county level would be, perhaps, in a better position, being closer to it, to see to it that those who are not entitled to relief are eliminated from the rolls and those unfortunates who cannot help themselves are given the opportunity to receive the relief that is set up in the act. At the same time, we would eliminate the decentralization of government where for years people who have been specifically trained to administer relief have continued this department in operation.

Mr. President, here is a bill that, as I recall, follows another bill bearing the name of the same sponsor. If memory serves me correctly, Mr. President, this is not the first bill that the sponsor of this particular measure offered dealing with this specific subject. This particular bill was only brought before the Senate after the Federal Government, fully realizing the seriousness of the situation confronting them, legalized the publication of these names if the State involved so desired. It was the consensus of opinion at the Federal level that the publication of these names would assist in cutting down on the relief rolls, and that is why the Federal Government legalized the publishing of these names. This bill, as my colleague from Allegheny has suggested, is patterned after the Illinois act, and there they feel that the act has been meritorious and that it has been productive of economy, and it is thought that this would also do the same thing. There is nothing that has a scientific breakdown in it as far as the bill is concerned.

Mr. President, I might say to Senator Rosenfeld that it simply authorizes or rather directs that the names of the people on relief be published so that the taxpayers involved can have an opportunity of reviewing it, and they will be published in a public place. My recollection of the act indicates that they would be published in the court house and/or the municipal building, and in Pittsburgh, particularly, it would probably mean the City-County Building or the Court House. I might say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that it is my opinion that if the names are published, take for example in the smaller political subdivisions like a township or a borough, the people who are on relief are not known even in the small towns as residents of that town. They get their checks from some obscure agency here in the city of Harrisburg. There is no local feeling or local interest or a local acceptance of responsibility, and for that reason the people back home are not appreciative of the fact that this relief load, like Topsy, has grown and that this relief load and this relief department will be with us forever if we do not do something about it.

Now, Mr. President, I agree with Senator Dent. I do not think this alone will solve the relief problem, but I think this bill will make a great contribution toward cutting down the relief rolls, and it is my sincere hope that the Senate and the House will adopt this "Little Hoover Commission" bill that has been sponsored by Senator Wade, of Cumberland, and that the results of the investigation of that "Little Hoover Commission," or the results of the study, will dictate a remodeling of this Public Assistance Program so that we can, to a great extent, eliminate this department over there that has become such a burden and worry to every one of us.

Mr. President, I appreciate the very sincere desire on the part of every Member of this Senate to solve a very difficult problem. I say to the Senate, with all sincerity, I think this bill will help. I do not think it is the final solution, but at least it is a contribution toward the solution of a problem we are all anxious to arrive at.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I want to thank the Majority Leader for his excellent dissertation on the history of the Department of Public Assistance and for finally trying to answer the question I posed. It may be true, as the gentleman states, that this may help or that this may be the beginning of some help, but I think all of us are losing sight of the fact that we as human beings are forgetting about all of the principles of democracy, and humanity and all the religious teachings that we have ever had, personal freedom of the individual. We say to that individual on the one hand, "We are going to provide for your needs, we are going to do it through the Department of Public Assistance, we are going to appropriate money for that purpose." We do it because we feel it is our obligation to do it, and now we come along and we say, "However, coupled with that it our right to tell the world that you are the recipient of charity."

Now, Mr. President, I am not trying to detract from the problem that we have, and I know that there are many ways that we could begin to attack it, and at least in a decent fashion, but merely to get up here and to state that since a certain philosophy has grown up since the adoption of this kind of a program for the benefit of needy individuals, that, before, we have to forget about personal liberties and personal freedom, I think is ridiculous. Mr. President, I think we are being shortsighted. We would no more think of having the Department of Revenue publish a list of corporations that do not pay their taxes. We would no more think of having the various local political subdivisions publish the list of individuals who do not pay their taxes, and yet to people, some of whom are not entitled to this money, just as the very same groups are not entitled to take the position that they do not have to pay any taxes, we are taking a different position with this kind of individual because he is unfortunate. There are all kinds of chisellers, business chisellers, and relief chisellers. You will find chislers in every category of life, yet we single this group out to hit them because they cannot get up and defend themselves. Gentlemen, because this bill may help does not outweigh the principle of decency and human relationship, and I ask everybody to vote "no" on this measure.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I dislike very much to prolong this debate. However, in reply to some statements made by the Majority Leader, he said that it seems that it is becoming a profession to secure public relief. Now, those conditions might exist in his district, I do not know, but in my county of Washington, in my county of Greene, I have worked closely with the Department of Public Assistance and I say to you that they have my respect, they have my confidence. I think they are doing a splendid job.

Mr. President, it is true that we may have a few chiselers. However, those cases are very isolated and very remote, and I say also, Mr. President, when you talk about the enormous sums that are being spent for public relief, I think a lot of us have lost sight of the fact that the purchasing power of our dollar today is approximately forty per cent.

In conclusion I want to say this to you. They talk about the people looking to government for help. Well, you know government is of the people, it is for the people and it is by the people. It is government's responsibility to maintain those that, due to circumstances beyond their control, cannot properly maintain themselves, and I say that we are making a terrible mistake if we, fifty Members of this Senate, vote to publish the names of these old people who in the evening of their lives are trying to eke out an existence until the last day. I say to you that it would be a terrible thing for us who are supposed to know a little bit about government to sit here and pass this type of legislation, and regardless of your political affiliations, and I know that you can see there is a difference of opinion over here, I think we should vote this bill down here and now, and leave the Joint State Government Commission go to work and find a better solution for it.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, it is unfortunate sometimes that the honest have to suffer for the dishonest. This bill is aimed at the dishonest. I agree with others who spoke here this afternoon that, perhaps, this bill will not accomplish all the things that we would like to accomplish in the administration of public assistance, but I happen to be one of those Members of the Senate who has been complaining about inefficiencies, loose spending, waste, extravagance in the State Government. The report of the Joint State Government Commission, indicating that $16,000,000 was handed out to chiselers during the last couple of years, was sufficient to convince me that something ought to be done to deter these chiselers from getting on the relief rolls. Heretofore, if a State would publish the names of those on relief, it would disqualify them from Federal funds, but this problem grew and grew and grew, the chiseler problem, and what happened? The Government met in conference back in September, and this was one of the major problems that was discussed, and it was the recommendation of the Governors' Conference to the Congress that the rule of the Federal Social Security Board be taken care of by granting those states the right to publish the names that wanted to publish them, so that when the last Federal tax bill was written, that provision was placed in the tax bill.

Mr. President, I happen to be an Executive Director of the State Auditors, Controllers and Treasurers, and when we met in Seattle during the recess period this question was discussed at length at that convention, and there a resolution was adopted calling upon the Congress to stipulate what is now the law, that is, permitting those states that so desire to publish those on the relief rolls without disqualification for Federal funds. So, I say, let us do something about it. This probably will not solve the whole problem, but it will do something, it will deter the chiseler from applying for public assistance, at least I think it will. It will deter those dishonest people who work for the Department of Public Assistance from being careless in placing persons on the public assistance rolls. It will help to catch those dishonest employees in the Department of Public Assistance that might be engaged in some kind of a racket in placing people on the public assistance rolls, and then getting a kickback such as was disclosed in Philadelphia just a short time ago and is now being investigated. If you can eliminate enough of the people from the public assistance rolls who are not now entitled to public assistance, we can reduce expenditures to the extent where, perhaps, we can raise the budgets of those who are legitimately on the public assistance rolls.

Mr. President, I have had any number of old people come to my office and tell me that it is almost impossible for them to get along on the small amount of money that now constitutes their budgets, and I am one of those that would be for increasing those budgets so that they could live decently, these old people, but it is because of the money that is being paid out to these chiselers that has made public assistance cost the State the enormous sums that it is costing the State. I say that by eliminating chiselers we can probably allocate some of that money to those who are legitimately on the rolls and give them a little more to get along with. For that reason, I am going to vote for the bill.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I do not wish to prolong the debate, but I think I might qualify my reasons for my position on this measure.

Mr. President, many months ago we had a discussion concerning relief here on the floor. During the course of that discussion, I spoke out against what I termed chiseling on relief, that it was costing the citizens of this Commonwealth many millions of dollars needlessly. At that time I was challenged by one of my colleagues on this side to demonstrate factually whether or not there was chiseling in the relief situation in Pennsylvania. I accepted the challenge and on my own did considerable investigating in my home district in the matter of relief appropriation, relief rolls and those receiving relief from the State there. Because of that investigation, I have come to feel more strongly about the need for stricter regulation in the relief system in Pennsylvania than ever before. I would be one of the last to say that the dignity of man should be measured by his financial standing. I abhor the thought that the aged, the blind, dependent children, should have their names placed in public places because they are defenseless. However, we do have thousands of chiselers, professional grafters, professional relief recipients in Pennsylvania, and I know of no other way than this to attack the problem.

Mr. President, I believe that the suggestion of the Minority Leader, Senator Dent, that the bill be passed over today and an amendment prepared so that we might qualify the listing of individuals, in keeping with the thoughts that I have had on the matter that those only in the employable ages be listed. However, if the sponsor of the bill and the Majority Party leadership will not agree to go along with the suggestion of the Minority Leader, I feel that I must vote for the measure.

Mr. President, to give you an example of what I found in relief chiseling in Lawrence County, I found that of nine number writers consecutively arrested in Lawrence County, tried and convicted, four were on relief. I know they would not have been on relief had their names been posted in the court house, if the officials of the county, those who frequent the court house and are interested in these matters, had known that these number writers, known gamblers, common racketeers, were receiving relief. I found that a man who came into our county twelve years ago, after spending eight years on a Georgia chain gang and after having resided less than eighteen months in Lawrence County, has been for the full term of his residence in the county on relief, able-bodied, able to work, but unwilling to do so. He certainly is not a Pennsylvanian deserving of relief. The present relief setup in Pennsylvania breeds immorality. Case after case turned up during the course of the investigation where unwed women were having illegitimate children over the years, and profitably so because they increased the relief payments.

Now, Mr. President, how are we going to attack a problem such as this if we do not take some positive action? It is fine to play politics, to cry out for the needy, and nobody's heart bleeds any more than does mine for the folks who are unable to take care of themselves. Certainly it would be a sad commentary upon our society and this great Commonwealth if we were not able to provide for those unable to provide for themselves, and I believe that we should do so and are doing so, but some place along the line we have got to do something to stop the chiseler. It is an every day occurrence in the Senate of Pennsylvania to sit here and listen to long debates and cry out our cries for economy, economy in government, but when the economy measure strikes the home district, too often the speaker suddenly decides that it cannot be done, that we must look after the unfortunates.

Mr. President, just yesterday I heard a long debate here concerning the State providing free medical care in State hospitals in Schuylkill County, and one gentleman spoke at least three times, decrying such a practice, yet today he is going to vote against the measure that would have some affect in driving chiselers from the relief rolls. I have listened to economy reports, individually prepared by Senators, that would slash most every agency in the State except those in the home district of the Senator making the report. Well, it might be smart politics to do so, but it is not good morals, it is not honest government and it is not an honest, fair, presentation of the problem affecting the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, in conclusion I would suggest that if the sponsor of this measure could see fit to hold it over in order to permit an amendment to be prepared and presented tomorrow, providing that only those of the employable ages be posted, then I personally would feel that the bill was entirely in order. However, if he does not see fit to do so, I find myself in a position where I am going to vote for the bill, because I believe it is the most honest attempt to do something about economy on the basic level that we have heard here in a long time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I had no intention of speaking on this bill because the record shows that throughout this Session I have devoted quite some time to talking about the same subject, and everyone knows my position. I think it is deplorable to pass such a measure to place in a public court house or any other public place the names of those unfortunate people.

Now, Mr. President, I am proud of my county of Cambria, and I said, and I say now, there are no chiselers in Cambria County, and I defy anyone to point them out. It may be true, as Senator Neff stated, that there are chiselers in his county and in other counties, but tell me, how will the posting of names eliminate these chiselers? A chiseler has no pride, he does not care whether his name is posted. If you are sincere in trying to stop the chiseling, go after the boards, some of the investigators, the people who give relief. That is the root of all evil. Come into Cambria County and talk to our board, see how they do it.

Mr. President, I agree with Senator McGinnis that it is tough to get on relief, and I say sincerely that in my county, Mr. President, they check everything you have ever had, your in-laws and out-laws, and it is quite difficult to get on the relief rolls in my county and I am proud of the way Cambria County doles out relief. Those who are in need, they get it, but they must definitely prove they are in need. Posting names is not the answer. Let us pass some bill dealing directly with the administration, either at Harrisburg or back in the counties where we find the fault, but by placing these names in public places you will rue the day. It is the lowest step we have taken in my eighteen years at Harrisburg.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on behalf of the Democratic Members who voted for this bill, I want it clearly understood that they intend to show by their vote that they are in favor of this particular type of a venture into public assistance. However, they intend to work among the House Members in order to have it amended along the lines that we think are more workable at this moment.

Mr. President, with the permission of the Senate, I would like to be relieved of my presence here for a period of about ten minutes. I understand that my vote is needed to create a quorum on the Public School Authority over at the Governor's Office, and if I could return in about ten minutes, will you kindly not take the tax bills up until I get here?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland before he leaves the Chamber, there is a report from the Committee on Finance involving amendments to a Senate bill that we would like to have reported out, and I would not want the gentleman to feel that we reported a bill out in his absence.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have no objection to taking bills up for amendment in order to clear the Calendar for printing and so forth. I only want to be here when they are read for the second time so that I can discuss them.

MINISTER OF INTERIOR IN RHINELAND-PALANTINATE PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair at this time wishes to call to the attention of the Members and the visitors of the Pennsylvania Senate, the presence of a very distinguished visitor, the Minister of the Interior, the Honorable Otto Schmidt of the Rhineland-Palantinate, Germany. He is here today with his escort-interpreter from the United States Department of State, Mr. Charles Lloyd, and the two are being escorted by Doctor Louise Lutherford, of the Department of Justice.

I would ask the distinguished gentleman to stand and take a bow in the Pennsylvania Senate today.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOOD, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1698, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon certain documents, prescribing and regulating the method and manner of evidencing the payment of such tax; conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain persons, partnerships, associations, and corporations, recorders of deeds, and the Department of Revenue; saving certain local taxes and authorizing amendments, extensions and supplements to the ordinances and resolutions relating thereto; and providing penalties.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1727, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 596) entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" by further providing for certain minimum and maximum pensions

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection (b) of Section 4 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 596) entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as last amended by the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 241) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 * * * * *

(b) The pension paid to any employee pensioned prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one shall not be less than one hundred dollars nor exceed one hundred and [twenty-five dollars] thirty-seven dollars fifty cents per month and shall not be computed on rate of pay in excess of two hundred and fifty dollars per month The pension paid to any employee pensioned after the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one shall not be less than one hundred dollars or exceed one hundred seventy-five dollars per month and shall not be computed on rate of pay in excess of three hundred fifty dollars per month

Section 2 Said section four of said act as so amended is hereby further amended by adding after subsection (b) thereof a new subsection to read as follows

Section 4 * * * * *

(b.1) Any employee who had been a member of the pension fund prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and who had retired or was pensioned prior thereto and whose average salary for the last five years of his or her employment by the city was two hundred dollars per month or more but less than two hundred fifty dollars per month shall have his or her pension computed on fifty-five per centum of his or her average salary during the aforesaid five year period of time Any employee who had been a member of the pension fund prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and who had retired or was pensioned prior thereto whose average salary during the last five years of his or her employment with the city was two hundred fifty dollars per month or more shall receive a pension of not more than one hundred thirty-seven dollars fifty cents per month

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, there are several bills on the Second Reading Calendar that I desire to call up out of order in order to have amendments presented to them, and in that way the amendments and the bills can come back from the printer in the hope of having the bills before us for our midnight Session, and it is for that reason that I am calling them out of order.

I also might say, for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, that it has been agreed to that the tax program will be discussed as a unit on Second Reading in order to forego debate at the midnight Session.

SENATE BILL No. 912 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up, out of order, Senate Bill No. 912 for consideration at this time.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 912, entitled:

An Act creating a Commission on Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Commonwealth providing for the membership of such Commission prescribing its powers and duties and making an appropriation.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 14, by striking out the word "fifty-five" and inserting in lieu thereof "fifty-three."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to, as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LETZLER, from the Committee on Law and Order, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 837, entitled:

An Act making it unlawful to print or otherwise produce wall charts, tip sheets, scratch sheets, bookmaking tickets or other items in furtherance of illegal gambling or to transport, sell or possess the same; and providing penalties.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, yesterday afternoon there was a prolonged discussion in the Senate under the heading of what some people call mink coats and appendectomies. It dealt with the matter of free hospital services to people of the Commonwealth. I do not wish to continue that debate, but I wish to call attention to the inevitable reaction to what was said and to what took place.

Mr. President, attention was called numerous times to the fact that a lot of money was not collected from patients who were hospitalized in State-owned institutions and, of course, I see that different papers have treated the matter in different fashions. Many of the papers did not publicize the matter. Some of the papers made a factual news presentation of it in one or two paragraphs, somewhere between page one and thirty-seven, but one of our Philadelphia newspapers saw fit to come out with headlines one inch deep, covering a number of columns, the first columns of the front page, and they said, $1,900,000 Cheat on State Hospitals Charged in the Senate."

Now, Mr. President, the thing that disturbs me is the fact that once that impression is created, it is not only going to be interpreted as a condition in State-owned hospitals; it is going to be assumed that that is a general condition which is found in all hospitals that get any aid from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In the course of the discussion, Mr. President, one of the Senators from Allegheny County, who has tried several times this Session to do a job of "Holland Tunnelizing" Schuylkill County, lamented the fact that it was necessary in the coal regions for people to receive hospitalization without paying their bills in full. He said in this day and in these times, with so many people belonging to unions which have health insurance, and so many people belonging to Blue Cross and other insurance agencies, people should all be able, in effect, he said to pay their hospital bills. So, one would think that in his county there is no free hospital service, and yet I turn to House Bill No. 1422, an appropriation bill which lists proposed appropriations to hospitals in Pennsylvania to help them pay for the services they give patients who cannot pay their own bill, and I recognize some of these hospitals as being in Allegheny County. One gets $60,000 State-aid under the proposed bill; another gets $6,400 and one gets $67,000; one gets $166,000; one gets $40,000; one gets $115,000; one gets $194,000; $42,000; $31,600; $74,000; and the items go on to a total proposed appropriation to compensate hospitals in Allegheny County for free services rendered to the people of that county of $2,565,400.

Now, Mr. President, as I understand it, the State reimburses hospitals to the extent of $6.00 per day for so-called charity work. This charity work averages a cost of over $9.00 a day for each patient hospitalized, so that if we propose to reimburse Allegheny County hospitals to the extent of $2,565,400, that means, actually in round numbers, hospitals in Allegheny County, not State-owned, have given out in the past biennium $4,000,000 worth of service for which the patients did not pay.

Now, Mr. President, let us drop for the time being the question of State-owned hospitals and how much of bills are paid and how much are not. Let us be well aware of the fact that if the newspapers of the metropolitan centers of Pennsylvania are going to permit the impression to get out among the taxpayers that hospitalization is a racket, then according to our appropriations, not only to the State-owned hospitals but to all hospitals in the Commonwealth, people are going to think that hospitals generally are rackets. Personally, I do not consider that to be the case. I do not believe it is the case in State-owned hospitals. I do not think it is the case in these splendid institutions around the Commonwealth which are State-aided, but let us mark carefully the fact that it is not only in Schuylkill County that people get ill, it is not only in Schuylkill County where people have operations, it is not only in Schuylkill County where people cannot always pay for the hospitalization they need; it is just as true, apparently, in the great county of Allegheny, which one of the gentlemen represents, and it is just as true throughout the Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to refer or suggest to the gentleman from Schuylkill that he check up on the amount of taxes that come out of Allegheny County to the State, and also check up on the amount of taxes that come out of Schuylkill County to the State. After he compares the two, he will find that the share we get is much much less than the share they contribute to the State.

Now, Mr. President, I do not object to him taking his hospitals in Schuylkill County and having them privately owned, like they are in other counties, and getting State-aid for the hospitals, but I do not think it is right to have him have a preference of having a medical and a surgical hospital which has long out-dated its usefulness. It was made, and he will agree with me I am positive, created, rather, by an Act of 1887, to take care of the men hurt in the mines and in the railroads, and those two in particular. They had no way of taking care of the men who were hurt.

Now, Mr. President, I would like to join with him because I, too, wonder why, with all the welfare funds and the Blue Cross, the hospitals of our State cannot make or at least break even, because I believe that the number of paying patients are greater than they have ever been. It has always been a problem to me why many of the doctors who are on the staffs of these hospitals are becoming wealthy, while the hospitals are always back here crying. I often wonder if it has been poor management on the part of the hospital, and I will be glad to join with him in this resolution, which I understand that Senator Yosko is going to have ready by Monday, to place the hospitals in Allegheny County under the same group to be investigated and see why they always want to increase appropriations.

Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. Wagner. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Schuylkill join with Senator Yosko and I in a resolution to make a thorough study—I will not say investigation—a thorough study of the ten hospitals which are now carried by State-aid; that is, not by State-aid but to the entire expense of the State? Also, we will investigate the hospitals in Allegheny County at the same time. Will he join with me in a resolution of that type?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, the task of investigating all bills and all costs and all deficits in the hospitals in Pennsylvania would be a tremendous job. Now, we have just started legislation to establish a commission to determine the wisdom of all expenditures we are making, and determine valid ways in which we can cut them down and have more efficiency at all levels of State government. It would seem to me that instead of shooting wildly around, hoping to hit somebody with a hospital resolution, if this Wade legislation is what I understand it is, and what I hope it is and what I am going to vote for, that area will be covered very comprehensively by that particular agency in its long range study, with an appropriation to look after it.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, inasmuch as your region has a special problem of ten surgical and medical hospitals that are completely financed by the State, will you join with me in a resolution suggesting to the Wade committee that special attention be made to make a study of their usefulness at this time, due to the fact that the miners have a health insurance, the steel workers up there have a health insurance; in fact, all the members who belong to unions in that neighborhood have a health insurance? So, therefore, the original act has outlived its usefulness, which was supposed to give free hospitalization, due to the fact there was no way for the poor miner to have it paid for at that time, no workmen's compensation.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I will join with the gentleman in a resolution to investigate the free service given in all hospitals for which the State gives compensation, providing the commission starts with the counties in alphabetical order, because Allegheny County, as I said awhile ago, gave $4,000,000 worth of hospital service in the last biennium which was not paid for, and I would like to pick up that first and then go on to whatever is left.

Now, Mr. President, I do not have any ten hospitals that are State-owned. I find there are three of those ten in my Senatorial District. The hospitals that I read off today, and which gave $4,000,000 worth of free service, are all in Allegheny County.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, there is quite a difference between the population of Allegheny and Schuylkill Counties. I am willing to go along with this in alphabetical order because they will have more experience when they get to Schuylkill, and do an even better job in Schuylkill than they can in Allegheny County, but, Mr. President, I think the gentleman should agree with me that there is no reason why Schuylkill County should be beneficiaries of hospitalization which does not exist in the sixty-seven other counties.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I would like to correct the gentleman. The ten State-owned hospitals which he refers to are scattered over the Commonwealth. We have three-tenths of them in Schuylkill County, and the instance which he talks about ought to prevail in Allegheny as well as Schuylkill, and the taxes which he talks about paying, relative amounts have nothing to do with the case. We are talking about people who can afford to pay their assessments.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, taking the population of Schuylkill by my figures here, and I will verify them later on, I find out with the number of free days given by the hospitals in Schuylkill County, that everybody who lives in the vicinity of that hospital must have received three free days, three free days in the hospital each biennium. I do not think if you would check the figures and the population of Allegheny County it would come anywhere near that, and, although I am not defending Allegheny County, if they have got too many free days, I am for helping you investigate Allegheny County as much as I am Schuylkill County, because I very personally believe that this is not a very good subject to talk about because people think you are against health measures, but, however, I do think that an investigation should be made. It should be made of the hospitals of the State of Pennsylvania to find out exactly how they are conducted, why they are always in the red because they always do end up in the red, and why is it that the members of their staffs today, and I do not begrudge them, they deserve it, are becoming the wealthiest class of the neighborhood in which they live because they are all specialists?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I hope to be through after this statement. I hold no particular brief for doctors. I do not have any in the "frien-schau-f," as they say in Lehigh County, but I think he is jumping to erroneous conclusions in two days.

First of all, Mr. President, there is no reason why a skilled surgeon should not live comfortably and be remunerated liberally even though patients whom he operates upon are not people of affluence. You might just as well say because all people on Public Assistance are people without incomes, therefore, all employees in the Public Assistance Department should work for nothing, and I do not think Mrs. Evans would like that or a lot of other people. In the second place, I do not think it is fair, and I say to the Senate as I tried to say to the newspapers, to create the impression in this great Commonwealth that there is something rotten in Denmark because hospitals operate with a deficit. I do not see how hospitals are ever going to do otherwise. It is a humanitarian service, and inevitably we will have to treat at great expense people who do not have the wherewithal to pay for it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, this is one time that I will try to live up to the title of doctor. These problems which are being now raised as the result of the question of expenditures and the "Little Hoover Committee" were anticipated two years ago by one of the Members of the Senate, under whom I am very proud to serve and whose amanuensis I am being considered, the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Doctor Chapman.

Mr. President, back in November of 1949, just before the internal fight in the Republican Party in connection with the approaching primary of the spring of 1950 Doctor Chapman, and The Honorable Norman Wood called upon the President of the University of Pennsylvania, Harold Stassen, and they brought to him this question: "Will the Institute of Local and State Government, which is part of the University of Pennsylvania, undertake a thorough study within the same scope as the "Little Hoover Committee," in order to ascertain not only the question of expenditures but fundamentals of this entire system?"

Mr. President, the day is not far off when we will have to delve also into the problem of the reorganization of the State government. True enough, the question of a constitutional assembly has been postponed, but eventually a constitutional convention will be held and at that time a thoroughly study will be in place about reorganizing the State government of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, at that time the President of the University of Pennsylvania said to Doctor Chapman and to Mr. Wood that the machinery of the Local and State Government Institute is at the disposal of the State. I do not know why this method has been postponed, but now is the time. The moment is at hand when a thorough study has to be made, not only about the economies but about the reorganization of the entire State machinery. This is a problem which is closely interwoven, and you are now going on a witch hunt which will yield nothing. We have to study fundamentals and I hope that this "Little Hoover Committee," or this Commission which is going to be created, will avail themselves of the scientific services of a thorough study of the Institute of Local and State Government of the University of Pennsylvania.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 916, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145) entitled as amended "An act empowering cities of the second class, boroughs, towns, townships of the first class, townships of the second class, school districts of the second class, school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy, assess, and collect or to provide for the levying, assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitations for general revenue purposes; authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employees to assess and collect such taxes; and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced; providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court," by further regulating the over-all limit of tax revenues.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

HOUSE BILL No. 1544 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Calendar House Bill No. 1544 for consideration at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1544, entitled:

An Act imposing a permanent and a temporary State tax on fuels used within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring dealer-users to secure licenses and to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees to file reports and to compile and retain certain records requiring registration of carriers for hire imposing duties on such persons requiring persons selling or delivering fuels to licensed dealer-users to furnish information imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on State officers and departments providing for refunds of taxes penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licensees and providing penalties.

The first, second and third sections were read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WOOD offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 4, page 12, line 3, by inserting after the word "within" the following "this Commonwealth within."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to, as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am about to call up for consideration on second reading the tax measures, and I wish to state for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate that by agreement on both sides of the aisle, it has been agreed that we will discuss the tax program in its entirety on second reading this afternoon, so as to curtail, as far as possible, any debate on the bills at our midnight session. This is done in the interest of saving time, and I want to express my very deep appreciation to the gentlemen of the Senate for their cooperation in doing the matter this way in order to save us the time at midnight.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in approaching the solution of the fiscal picture of the Commonwealth we are now into the twelfth month of the 1951 Session, and we have come at long last to a determination of the very trying matter that has precipitated more debate on the floor of this Senate than has any other subject in my tenure as a Member of this body. We have experienced considerable personal feeling from time to time among the Members of the Senate, and it has created trying situations between the House and the Senate; it has been the subject matter of newspaper comment; periodicals have discussed it, schools, colleges and universities have debated it, and a great many people who are fiscal experts have given their opinions on these matters. Here in the Senate, we have listened with a great deal of interest to various members of the Senate who have sincerely tried to solve this problem.

I have lived pretty close to this problem in the last eleven months, simply because of the position which I occupy here in the Senate as the Majority Floor Leader.

In presenting this tax program, covered in House Bills Nos. 1692, 1693, 1694, 1695 and 1697, I want to say very sincerely, Mr. President, I do not think any gentleman in the Senate will wholeheartedly and enthusiastically say that this program is a very fine tax program, that it solves all of the fiscal problems of the Commonwealth and that this is a program to which we will point with pride. That is not the situation, Mr. President. This tax program is a compromise program, and it is offered in the hope that it will solve the problem, at least for the balance of this biennium. I do not think there is a Member of this Senate who would not agree with me that come 1953 a permanent solution must be made to the tax program, and this with a full appreciation of our responsibilities created by the tremendously increasing cost of government.

When I first became a Member of the Senate, the General Fund Budget was in the neighborhood of $300,000,000. Back in March of 1951, when the Governor of the Commonwealth presented the budget to the Legislature and to the people of Pennsylvania, it called for an appropriation of $853,000,000. Subsequent to the filing of the budget, the Governor recommended additional appropriations which increased the required amount to $864,000,000 and, Mr. President, I might say here in passing that I am dealing only in round figures in order to expedite the discussion. The Members of the General Assembly, who frequently have appropriation problems of their own, introduced quite a number of appropriation bills. The House Appropriations Committee and the Senate Appropriations Committee went through these appropriation bills and tried to determine what bills, if any, they would approve, and what bills would be reported out on the floor of the House and Senate for action. The sum total of these bills was approximately $56,000,000, and so you can see that we find ourselves seeking out not the $853,000,000 recommended by the Governor in his original March budget, not the $864,000,000 which was the final administration recommendation, but $920,000,000 which, in the minds of the people who had gone over it, will be necessary to raise in order to meet all of the requested appropriations.

Included in this $920,000,000 is an item of approximately $37,000,000 for our school program. It becomes necessary, in every Session of the Legislature, for increased appropriations, in order to meet this responsibility, and no matter how far into the future the General Assembly planned in their earnest and sincere endeavor to solve this problem, we always found that Pennsylvania, in comparison to other states, ranked well below the top when it came to recognizing and remunerating the teachers of the State for the grand services which they were performing.

Now, under the mandate of the 1949 Session, it was necessary for the Governor to place in his budget an item of $20,000,000 to meet the increased salaries which the 1949 Session of the General Assembly had figuratively laid at his door step. On top of this, the Governor of the Commonwealth included a $20,000,000 item which he felt was due the teachers as increased increments because of the extreme rapid rise in the cost of living. House Bills Nos. 333 and 334 were presented to the Legislature, and in these bills an additional $37,000,000 was tagged onto the budget and tagged onto the appropriations, because they felt that this, too, was an item to which the teachers were entitled. These two bills passed the House and came to the Senate, and after very careful scrutiny by the Senate Education Committee, they were referred to the floor of the Senate for action, and those bills passed the Senate, Mr. President, with but one dissenting vote. As a result, we come up with the figure, as I earlier stated of $920,000,000, which is facing the General Assembly as the amount to be raised if we are going to solve this problem.

I do not think anyone in this Senate, and I do not say this in order to get personal, has suffered more over this than I have. I have tried desperately to arrive at a solution to this problem. I know, Mr. President, that nobody is going to have exclusively his or her own way in the determination of this fiscal picture. I know, for instance, Mr. President, that I do not agree, and I know a number of Members of the General Assembly do not agree, with the estimates which were prepared by Doctor Logan, the Budget Secretary and the Director of the Budget. I know that a number of us feel that Doctor Logan's estimates and anticipated revenues are too low, and we felt that if Doctor Logan would only increase his estimates to a certain point, that the budget could be balanced without additional taxes. Now, Mr. President, Doctor Logan and Otto Messner, the Secretary of Revenue, are charged with the responsibility of recommending to the Governor what in their opinion is the best estimate on anticipated revenues. They alone are responsible, in the final analysis, for the estimates which they give to the Chief Executive, and under the law the only estimates that the Chief Executive can take are the estimates furnished by these two Cabinet Officers who are answerable solely and directly to the Chief Executive. Now, Mr. President, the mere fact that I do not agree with their estimates does not prove conclusively that they are wrong. I am just as convinced that their estimates are low as they are convinced that my estimates are too high, and they refuse to increase their estimates above and beyond a certain point.

Mr. President, in the attempt by other people to sincerely solve this problem, we have the experience of the Pennsylvania Economy League, making an analysis and publishing a report. This report did not meet with the approval of the Budget Director, and, as a result, the Budget Director still said, "I will not accept the estimates furnished by the Economy League because I am solely responsible for this problem and I do not propose to accept estimates that in my opinion are wrong." The Governor, in a sincere attempt to solve this problem, appointed four of the major universities of the Commonwealth and asked them to give to him the benefit of their best recommendations. They made a sincere effort to comply with the Chief Executive's wishes, and under date of November 29, 1951, they presented a preliminary report, copies of which were delivered to the Members of the Senate, to the press, and to the 10,000,000 people of Pennsylvania.

In this report, Mr. President, they, too, did not agree with some of the conclusions arrived at by Doctor Logan. Now to give a brief analysis of the picture from the standpoint of those involved, all were perfectly willing to assume certain items as being tangible. They started out with the $754,000,000, which Doctor Logan had originally estimated, and Doctor Logan added to that figure the $19,000,000 which was created because of the surplus fund, making the total revenue available, according to the Budget Office, $773,000,000. The Economy League, of course, starting out with the $754,000,000 and the $19,000,000 from surplus, stated that, in their opinion, Doctor Logan had underestimated the anticipated revenues by $47,000,000 and, therefore, according to the League, there would be available for appropriation under the present setup, $820,000,000. The four colleges I just referred to, starting out with the same $754,000,000 and adding on the $19,000,000 from the surplus of the 1949-1951 Session, concluded that Doctor Logan has underestimated his revenues by twenty-two and one-half million dollars, so that in their opinion there was seven hundred ninety-five and one-half million dollars available for appropriation.

Mr. President, the Senate of Pennsylvania has tried desperately in the last two weeks to sincerely and unselfishly solve this problem. Private opinions were aired and then determinations were made. We came to the conclusion, Mr. President, that there was nothing left for us to do under the circumstances but to absorb into our own conscience any estimates that we as individuals had made. I have no more right to suggest to Dr. Logan that he takes my estimates or that he take the college estimates or the estimates of the Economy League than he has to anticipate that I would wholeheartedly take his. Therefore, we came to the conclusion that the estimates furnished to the Chief Executive by the Revenue Department and approved by the Budget Department were the estimates upon which we must predicate our determination if we are going to intelligently present to the Chief Executive a balanced budget that he can in good conscience and under his oath of office accept. Therefore, we accepted Dr. Logan's and Otto Messner's figures in starting out, to determine what our budget should be. Let me say again, at no time has anybody assumed, at least on this side of the aisle, that this is the ideal program that solves the problem. This, again, let me say, is a compromise presented with the hope that it will solve the problem for the balance of this biennium, and then under the Little Hoover Commission which will be set up in Senator Wade's bills, we will be able to solve the things which we are all sincerely trying to solve.

Mr. President, here on the Calendar today are a series of bills which are set up to produce, under the estimate of the Department of Revenue and the Budget Secretary, sufficient monies to balance the budget which can be given to the Chief Executive. On the other hand, it was decided by the Senate that we would review the requested appropriations and see if we could not cut out items which we felt could be dispensed with for the balance of this biennium, or items which we felt, perhaps, were slightly over-appropriated, in order to economize and tie together the two ends of this budget.

After days and nights of careful, sincere, serious work, we were able to cut from these requested appropriations approximately thirty millions of dollars. In these thirty millions of dollars we have taken out every cent which we felt we could deduct without seriously hampering the necessary functions of government.

There are items, for example, in House Bill No. 1421, which is the General Appropriation Bill, where individuals might feel that there are little items which could be cut, but when we approached these items, Mr. President, and when we discussed the matter with the people who were involved, we felt it would be dangerous to cut too close because of the safety factor involved. Therefore, gentlemen of the Senate, as you review the appropriations bills, and when you review the reductions which we have made in the requested appropriations, please keep in mind that while we appreciate the fact that in the individual mind there may be a desire to slash here or there in order to produce further economies, we have done what we, in our own opinion, feel is the best job we can do under the circumstances, and unhesitatingly we offer this program on that basis.

Mr. President, with reference to the tax bills themselves, I want to say to the gentleman of the Senate very sincerely that there are not any of these tax bills which do not hurt somebody somewhere. That is true of any tax that might be levied. For example, we have all had the experience when we would discuss a tax on the soft drink industry of having the soft drink industry show us where the taking of this pop from the mouths of little children was a terrible offense and should not be done. When we tried to tax the brewing industry, you will recall that the brewers were down here in force, showing us why and how it would be impossible for them to stand any additional taxes on their industry at this time, and when we talked about increasing the taxes on cigarettes, the tobacco people were down here to explain to us how they were carrying a very heavy tax load as it was and this might be the straw that would break the camel's back. We have all been importuned by big business, by corporations, coaxing, begging, pleading with us, not to increase the taxes on corporations because of the tremendous tax burden they are now undergoing, and so, in this program, there is not a bill which is presented for passage by this Senate which will not hurt somebody somewhere. We do not offer it with the idea that this is a panacea to cure all the fiscal evils of the Commonwealth. In the opinion of the Majority, this is the best tax program which we can devise from the items sent to us by the House.

Mr. President, we all appreciate the fact that all revenue producing measures must originate in the House and we are limited to what they send us. There is no doubt in my mind that if the fifty Members of the Senate could be the sole architects of the fiscal program, they would mold it nearer to their heart's desire. Therefore, Mr. President, we realize that this probably does not measure up to the high ideals which might be set by individual Members of this Senate, but as you review this program, please approach it not in the sense of criticism. We ask you to approach it with this idea in mind, that for eleven months we have labored in the almost vain attempt to remold a fiscal picture that has been as difficult as any that has ever confronted us. Part of that we have contributed to, and part of that was contributed to by all the people of Pennsylvania. Remember, a portion of this budget was created because the people of Pennsylvania approved a Constitutional Amendment which gave to the veterans of the Second World War a $500,000,000 bonus, which must be paid back by the taxpayers, and which is incorporated in the budget presented to us for solution. This has been a very difficult problem and I know that various Members of the Senate are not going to accept wholeheartedly the program that is being offered to them today, but again I say to the gentleman of the Senate, in all fairness to the problem involved, approach it not from the standpoint of criticism, but approach it with a sincere desire to cooperate with the people who are trying to solve this. It, in no sense of the word, can be classified as the best program which could be evolved, because you could resolve one which in your opinion would be a lot better. That we all know, and regardless of who the individual is, as I say, you would mold this thing so it would be a lot better if you were the sole determiner of the facts involved.

Mr. President, in light of the information that has been given to us, in the light of the bills that were furnished to the Senate by the House, in the light of the tremendous appropriations which confront us, we present this tax program to the gentlemen of the Senate and to the people of Pennsylvania. Whether or not we were right in our estimates, whether or not the Department of Revenue and the Budget Secretary were right in their estimates, or whether the Economy League or the college presidents were right, time alone will tell, and when this tax program is passed, when these appropriation bills which have been slashed to the amount of over thirty millions of dollars are presented to the Governor for final determination, I hope that all the Members of the Senate will fully appreciate that here our responsibility does not end. Here our responsibility begins, because we have the responsibility to start, the moment this Session adjourns sine die, to sincerely and unselfishly attempt to solve a very trying governmental problem. As has been said so repeatedly, the cost of government at all government levels is going up and up and up. If we are going to prove to the world that a representative form of government such as we have in this Republic is the finest form of government which man can devise, we must make it work efficiently, effectively and economically. That will be our charge in the 1953 Session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I know that I will probably be charged with being too consistent and I know also that there is a well known saying to the effect that consistency is the hobgoblin of small minds. I will probably be charged with having a small mind, because I am going to be consistent.

Mr. President, the statement just made by the Majority Leader could easily have been made in June, for on June 20 I made a radio address in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on a State-wide hookup in which I took a certain position on taxes and on the budget. From the remarks just made by the gentleman from Allegheny, I find myself wondering whether the opposition to the income tax started out because it was felt, as I understood it, on the part of the eleven on the other side that no new taxes were needed, that the budget could be balanced by the changing of estimates and by the curtailing of some expenditures. This group of twenty Democrats opposed the income tax, and at that time, if you will remember, over and above the enactment of a one per cent increase in the C.N.I. tax, the repeal of the so-called soda pop tax, we felt then, and I am willing to take the position again today, that the picture has not changed enough to warrant the passage at this time of approximately one hundred twelve more millions of dollars of new taxation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or approximately the amount needed to balance the so-called budget as of June 21. Remember that you are passing $112,000,000 of new taxes in spite of the fact that you are cutting the civilian defense $16,000,000. The Governor only asked for $119,000,000, as I understand it, back in June. The economies that are now being talked about and contained within this analysis that I received this afternoon are sufficient if added up, counting the civilian defense cut of sixteen odd millions of dollars, plus the additional revenues admitted by the Department of Revenue and Secretary Logan, and, with the additional passage at this time of perhaps three, a minimum of two and a maximum of three, of these acts before us to meet the added budget increases that this Legislature voted for.

Mr. President, I stated many many times upon the floor of the Senate and in the public press that if the Legislature added increases beyond the budget demands of the Governor, that it was our duty to pass the tax legislation to pay for those increases. Your Democratic Minority in the Senate assumes that responsibility and will vote for the taxes to meet those expenditures that we have voted for, but I will still stand upon the premise that the original budget was miscalculated. I still stand upon the premise that the original revenue estimates were miscalculated. There are two organizations or two agencies that have returned figures to the Governor, one independent of the administration, the so-called Economy League Report, and I notice that the figures that they give for the estimates on the return per cent of corporate net income revenue is based upon the figures that I used in my estimates as of June 21 of this year. I also noted that the College Presidents' Committee named by the Governor, agreed upon the same figures that I used back in June of this year. If these organizations, with their wealth of expert advice, the unlimited availability of sources of information, came up with the same information that I gave back in June, then I want to get a little more than passing credit for having given to the people of Pennsylvania an honest analysis of the budget back in June.

Mr. President, taking the very figures that have been estimated by both of these agencies and the figures of estimates that I have given time after time on behalf of the Democratic Minority, I find the following picture to be still true in Pennsylvania:

I find that we have available for expenditure in the General Fund approximately $826,000,000. There seems to be a bone of contention between the four estimating agencies, counting Doctor Logan as one, the Economy League as two, the College Presidents as three and the Democratic Minority as four. That appears to be the discrepancy or the difference, we will say, in the revenue to be derived from closing the loopholes in the C.N.I. Tax. The Governor's estimate, or rather Doctor Logan's estimate, is $5,000,000. The Economy League, for a basis of addition, uses the figure $15,000,000. However, in their breakdown analysis they use the figures of $4,000,000 to $40,000,000, which gives them quite a leeway. However, in making the proposition before the Senate I took the position that $25,000,000 could be raised by closing the loopholes in the C.N.I. Tax.

Mr. President, for purposes of giving additional security to the budget figures, I am willing to stake what little reputation I can command on the budget to say that if we close the loopholes by the passage of House Bill No. 1303 and signed by the Governor, which I understand is now Act No. 345, I will estimate that $20,000,000 will be collected before the end of this biennium from closing the loopholes in C.N.I., and I am going to say to the Members of the Senate right now that if proper administration were in force at this moment in the Department of Revenue, in the collection of C.N.I. you will receive twenty-five million more dollars at this moment which is being forgiven illegally and contrary to law. Let us set that $25,000,000 aside, because I have no method by which I can force the records and an examination of the administration of that particular act, and, therefore, must accept only those returns certified to us by the department. However, I will not retreat one cent from my original estimate of $50,000,000 per per cent of C.N.I., which gives us a total of $250,000,000, concurred in by the two estimating agencies, and which I believe is only $10,000,000 less than that estimated by Doctor Logan now, but which is $30,000,000 more than estimated by Doctor Logan back on March 18. Although he has increased his estimates by $20,000,000, remember that if he had not suggested that there was a discrepancy in the estimates and in the amount to be collected, that $20,000,000 would have ended up, the same as it has ended up in the past four bienniums, by becoming a surplus to be used and spent over and above necessary budget needs of the Commonwealth. By taking $30,000,000 from the one figure, and $15,000,000 additional from the other, and without taking into consideration the possible addition of from six to ten millions of dollars which can reasonably be expected from the liquor store profits and the increased liquor store tax, because of our principle in Pennsylvania of taxing upon Federal tax, it is a simple equation to show that the amount estimated in February or March can never be the amount that will be collected by June of 1953, in the face of a Federal tax upon which we, in turn, tax and put a markup, unless the State suddenly goes dry.

I take the position, Mr. President, of being very very liberal in my estimates this afternoon in the Administration's behalf, because I know we face a very practical problem. We, the Members of the Minority, have absolutely no control over the expenditures. We have no supervision over the budget, we have no method by which we can examine to see whether or not the estimates that we have made are collected or whether by manipulated administration we find ourselves behind the proverbial eight ball by being told two years from now that we did not know what we were talking about.

However, I still go back to the past four bienniums and can prove to the people of Pennsylvania by the figures contained in the budget, that my underestimation of figures in the last four bienniums prior to this were less than $40,000,000 of an underestimation of collection, and Doctor Logan's underestimation was $336,000,000. Those of you who stood upon the floor and argued for months and months and months, and kept this Session here until December, I understood argued from the viewpoint that no new moneys and no new taxes were needed to balance the budget as of June 21. If that were true and if you were, and I believe you were sincere in your opposition to increased taxes during these eleven months, then there is no necessity at this time for any new taxes except those taxes required because this Legislature has added certain numbers of millions of dollars to the budget over and above that which the Governor requested.

Upon that basis, Mr. President, the Democratic Minority feels that it is still upon sound ground and that its opposition to the income tax was based upon sound ground and upon sound logic. Yes, there were those who did not like the income tax on this side and on that side, but basically our opposition was because the amount of money to be raised by the income tax was far and above the amount needed to balance the budget, and we said then and we say now that we were on sound ground.

Now Mr. President, we are faced with the necessity, because not of the Governor's shortcomings but because of our own action, of raising between thirty-six and forty-three millions of dollars for the purpose of putting into effect the provisions of House Bill No. 333 and House Bill No. 334, known as the school subsidy and salary raiser bills. We are forced into the position of raising $10,000,000 because of the Governor's added increases requested and allowed by the General Assembly. We are forced, in all decency, to add another seven to eleven millions of dollars for cost of living increases to the State Police and to other employees of the Commonwealth who have not to date been taken care of because they do not work for special funds. Adding all of these things, we find that the most that this Legislature can be called upon to create in new revenues will be between sixty and sixty-three millions of dollars.

Mr. President, we take the position, the same as the gentleman from Allegheny takes, that we are not absolute. We, too, have prior to this erred, and will again err in our figures and in our judgments, and so, therefore, we are satisfied to give beyond that an additional ten per cent for an average to allow for any discrepancies that may occur between that which we estimate to come in and that which of a necessity is needed to continue the services of the Commonwealth. When we reduce or rather when the Republican Caucus reduces—and remember I want to say this not as a form of criticism but as a matter of fact, that we have not had the benefit of the so-called expert information that has been given to the Republican Caucus while we, the Democrats, sat idly by and waited for them to adjust their situation, and we have had to do this work with the facilities which we have at hand, namely the normal, common intelligence inherent in the twenty Members of the Democratic Caucus. We have had no experts, we have had no source of information other than the budget messages given us by the Governor and the daily newspapers which tried to keep up with the Caucuses, and, therefore, if we are in error it is an error of judgment and information, and not an error of the heart or intention.

Mr. President, we are trying to show to the people of Pennsylvania that our opposition to the income tax, which I estimated on behalf of the Democratic Caucus to raise $150,000,000 and every expert worth his salt will tell you it will, was far and beyond the needs of the Commonwealth. Therefore, if we are in Session today and if we are to take our share of the blame for being in Session, it is because we honestly felt then and feel now that by the addition of thirty odd millions of dollars to the C.N.I., by the passage of Act No. 345, which, in my opinion, will give a minimum of $20,000,000 if properly administered or if administered to seventy-five per cent of its efficiency, cutting the civilian defense $16,000,000, gives us $66,000,000 which can be applied to the budget as it was given to the Members of the Senate back on March 18.

Mr. President, these figures I am now quoting are not being used to determine the need as of the moment. They are being used to justify the position that we took that sufficient moneys were contained in the revenue bills to meet the budget as it was handed to us. We will stake our reputation upon that. We can feel that there has been an honest effort made. I have sometimes been criticized for the statements that I have made, but at no time have I ever made a statement that I did not believe in.

Mr. President, I said publicly in the month of September that if this Legislature passed House Bills No. 333 and 334, that they must of necessity pass the taxes to meet the provisions of these acts, and if they did not have an alternate program, the people of Pennsylvania would find themselves saddled with an income tax. Today you find the income tax is dead, but an alternate program is in effect. This program was discussed very thoroughly at a meeting held with the Governor, seven Members of the Democratic Caucus, and Members of the Republican Party, at a meeting held at the Hotel Hershey. At that time we designed what in my mind was a program which could be passed within the next thirty days by the General Assembly. Today the Majority Leader called it a compromise. All during these eleven months I have maintained that a compromise must be necessary. There are those, however, who would rather call it by another name. There are those who want to call it a deal. Call it what you will, it is still a compromise. When there are differences of opinion, you must compromise them because otherwise a stalemate will result, and in a stalemate everybody loses. I am happy to see that the Republican Majority has finally come to the conclusion which I long ago came to, that unless we could get the Budget Director to change his figures, the Governor was helpless in his estimates and in fairness to the Governor, I think that that ought to be told by the Majority Leader.

Mr. President, I fought all through this battle against the figures of Budget Director Logan. Whether or not he wants to stake his reputation upon his figures remains to be seen as the end result becomes known in 1953, as of June, but the weakness of the system is this. We meet again, or those of you who are here meet again, in 1953, in January. Under normal conditions, with the rush-act being put on, you are out of Harrisburg by the middle of May. The biennium has not ended. You are given a set of figures, you do not know until two years later what the total revenue of that biennium which you have just been in really amounts to, and yet if you will take fifteen minutes and go back through the biennial reports of this Commonwealth, you will find that at no time have the figures that have been given us by the Budget Director come within shooting distance of the actual revenues raised.

Now, Mr. President, we find ourselves in a peculiar position and the Majority Leader said it is because these funds are needed because of the mandated increases of approximately $20,000,000 to the schools, the mandated expenditures of approximately $60,000,000 to the veterans bonus and the mandated increases of approximately $12,000,000 to State-aided institutions. Now, that is old history. That was known to the gentlemen in March. It was known in May, June and July.

Mr. President, I said then, and I say now, that with the increased income of this Commonwealth and with the non-recurring items in the budget, there was no excuse at that time to ask for more revenue by means of new taxation. The $60,000,000 for the soldiers bonus was wiped out by a non-recurring $60,000,000 budget loss in the Department of Public Assistance, so the $60,000,000 needed for the bonus is leveled off with the $60,000,000 spent by Governor Duff for Assistance, not to be spent during this biennium. The $20,000,000 of mandated increases and the $20,000,000 additional increases asked for schools by the Governor—and you know that a great many persons here do not know that there is a direct relationship between the Governor's message and $40,000,000, and the passage of House Bills No. 333 and 334. That $40,000,000 was easily picked up by the difference between the income from the five per cent corporate net income tax as against your four per cent income tax. Even deducting the $27,000,000 that we lost because of the repeal of the soda pop tax, an additional $8,000,000 can be found very easily in the fact that during this biennium no recognition has been made of the approximately $8,000,000 that will be forthcoming to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania because of a change in Federal law, which allows Pennsylvania to receive from the Federal Government some $8,000,000 in blind and categorical relief commitments from the Federal Government, never heretofore available to us. Taking all of these things into the picture, there was no need then and there is no need now, especially in view of the reduction in civilian defense and the reduction in the total budget figure given us by Senator Walker in which he says it is approximately $31,000,000.

Now, Mr. President, lest it be misunderstood, we are giving sufficient money by our vote on this side, to the best of our knowledge, to do the following things:

To balance the original budget needs of the Commonwealth, to accept the Governor's appropriation bills in toto, less $16,000,000 of escrow money for civilian defense, and to cut no other department from any of its required needs as contained in the Governor's message.

Mr. President, I have here on page 4 an estimated cut of one million and a half dollars from Pennsylvania State College. Now, Mr. President, the Members of this Senate passed House Bills No. 333 and 334 for one sole purpose, in my opinion. We passed it because of the educational needs of the Commonwealth. Let us analyze the picture beside the political needs. Let us analyze the picture at Penn State, where with one straight cut with a pencil they have taken away one and a half million dollars.

Mr. President, Penn State received $11,000,000 the last biennium, but under an agreement Penn State had with the Veterans Administration, the veterans attending Penn State paid the out-of-State tuition which was approximately $235. This year, this biennium, Penn State stands to lose $2,300,000 because the veterans are no longer there, and their places have been taken by those citizens of Pennsylvania who are attending school at the regular Penn State tuition. If we allow, and every person knows we must allow, an additional appropriation for purposes of increasing the salaries of the faculty at Penn State, even with a fifteen per cent increase added to the total of seventeen per cent that has been received since the beginning of the war at Penn State by the faculty members, it will still come to a figure of $17,000,000. There was a cushion given them of $500,000 above that to take care of the anticipated increases in costs and materials and supplies. In all of the other universities, we are allowing for the increased salaries of faculty members, and yet at Penn State, the people's college of this Commonwealth, we are deliberately cutting from their budget an amount that, in my opinion, is needed to keep that school at the high standards we have built it to. There is no necessity for that cut, there is absolutely no necessity for that cut because, Mr. President, if we take the absolute figures of collectable items under the revenue program of this Commonwealth, and we take the absolute figures of the Governor's original budget message, we find that at the most there could be a discrepancy of $11,500,000 in the Governor's favor. I am giving that figure without taking one per cent of increase in all of the other tax items, and that is not sound. There ought to be an increase allowed, because look at this.

Mr. President, this is this morning's paper, this is in Philadelphia. The tax yield in Philadelphia shows a $10,242,000 rise over last year for general fund purposes, a $4,109,000 rise for school purposes and in each of the increases the percentage seems to run about the same. Is there any reason to doubt that we in Pennsylvania, in the rest of the State, will not have the same experience in the collection of our other taxes as what they are having in the city of Philadelphia? For an absolute minimum of income, and an absolute minimum of expenditure, we find that at the most there would be a discrepancy of approximately $11,500,000.

Now, Mr. President, let us take the amounts that the Legislature has added. The Legislature has added, say, $36,000,000, according to the figures that I received from that very capable Member of the Senate, Senator Henry Probert. He believes that House Bills No. 333 and 334 will cost us an additional $36,000,000, and after discussing the matter and reviewing it I think he is very very close to being right. Add to that the ten million odd dollars that we have granted the Governor by request, and we have a total of $46,000,000, plus $11,500,000 of a discrepancy between the income and outgoing, as I figure the problem, and we have a total of $57,500,000 of new revenues needed to meet the appropriations and the needs of the moment. However, if you add to that the approximate ten per cent increase in the salaries not already raised in the Commonwealth of approximately $7,000,000, you will find $64,500,000 of an absolute outside figure of new revenues that are required. We do not agree that advancing C.N.I. is a proper tax procedure, but in the face of the conditions we are working under, I believe that it would be the most feasible method to use to get the required revenue. One of the reasons very simply, Mr. President, is this. The opposition to the particular type of legislation, is very vocal, it is very strong, it has a great deal of influence in the Commonwealth and the chances of repeal in that particular field of taxation are much greater than the chances of repeal when isolated industries or businesses are picked upon to be taxed.

Mr. President, I have great hope for the so-called "Little Hoover Commission," although I am going to make this criticism when that bill comes up and I want it to be understood that it is not opposition to the study, but it is opposition to the method of study. If that Commission does the work, and reviews the record of this Session of the Legislature and studies the remarks made by the Majority and the Minority spokesmen, they will find that they have a green field in which to work. So, Mr. President, the Democratic Minority feels that it will vote at this time for the accelerated C.N.I. collection, which we estimate to bring in, on the basis of our figures, $63,000,000, the acceleration of Act No. 345, which closes the loopholes in C.N.I. and which are companion acts in my opinion, which will bring in approximately $5,000,000, and the passage of the inheritance tax increase, which, according to the figures given us, will bring in approximately $8,000,000. We find ourselves with a figure roughly of $63,000,000, plus $5,000,000 and $8,000,000 or $76,000,000. Needing $57,000,000, plus $7,000,000 or $64,000,000, and $5,000,000, it gives the Governor sufficient leeway to meet any emergencies that may come up because of a dropping off of revenue collections in any one of the many tax bills in this Commonwealth.

We take the position, Mr. President, that many months have gone by. We take the position that a great many of these months have been wasted. If the same attitude taken today would have been taken in June, this Session could have been over with in July. We have not changed our position. Our opposition to the income tax was two-fold. First, because at the time we felt that it was an inequitable tax and, second, because the revenue raised would not be needed.

Mr. President, I do believe that this program that we have advanced will cover the needs of the Commonwealth. No service need suffer, and economies that can be put into effect will create for us at the end of the biennium a surplus that can easily be between twenty and thirty millions of dollars. I want those figures recorded, because some of us may be back here to read them.

HOUSE BILL No. 1692 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Calendar House Bill No. 1692 for consideration at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1692, entitled:

An Act to reenact the title and to reenact and further amend the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" by further defining net income changing the due date of certain payments requiring additional reports and extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to make a few remarks, not necessarily about the tax bills, and not necessarily about the figures, but a little something about the confusion that has existed here in the Legislature and the reason for it.

I say, Mr. President, that this confusion and the differences of opinion that have been expressed by the Majority Leader and Minority Leader, the Economy League, the College Presidents and the Budget Bureau, are all the results of lack of courage on the part of this Legislature. I say that if we would have done early in the Session that which we should have done, perhaps now in the month of December we would have had some idea of the true financial condition of the Commonwealth, but because we failed in our duty, I do not believe any of us, as of right now, knows just how much money is needed to finance the obligations of the Commonwealth for the next two years.

Mr. President, the fact that there was a lack of a system to prepare budgets in the Commonwealth was recognized in the 1949 Session, because at that Session there was a resolution adopted calling for a survey of the accounting systems in the Commonwealth, and as a result of that resolution, the Joint State Government Commission began to make a survey. The Joint State Government Commission called upon one of the most competent groups we have in any State when it comes to accounting and when it comes to systems in government, and that was the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Pennsylvania. It worked here in Harrisburg for months. It made surveys of all of the departments, boards and commissions in the Commonwealth and it did the work sincerely and conscientiously. It prepared reports of its findings, it prepared reports of its recommendations, and if any Member of the Senate will go up into the Joint State Government Commission, there you will find a stock of reports prepared by that group about that high (indicating) and as a result of that survey the Joint State Government Commission made a recommendation and that recommendation was the establishment of a uniform system of accounting to be administered by an accountant general. Bills were drafted to comply with the recommendations, and what happened to the bills? There was a sub-committee appointed and it studied the problem, even visited the State of New Jersey to make a survey. The bills were finally reported out, and they appeared on the Calendar on Third Reading, but for some unknown reason they were recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. President, I was interested in those bills and I made some inquiries as to why they were recommitted to the Committee on State Government, and I was told that because Senator Diehm and Senator Propert were the sponsors of the bill or the series of bills, and they happened to oppose the income tax, the Governor said he would not approve the bills even though they were passed by the Legislature. Well, I am not going to get into any fight with the Governor, and Senator Diehm and Senator Propert, but I still say that it is the duty and the obligation of this Senate and of this Legislature to re-report those bills from committee and pass them here in the Senate, and pass them in the House, because if we do not, we are coming back here one year from now and we are going to experience the same confusion that now is before us.

Mr. President, I want to read just a little bit from one of the reports as compiled by the Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and this is the report on the Department of Revenue. This is the survey made on the Department of Revenue, and here are some overall criticisms that are made by the accountants that made the survey in this Department. They say:

"(1) It was pointed out previously that the Department acts as the bookkeeper for all revenues of the Commonwealth but is not actually responsible for the collection of all the receipts. The executive division of the Department collects corporation taxes, sells cigarette and stock transfer stamps, enforces the Escheat Laws of the Commonwealth and performs a multitude of other unrelated duties as well as supervises all the other Bureaus of the Department.

"This hodgepodge seems to be the result of the accumulation of duties over the years due to added types of revenues and expanded services of the Commonwealth without the reorganizations and system changes needed to keep pace with these developments. From the viewpoint of accounting system and audit, this condition is not desirable.

"(2) The financial statements of the Commonwealth seem to be entirely on a cash basis. Likewise, revenue estimates appear to be largely based upon cash receipts. The revenues receivable by the Commonwealth at all times are material in amount; yet they are not taken into consideration in the system and the existing financial statements make no provision for showing them. Similarly, liabilities in material amounts, as claims for the refund of taxes, are not accounted for until the actual refund is effected.

"(3) No effort is made by the Department to keep records showing equipment and inventories on hand and no physical inventories are ever taken. Such records might be kept by the Department of Property and Supplies, but they do not appear on the financial statements of the Commonwealth.

"(4) The general design of the accounting system does not stress the importance of separating the duties among the personnel so as to create the maximum degree of internal check. There exists not only numerous possibilities for ordinary error but also the possibilities of planned irregularities without adequate safeguards nor sufficient means of prompt detection.

"(5) We could find no evidence of manuals governing the accounting systems and procedure, without which it is difficult to see how there can be a satisfactory system of internal check

"(6) There was no evidence that the systems are under constant revision to meet changing conditions in accounting methods and technical advances in mechanical equipment.

"(7) There is no division of budgeting in the Department although the Comptrollers Office and staff tries to fill this gap. However, the type of statistical data assembled is insufficient for the purpose intended.

"(8) All bookkeeping for disbursements is by hand. Greater accuracy, speed and more information could be acquired by keeping the accounts on the punched card equipment.

"(9) The Department has no auditing division but relies almost entirely on the Auditor General for all such functions. From what we observed and were advised, the nature of the audit by the Department of the Auditor General has, to date, been of questionable value."

Mr. President, that is only a part of what was said about the Department of Revenue. I heard it said here this afternoon that the Secretary of Revenue and the Budget Director are the administrators that furnished the estimates to the Governor, and that the Governor must take those estimates. I can see, and I am sure you can see, why they are at variance, and I am sure you can see and I can see just why the Economy League, the College President, the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader differ with the estimates and the figures submitted by the Budget Bureau and the Department of Revenue. They have not the facilities over there, they have not the system over there, they have not the facilities in the Budget Bureau and they have not the system in the Budget Bureau to compile data that is essential to prepare a budget upon which this Legislature could properly act. I want to say at this time that I compliment the Institute of Certified Public Accountants for the fine job that was done, and I say that because, for the months they spent here, they did not charge one nickel to the Commonwealth, as I understand. They did the job gratis in the interest of efficiency here in the Commonwealth, and what do we do? We give them a slap in the face by turning down their recommendations for no good reason at all.

Mr. President, if you will take this report which cost a lot of money, a lot of time and a lot of effort, it is the Commonwealth Accounting Report of the Joint State Government Commission to the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, if you will read that report, and there are only a few pages to read—I do not want to take your time to read the detail that is in here, but it stated time and time again here that under the system that we have here in Pennsylvania, it is absolutely impossible to determine the true financial condition of the Commonwealth at any given time. So, with that in view, I say we ought to follow the recommendations of the Joint State Government Commission, get those bills out of committee and pass them, because if you do not, I repeat, the same confusion that now exists is going to continue, and when we come back here a year from now we will be here for another year because of the system that has not changed.

Mr. President, I heard something here this afternoon about Senators Wade's bill to create a Hoover Commission and, frankly, Members of the Senate, I do not think it is a step in the right direction. The step in the right direction as of this moment is to set up an accountant General and a uniform accounting system. If you really want to make a survey, a real survey of the system in force here in Pennsylvania, the thing to do is not set up this Hoover Commission but the thing to do is to employ Griffen-Hagen Incorporated. It is a firm from Chicago that specializes solely in making these surveys and recommending reorganization of State Governments. It will cost you less to hire them to do the job—and you will be sure the job is done—than it will by appropriating $100,000 to this Little Hoover Commission, which will come into the Commonwealth with this complex procedure here, come in cold, and it will take them six months to get their feet on the ground. Griffen-Hagen, Incorporated, has already reorganized to the best of my knowledge, twenty-three States of the United States, and it might be well before we go through with this to consult with them to find out just what services they could render here and for how much.

Mr. President, Senator Wade this afternoon amended his bill to set up this Hoover Commission, and he struck out "1955," and inserted "1953." Frankly, he was right in the first place, because no "Little Hoover Commission," coming in here cold, is going to start here in February or March and finish the job by the time the Legislature reconvenes in 1953. That is an impossibility. I tell you that now. It is an impossibility, and I will tell you what will happen when we reconvene next year. They will come before us and say the job is not done, but the money is spent and they will ask for an extension for two additional years, and another $100,000, and what have you got when it is all over? What have you got? Right now you have something. There was a study made. The report of that study is that high (indicating). It is up in the Joint State Government Commission. It was a good study, it was a thorough study, it was a recommendation that I am sure everybody in this Senate agrees with, but yet it is thrown in the waste basket. We are never going to solve our problems if we just dillydally around here. We have real issues to meet. Let us meet them, and the way to meet them is to grab the bull by the horns and do that which we ought to do and solve those problems that are presently confronting us.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE

FRIDAY, December 7, 1951.

The Senate met at 12:01 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

By Appointment of the PRESIDENT pro tempore:
The PRESIDING OFFICER (Fred P. Hare) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D.D., Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. Almighty God, Who dost neither slumber nor sleep, grant to these Senators and to all who labor here tonight the light of Thy presence and the sense of Thy nearness.

We pray for all who labor through the long night hours, for the policeman on his beat, and the fireman on the alert; for telephone operators, newspapermen and women, workmen in power plants, cleaning women in office buildings, and all others, unknown to us, through whose fidelity our lives are made safe and comfortable.

We pray especially for those in our Armed Forces who battle through the night and serve in lonely outposts. Grant that we may be as faithful in our duty as they are in their's; that our service may advance the Nation's good, as their's protects its liberties.

So bind us together this night in the brotherhood of service, in the name of Him who came not to be ministered unto but to minister and gave His life. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1676, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by empowering boards of school directors with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to alter the prescribed number hours and days of classes in certain emergencies for a limited period of time

Section 1 Article V of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding immediately after Section 520 a new section to read as follows

Section 520.1 Temporary Emergency Provisions (a) Whenever an emergency shall arise which the board of school directors of any school district in the performance of its duties could not anticipate or foresee and which emergency shall result in any such school district being unable to provide for the attendance of all pupils during the prescribed length of school days number of days per week or usual hours of classes it shall be found as a fact by the school directors of any school district and so recorded on the minutes of a regular or special meeting of such board and certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and such board of school directors subject to the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall have power to put into operation in such school district any one or more of the temporary provisions hereinafter provided for but in no event shall such temporary provisions remain in effect for a period of more than four years after they are first put into effect

(b) Subject to the foregoing provisions any board of school directors may

(1) Keep the schools of the district in session such days and number of days per week as they shall deem necessary or desirable but the provisions of this act requiring a minimum of one hundred eighty (180) session days as a school year shall not be affected thereby

(2) Reduce the length of time of daily instruction for various courses and classes

(c) Any school district by invoking the powers herein granted shall not thereby forfeit its right to reimbursement by the Commonwealth or other State-aid as otherwise provided for by this act

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1692, as follows:

An Act to reenact the title and to reenact and further amend the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net income of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" by further defining net income changing the due date of certain payments requiring additional reports and extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 449) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act

To provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties

Section 1 Short Title Be it enacted &c That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Corporate Net Income Tax Act"

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Corporation" A corporation having capital stock joint-stock association or limited partnership either organized under the laws of this Commonwealth the United States or any other state territory or foreign country or dependency and doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation The word "corporation" shall not include building and loan associations banks bank and trust companies national banks savings institutions trust companies title insurance companies beneficial life and limited life insurance companies mutual fire mutual casualty and mutual life insurance companies and foreign stock companies registered in this Commonwealth and therein engaged in doing business as life fire and casualty insurance companies and surety companies

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Net Income" 1 In case the entire business of the corporation is transacted within this Commonwealth net income for the calendar year or fiscal year as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government or in the case of a corporation participating in the filing of consolidated returns to the Federal Government the net income which would have been returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government if separate returns had been made to the Federal Government for the current and prior taxable years subject however to any correction thereof for fraud evasion or error as finally ascertained by the Federal Government. Provided That except as hereinafter otherwise provided additional deductions shall be allowed from net income on account of any Federal income or excess profits taxes paid after deducting therefrom an amount equivalent to any post-war refunds applicable to any such taxes during such calendar or fiscal year for the preceding calendar or fiscal year or accrued during such calendar or fiscal year for such year as the case may be and on account of any dividends received from any other corporation. And provided further That in the case of a corporation participating in the filing of consolidated Federal returns the additional deduction allowed from net income on account of any Federal income or excess profits taxes paid or accrued shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the total Federal income or excess profits taxes of the group after deducting therefrom an amount equivalent to any post-war refunds applicable to any such taxes as the net income of the corporation computed without a deduction for such Federal taxes bears to the sum of the net incomes of the several members of the group computed without a deduction for such Federal taxes. And provided further That on reports filed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-three or for any fiscal year beginning in such calendar year or any calendar or fiscal year thereafter no deduction shall be allowed for any Federal income or excess profits taxes whatsoever except the declared value excess profits tax. And provided further That on reports filed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-six or for any fiscal year beginning in such calendar year or any calendar or fiscal year thereafter no deduction shall be allowed for net operating losses sustained by the corporation during any other fiscal or calendar year nor shall any net operating loss sustained by the corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-six or during any fiscal year beginning in such calendar year or in any calendar or fiscal year thereafter be allowed as a deduction for any prior calendar or fiscal year. And provided further That in the case of stock life fire casualty and indemnity insurance companies doing business on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policyholders out of net income.

2 In case the entire business of any corporation other than a corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows:

(a) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth.

(b) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth.

(c) The remainder of such net income shall be divided into three equal parts:

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated.

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employees and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employees.

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business.

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules. If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule.

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wage salaries commissions or other compensation of employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth.

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth and except rentals and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth. If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state. In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the state of Pennsylvania but performed outside the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year. In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the state but performed in the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such portion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the state under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year.

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

3 In case the entire business of any corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as shall be attributed to business transacted within this Commonwealth by multiplying such net income by a fraction of which the numerator is the gross premiums received from business transacted within the Commonwealth as herein-after defined and of which the denominator is the amount of the gross premiums received from all its business "Gross Premiums" shall mean the amount of dues fees and premiums stated in the policy contracts and shall include gross premiums of every character and description received during the taxable year from all underwriting activities whether said premiums were received in money or in the form of notes credits or any other substitute for money less the following deductions

(a) All premiums returned on policies cancelled or not taken

(b) In the case of stock companies with participating features an additional deduction for that portion of the premiums returned to the policyholders

(c) In the case of life insurance companies an additional deduction for dividends declared and actually used by policyholders in payment of renewal premiums

"Gross premiums received from business transacted in the Commonwealth" shall mean gross premiums received from policies and annuities written on property or risks located or resident in this Commonwealth whether such premiums were collected in this Commonwealth or elsewhere

"Person" Every natural person association or corporation Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation shall be subject to and shall pay for the privilege of doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation a State excise tax at the rate of six per centum per annum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of six per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six a similar tax at the rate of ten per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of ten per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and a similar tax at the rate of seven per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one and one thousand nine hundred forty-two except when a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of seven per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one and one thousand nine hundred forty-two and a similar tax at the rate of four per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and one thousand nine hundred fifty except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of four per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and one thousand nine hundred fifty and a similar tax at the rate of five per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of five per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three

The tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provision of existing laws

Section 4 [Report] Reports and Payment of Tax (a) For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-four to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department [a] an annual report under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act Such report shall set forth

ernment of the annual net income arising or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portions of said return as the department may designate

[(b)] (2) If no return was filed with the Federal Government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and

[(c)] (3) Such other information as the department may require

The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

Every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable The amount of

(b) For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act for the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the thirtieth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-three to transmit in like form and manner an additional tentative report Such report shall set forth

(1) The annual net income received or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding and reported to the department under the provisions of this act or

(2) The net income received or accruing in the first three months of the current calendar or fiscal year together with such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government and had one been required or made

(3) Such other information as the department may require

(c) The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

(d) For the taxable years up to and including the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-two every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable For the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three every corporation upon the date its tentative report is required herein to be made shall pay on account of the tax due for the current year at its election (1) not less than two and one-half per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation last reported as received or accrued during an entire preceding year or of such multiple of the net income last reported for a portion of such year as the entire year bears to the portion of the year for which the net income had been reported or (2) not less than ten per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received or accrued during the first three months of the current calendar or fiscal year whichever is applicable The remaining portion of the tax due shall be paid upon the date of the corporation's annual report is required herein to be made

(e) The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until paid except that if the taxable income has been or is increased by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States interest shall be computed on the additional tax due from thirty days after the corporation receives notice of the change of income until paid Provided however

That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

(f) If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

(g) If any corporation closes its fiscal year not upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and reports to the Federal Governments as of such other date or would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government such corporation shall certify such fact to the Department of Revenue and shall make the annual report herein required within thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all other respects to the provisions of this act The tentative report required of such corporation shall be due not later than four months after the end of the next preceding year

(h) If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department shall not permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly any of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any annual report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed and in case the Federal income tax authorities at any time grant a longer extension of time for filing such reports with the Federal Government the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the annual report under this act of not more than thirty (30) days after the termination of the Federal extension but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to resettle such taxes Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(c) Where a report of change correction or redetermination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original annual report upon petition of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceeding as though it had been filed with [the] such original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary

(d) The provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to permit a resettlement based upon the allowance of any deduction on account of net operating losses sustained in other fiscal or calendar years that are not allowed as deductions under the definition of "Net Income" as contained in section two of this act

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and the right of resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or change as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approved by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the provisions of this act and the collection of for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 1 The title and all section of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 345) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing a property tax for a limited period of time on the net income derived from sources within the Commonwealth of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships exculding certain income proving for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" are hereby reenacted and amended to read as follows

An Act

To provide revenue for State purposes by imposing a property tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes derived from sources within the Commonwealth of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships excluding certain income providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the Corporation Income Tax Law"

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except when the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Corporation" A corporation having capital stock joint-stock association or limited partnership either organized under the law of this Commonwealth the United States or any other territory or foreign country or dependency and carrying on activities in this Commonwealth or owning property in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation The word "corporation" shall not include non-profit corporations building and loan associations banks bank and trust companies national banks saving institutions trust companies title insurance companies beneficial and limited life insurance companies mutual fire mutual casualty and insurance companies foreign stock companies registered in this Commonwealth and therein engaged in doing business as life fire and casualty insurance companies and foreign surety companies

"Department" The Department or Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Net Income" 1 Net income for the calendar year or fiscal year as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government or in the case of a corporation participating in the filing of consolidated returns to the Federal Government the net income which would have been returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government if separate returns had been made to the Federal Government for the current and prior taxable year subject however to any correction thereof for fraud evasion or error as finally ascertained by the Federal Government Provided That additional deductions shall be allowed from net income on account of any dividends received from any other corporation And provided further That no deduction shall be allowed for any Federal income or excess profits taxes whatsoever except the declared value excess profits tax And provided further That no deduction shall be allowed for net operating losses sustained by the corporation during any fiscal or calendar year And provided further That in the case of stock life fire casualty and indemnity insurance companies operating on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policyholders out or net income

2 In the case of corporations owning property or carrying on activities within and without this Commonwealth other than corporations carrying on activities as insurance or surety companies the net income of such corporations derived from sources within this Commonwealth for the fiscal or calendar year shall be determined by allocations and apportionments of net income as defined in clause one hereof made as follows

(a) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The resultant net income if any after allocation shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employees and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditure of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employees

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its property and activities

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from property and activities carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees to the extent of service rendered or worked performed in the Commonwealth and similar expenditures to employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from service rendered work and contracts performed an sales made in the Commonwealth and all other gross receipts except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth and except rentals and royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth. If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state. In the case of construction contracts negotiated effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year. In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the State but performed in the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the State that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year.

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commission or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth.

3 In case of corporations carrying on activities as insurance or surety companies within and without this Commonwealth the net income of such corporations derived from sources within this Commonwealth for the fiscal or calendar year shall be determined by multiplying net income as defined in clause one hereof by a fraction of which the numerator is the gross premiums received from activities carried on within the Commonwealth as hereinafter defined and of which the denominator is the amount of the gross premiums received from all its activities everywhere.

"Gross Premiums" shall mean the amount of dues fees and premiums stated in the policy contracts and shall include gross premiums of every character and description received during the taxable year from all underwriting activities whether said premiums were received in money or in form of notes credits or any other substitute for money less the following deductions:

(a) All premiums returned on policies cancelled or not taken.

(b) In the case of stock companies with participating features an additional deduction for that portion of the premiums returned to the policyholders.

(c) In case of life insurance companies an additional deduction for dividends declared and actually used by policyholders in payment of renewal premiums.

"Gross premiums received from activities carried on in the Commonwealth" shall mean gross premiums received from policies and annuities written on property or risks located or resident in this Commonwealth whether such premiums were collected in this Commonwealth or elsewhere "sources within this Commonwealth" includes tangible or intangible property located or having a situs in this Commonwealth regardless of whether carried on in intrastate interstate or foreign commerce.

"Carrying on activities" shall include every act power or privilege exercised or enjoyed in this Commonwealth as an incident to or by virtue of the powers and privileges acquired by the nature of the corporate organization.

"Person" Every natural person association or corporation. Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof.

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter.

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation carrying on activities in this Commonwealth or owning property in this Commonwealth by or in the same of itself or any person partnership jointstock association or corporation shall be subject to and shall pay a State property tax on net income derived from sources within this Commonwealth at the rate of five per centum per annum upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of five per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three and ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-four. Provided however That such net income shall not include income for any period for which the corporation is subject to taxation under the Corporate Net Income Tax Act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) as reenacted and amended according to or measured by net income.

Except as otherwise provided in this section the tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws.

Section 4 [Report] Reports and Payment of Tax (a) For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department [a] an annual report under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act. Such report shall set forth:

[(a)] (1) A true copy of its return to the Federal Government of the annual net income arising or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portion of said return as the department may designate.

[(b)] (2) If no return was filed with the Federal Government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and.

[(c)] (3) Such other information as the department may require.

[The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report.]

Every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable. The amount of all taxes imposed under the provision of this!

(b) For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act for the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the thirtieth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-three to transmit in like form and manner an additional tentative report. Such report shall set forth

(1) The annual net income received or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding and reported to the department under the provisions of this act or

(2) The net income received or accruing in the first three months of the current calendar or fiscal year together with such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been required or made

(3) Such other information as the department may require

(c) The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

(d) For the taxable years up to and including the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-two every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable. For the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three every corporation upon the date its tentative report is required herein to be made shall pay on account of the tax due for the current year at its election (1) not less than two and one-half per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation last reported as received or accrued during an entire preceding year or of such multiple of the net income last reported for a portion of such year as the entire year bears to the portion of the year for which the net income had been reported or (2) not less than ten per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received or accrued during the first three months of the current calendar or fiscal year whichever is applicable. The remaining portion of the tax due shall be paid upon the date the corporation's annual report is required herein to be made

(e) The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until paid except that if the taxable income has been or is increased by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States interest shall be computed on the additional tax due from thirty days after the corporation receives notice of the change of income until paid. Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court. If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

(f) If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

(g) If any corporation closes its fiscal year not upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and reports to the Federal Government as of such other date or would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government such corporation shall certify such fact to the Department of Revenue and shall make the annual report herein required within thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all respects to the provisions of this act. The tentative report required of such corporation shall be due not later than four months after the end of the next preceding fiscal year

(h) If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department shall not permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly any of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any annual report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed and in case the Federal income tax authorities at any time grant a longer extension of time for filing such reports with the Federal Government the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the annual report under this act of not more than thirty (30) days after the termination of the Federal extension but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States. In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to resettle such taxes. Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made. The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(c) Where a report of change correction or redetermination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original annual report upon petition of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceeding as though it had been filed with [the] such original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts continued in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter of thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have voted against all the new taxes that appear on the Calendar today. I still contend, as I did in the beginning of the Session, that if a little economy were practiced and the fat taken out of the budget and a fair estimate were made of the receipts that would be received from the present taxes, that no new taxes would be needed.

Mr. President, I want to again state that I am more convinced today that it would be very easy to cut the budget and if we had used the proper figures on the anticipated revenues, we could have gone home a long time ago without any new taxes, instead of staying here as we have for eleven months.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1708, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 312 and to repeal Section 313 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by providing representation on the board of directors of union and merged school districts go over in its order.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 837, entitled:

An Act making it unlawful to print or otherwise produce wall charts tip sheets scratch sheets bookmaking tickets or other items in furtherance of illegal gambling or to transport sell or possess the same and providing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no".

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

SENATE

MONDAY, December 10, 1951.

The Senate met at 3 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT H. STEPHENS, D. D., Pastor of The Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Almighty God, Author of Life, and Giver of all that makes life good, we thank Thee for keeping us living to this hour, for Thy protection on the highway, Thy watch-care while we slept, and for the full vigor of mind and body with which we come to this new week of work. Our lives are in Thy hands. Nothing can separate us from Thy love. Though we are often forgetful of Thee, Thou dost never forget us, and of Thy faithfulness there is no end.

So, amidst all the burden of duties, the weight of decisions, and the pressure of politics, help us to remember Thee and take courage. As this Commonwealth was founded in brotherly love, established in freedom and kept clean of prejudice, so may we serve in our day that there ideals may be preserved untarnished, that righteousness and good will may flourish, and Godliness abound, to the glory of Thy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have before me an editorial which appeared in the Pittsburgh Post Gazette as of this date, in regard to the monstrosity that this Senate passed last week. It is headed, "The Weapon of Shame."

"The State Senate's approval of legislation to require public posting of names of all relief clients is a prime example of good intention misdirected. In an attempt to eliminate chiselers—estimated at from one to three per cent of the total—from relief rolls, the Senate would also brandish the weapon of shame against the innocent majority. That procedure is wrong and it ought to be stopped.

"Judicious publicity would admittedly, help to rid the lists of chiselers. Since relief clients are supported by public funds, the Senate would be justified in passing a law making the lists available to any citizen wishing to confirm his suspicions of abuse. When abuses are uncovered, they ought to be fully publicized. That could aid in the removal of suspicion and thus strengthen the public assistance program.

"As we have pointed out before, there is no reason why a decent reserve in the publicizing of relief programs cannot be combined with a determination to bring to the public's attention instances of maladministration or fraud.

"But to require the posting of names of all clients in such public places as courthouses and city halls is a throw-back to the days of 'over the hill to the poorhouse.' It certainly does not accord with that portion of the State's Public Assistance law stating that the chief purpose of public assistance is 'to encourage self-respect, self dependency, and the desire to be a good citizen and useful to society.'

"Critics of the Senate bill have raised this pertinent question: Who is going to feel the indignity most, the family trying against great odds to maintain a decent, self-respecting home life, or those who just naturally cheat and chisel?

"Experience in other states has shown that publicity has never deterred the conscienceless but it has worked hardship upon deserving people who would forego legitimate assistance rather than suffer an invasion of privacy.

"Kansas and Minnesota experimented with the publication of assistance rolls and abandoned it. The governors of New York New Jersey have announced that they will not use the 'weapon of shame.' They know that the real answer to the problem of relief chiseling is better administration rather than indiscriminate publicity. The State already has sufficient powers to deal with chiselers. It needs only sufficient personnel to do an adequate job of policing the program.

"Before this legislation goes farther, Assemblymen should recall the nature and purposes of public assistance and revise their law accordingly. Above all, they should temper their action with a decent regard for the sensibilities of unfortunates who find themselves in humiliating circumstances through no fault of their own."

I say to you, Mr. President, that I call upon the Governor of this great Commonwealth, in the event the Members of the House show the shortsightedness which was demonstrated here in the Senate, to veto this vicious piece of legislation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in presenting this resolution, I want to explain to the gentlemen of the Senate that on September 26, when we recessed, we recalled Senate Bill No. 668 from the Governor for the purpose of amendment in order to have it still in the possession of the Senate during the period of the recess.

Mr. President, the bill is the act designating the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth, and it has been on the Senate table since its recall from the Governor. I have before me a resolution returning it to the Governor without amendments, so that it will be presented to the Governor for action in the same form that it was when it passed the Senate forty-eight to nothing, and that is the purpose, in order to keep it active before the Governor.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

RETURNING TO THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL NO. 668 WITHOUT AMENDMENTS

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, December 10, 1951

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That Senate Bill No. 668, Printer's No. 357, entitled "An act to designate the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth as required by the Constitution, and to provide for the election and commissioning of judges, learned in the law, for the said districts," which was recalled from the Governor, September 27, 1951 be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, on November 20, 1951, this Commonwealth was greatly shocked by the tragic death of our friend, the Secretary of Highways, Ray F. Smock. I expected later on in the week to present, in the form of a resolution, a fitting tribute to Ray Smock, but so many have come to me in the past week or so asking that some fitting memorial be designated for our good friend, Ray Smock, that I thought I should wait no longer in presenting this resolution designating a certain portion of highway and bridge into Meadville as the Ray F. Smock Memorial Bridge and Highway.

Mr. President, this particular bridge and highway were very near and dear to Ray Smock's heart. For many years we have needed this bridge coming into Meadville, and he took great pride in seeing to it that it was initiated during his term of office.

Mr. President, I am very sorry, of course, that my good friend Ray, did not live to see the completion of this work, I feel that he would, of course, be the last one to want any type of memorial erected or dedicated to him, but inasmuch as I believe we should present one or designate a memorial for him, I feel that it should be something in Crawford County. He always said, when he was introduced, that he was a country boy from Greenwood Township, Crawford County. He loved Greenwood Township, he loved Crawford County, and we feel proud in Crawford County of having given him to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

RAY F. SMOCK MEMORIAL HIGHWAY AND BRIDGE

Mr. MAHANY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, December 10, 1951

The Honorable Ray F. Smock served the Commonwealth as its Secretary of Highways from March 21, 1946, until his death, November 20, 1951. His administration of the tremendous task of construction and maintenance of Pennsylvania's vast and intricate system of State highways merits the highest commendation and lasting recognition; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the portion of State highway from Conneaut Lake to Meadville, in Crawford County, known as U. S. Route No. 322, including the overhead bridge and viaduct leading into the City of Meadville, be designated as the Ray F. Smock Memorial Highway and Bridge; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall erect along said highway and bridge suitable tablets or markers to perpetuate this resolution.

SENATE BILL NO. 789 TAKEN FROM TABLE

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 431, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (c) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by increasing pensions for the blind and changing the provisions relating to eligibility therefor be placed on the Third Reading Postponed Calendar.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 837, on third reading, entitled:

An Act making it unlawful to print or otherwise produce wall charts tip sheets scratch sheets bookmaking tickets or other items in furtherance of illegal gambling or to transport sell or possess the same and providing penalties go over in its order.

Mr. President, for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate, I want to explain that certain amendments are being prepared to clarify the condition of the bill, at the request of some on the Majority side, regarding the publication of certain race information in newspapers of general circulation. For that reason, Mr. President, I request that the bill go over until tomorrow so that the amendments can be placed before the Senate for consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? the Chair hears none.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to make a few remarks with reference to Senate Bill No. 837.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, permit himself to be interrogated? I would like to ask one question.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOSKO. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Northampton if his remarks could be saved until tomorrow when the bill is before the Senate for action. At that time, Senator, the amendments that have been suggested will be before us for consideration also, and I thought perhaps they could be included in your remarks. If the gentleman can withhold his comments until the bill is before us for action, since it has already gone over in order, then we would have the benefit of them fresh in our minds when we are considering the bill.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I see no particular objection to it. The remarks I would make today and tomorrow would be the same whether the bill would be amended or not.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want the gentleman to understand I am not objecting to him making the remarks today. I was merely suggesting, in an orderly process, that the remarks be made on the bill when it is before us for third reading action.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, if that is the way you wish it, I will yield.

Mr. WALKER. Whichever way you want to handle it, Senator, is perfectly all right with me. I will take it today or tomorrow.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I will talk about it today.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I make this observation? I know Senator Yosko will not mind. In law school when they are teaching you the art of cross-examination, one of the things they urge upon you is do not ask that last question.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, when I introduced this bill, I had talked about racketeering in Pennsylvania and, in particular, I talked about the $30,000,000 that was being weaned from Pennsylvanians by those who operate the Treasury balance racket. I talked about Captain McElroy appearing before the Senate Crimes Investigating Committee when he testified concerning that racket and other rackets, and I included in my remarks the fact that I had prepared a bill to legalize horse racing in Pennsylvania, and that since I could not introduce the bill in the Senate, due to the fact that it was a revenue raising measure, I asked my colleague, Francis Bucchin, in the House, to introduce the bill.

Mr. President, I explained too, that the bill called for the construction of three race tracks by the General State Authority, one in the Philadelphia area, one in the Pittsburgh area and one in the Scranton Wilkes-Barre area, and I pointed out that under the bill the profits that would be realized from these race tracks would be applied toward the payment of the bonds that were floated for the soldiers' bonus. I pointed out, too, that I go to race tracks once in awhile, and that race tracks are operated by States surrounding Pennsylvania; the states of Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York and Massachusetts. I said at that time that I made a little survey concerning horse racing in the surrounding states. I pointed out that 15,829,983 people attended race tracks in the states surrounding Pennsylvania in 1950. I said that about $900,000,000 was wagered at those race tracks, that the taxes realized by those states amounted to about $60,000,000, and that in New York, $15,000,000, almost $16,000,000, of the taxes paid to that state were paid back to the local municipalities.

Mr. President, I pointed out, too, that when I went to these race tracks, I saw more Pennsylvania cars at those tracks than cars from any other State, and that convinced me that millions of Pennsylvania dollars were flowing into these other States. They were getting the benefit of our tax dollars, and in addition to that, the hotels and other business places that were patronized by the Pennsylvanians took in additional thousands or millions of dollars upon which a tax was collected for whatever the Pennsylvanians purchased or whatever they got for their tax dollars, because almost everything today has a tax on it.

Mr. President, I said then that if we did not want to legalize horse racing in Pennsylvania, in spite of the fact that it is legalized in every other State, in spite of the fact that we need money here very badly, then we ought to be lily-white and get rid of the racketeers and the race horsing business. One of the ways to help get rid of them was by that bill, and I introduced it that day, together with a resolution calling upon the State Police to organize a racket busting squad in Pennsylvania. I do not know of the State Police organizing a racket busting squad, and I know that the horse racing bill in the House was not passed.

Mr. President, the other day some of the newspapermen came to me and they said to me, "What about this Senate Bill No. 837?" I did not get it at the moment. I said, "What do you mean by Senate Bill No. 837?" "Why, it is your bill." I said, "Well, which bill is it? I have a lot of bills in." They said it is the bill which prohibits the printing or distribution of data that has anything to do with horse racing. So, I got a copy of the bill and took a look at it, and answered some questions that were asked of me.

Mr. President, I knew that this particular bill was in the Law and Order Committee, of which I am a member. So, I went to Senator Letzler and I said, "Senator, when was there a meeting called about this bill?" Don't misunderstand me for one minute, I am not talking against this bill. I am for this bill just as much now as I was the day I introduced it, but it seemed funny to me the way it was reported out. It seemed to me that there was some motive behind the way it was done, some particular reason behind it for the way it was done, because I know Senator Letzler, and I want to say for him that he is a high type person, a high type Member of this Senate. I have attended meetings of the Law and Order Committee with him, he is courteous, he is a gentleman, he is considerate, and I could not understand why Senator Letzler would report that bill out of committee without coming over to me, out of respect to me as a Member of the Senate, and say, "Senator, I am making a survey, a tour of the Senators on the Law and Order Committee, to find out whether or not they will report your bill out." I was not even consulted, they did not even ask me for my vote to report it out and I am a member of that committee. That is why I said to myself, "There is some motive for this thing," and I sat here and tried to figure out just what the motive was, what the reason behind it was.

Mr. President, I said to myself, "They are not trying to flatter me by reporting one of my bills out. I am a Democrat, and the bills introduced by Democrats and reported out you can count on the fingers of your two hands. Are they honoring me by reporting one of my bills out?" I said to myself, "They would not do that." I have a lot of better bills in than this one, because this bill, frankly, is not needed as badly now as it was the day it was introduced, because the Democratic Administration in Washington helped to take care of and reduce the number of racketeers. The Kefauver Committee conducted hearings all over the United States, and they uncovered racketeering that was going on and the Democratic Administration in Washington did something about it. It passed an Act that requires these racketeers and gamblers to register and take out a stamp to identify themselves. It forces them to maintain an up-to-date bookkeeping system of their activities, and as a result of the restrictions placed on the racketeers, racketeering has been, as of this date, reduced to a minimum. As a matter of fact, I read somewhere in one of the Pittsburgh papers where only fifty-one of them took out stamps in twenty-four counties in the western part of Pennsylvania, so that the need for this bill is not as great as it was before the Democratic Administration in Washington actually did something about this racketeering.

Mr. President, getting back to the flattery, I say again, I have better bills in committee than this one, and one of them deals with a subject that, frankly, I have talked about time and time again. As a matter of fact, I will go as far as to say that if it is for flattery purposes, and they want to do me a favor by reporting one of my bills out, I will make a deal with them. I will agree to send this bill back and get the other one out.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the word "deal" has been mentioned on the floor of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Your point of order is well taken.

Mr. WALKER. Senator Yosko, you mentioned the word "deal." You said you would make a "deal" with us, and I am rising on a point of order. We don't use that word on the floor of the Senate any longer.

Mr. YOSKO. I will make a bargain with you.

Mr. WALKER. That is better, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Northampton may proceed.

Mr. YOSKO. Seriously, Mr. President, I have a bill in that I am really interested in, and it has to do with the poor and unfortunate in our State.

Mr. President, a short time ago I went over to the Department of Health, and I went into the Tuberculosis Bureau over there and I made some—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a moment? The Chair has extended a lot of leniency on this, Senator Yosko. You asked for unanimous consent to discuss Senate Bill No. 837. Now, I understand you are on some of your better bills.

The Chair rules that you are out of order if you are discussing matters others than Senate Bill No. 837.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I went to the Health Department—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, will state his point of personal privilege.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am stating it.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. We are on today's Calendar.

There is nothing in order but today's Calendar. The gentleman is clearly out of order.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I have a right to talk about anything I want to talk about under personal privilege.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is nothing in order but the Calendar. We are now on the Calendar. You asked unanimous consent to discuss Senate Bill No. 837, and it was granted.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I asked unanimous consent to discuss the reasons why Senate Bill No. 837 was reported out, according to my own impressions, and I want to continue.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman is going far afield.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, are you invoking the gag rule here?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It is not the desire of the Chair to invoke the gag rule at any time. There is nothing in order but the Calendar.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may we be at ease?

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, after a little consultation here, I have decided that I will be more considerate of the Chair than the Chair has been of me, and for that reason I will postpone the balance of my remarks until such time as I shall select.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Northampton.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1708, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 312 and to repeal Section 313 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. ## RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a fifteen minute recess to permit a meeting of the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. STIEFEL. In connection with that motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a seconder to the motion?

Mr. KEPHART. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Senator Stiefel had the floor before the motion was seconded by Mr. Kephart.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion was made before. It must have a seconder.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the floor belonged to Mr. Stiefel. I say the chair was out of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel was not recognized.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia was recognized.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, is going to speak on the motion, does the gentleman have any objection to having the motion properly before the Senate in order to have it discussed?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the Chairman of the Committee on Local Government is not present here, and he gave us solemn assurance that until tomorrow morning there will be no meeting called. I do not believe, in fairness to that assurance and in the absence of the Chairman of the Committee on Local Government, that a meeting of this nature should be called now.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Stevenson this morning at about 9:30 told me that he could not be present during today's Session, due to the fact that he was going to Squire Boorse's funeral, and he asked me to conduct a meeting of the Local Government Committee sometime during the day. So I am asking that this meeting be called at the request of Senator Stevenson.

INTERROGATION

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, will state his point of order.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, the motion before the Senate is a motion for a recess and it is not debatable.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, Stiefel is not debating the motion. He is seeking information.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, may proceed.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I would like to ascertain from the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany, what is the urgency for this meeting, when you are fully aware of the fact that tomorrow at eight o'clock in the morning there will be another meeting? What is the urgency?

Mr. MAHANY. I have no answer to that, Mr. President. I am calling this meeting at the request of Senator Stevenson, who is the Chairman of the Committee. I believe that we have that right, and a recess is being asked to do that.

Mr. President, this is the first time since I have been in the Legislature, since 1943, that I have ever heard any remarks made by anybody on either side of the house relative to calling a recess for a meeting of a committee. I am astounded that this is being done at this time.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the reason why I am doing it at this time is because I do not want to see the Senate of Pennsylvania sinking to a low which has not been precedented.

Mr. President, there is a meeting called for tomorrow morning at eight o'clock, a meeting designated, an announcement was made and it is in the early hours in the morning. At eight o'clock in the morning there will be a meeting, and I want to know why at this moment there is such an urgency that the meeting is called during the recess?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on the motion.

Mr. STIEFEL. There is one more question, Mr. President. With your permission, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Crawford.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the Committee on Local Government is composed of a group of studious, diligent and assiduous Senators. I did not say insidious, I said assiduous. Maybe after the meeting I will say insidious.

Now, Mr. President, I know that the material on the backlog has been completely eliminated. There are only a few insignificant bills remaining on the agenda. I would like to inquire what is the magnitude of a bill that compels a meeting to be called at such an hour. I would like to know which bills will be placed on the agenda today.

Mr. MAHANY. I notice, Mr. President, that the good Senator Stiefel is a Member of that Committee, and by this time if he had not been making so much fuss he would have found out what we were going to talk about. I suggest that he let us get back there and present the bill in proper order as is always done.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, at the present time, speaking as one of fifty and not speaking as a Member of the Committee on Local Government, I am curious. I want to be prepared, I want to know what I should study before coming to that committee meeting.

Mr. President, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Now, what are the bills that will be considered by the committee today?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the bills that will be considered will be those that we will bring before the committee, and I refuse to answer any questions as to what bills we are going to consider. I believe that the gentleman is out of order in asking that question.

Mr. President, during my tenure in the Legislature since 1943, I have never yet heard any questions asked about what bills would be considered in a committee meeting to be called. If we can have this committee meeting, the bills that we are going to present and discuss will be discussed there, and we will get on with the business in the regular fashion.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, one of the reasons that I am so persistent is because I am very fond of Senator Stevenson. I mean it. When that Kephart opus was offered on the floor of the Senate last week, I was the first one to get up and say that this committee was going to be very circumspect and very cautious in discussing the bill. Now I have a notion, that this opus is going to be presented at this meeting, and I do not want any aspersions cast upon Senator Stevenson or any suspicion that he purposely was absent from Harrisburg in order to give an opportunity for the consideration of this bill, and for that reason I feel it is unfair to call a meeting for the consideration of this bill at this moment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, December 11, 1951, at 3 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. STIEFEL and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Bane,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Barr,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Silvert,
Barrett,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Byrne,	Lane,	Neff,	Yosko,
Dent,	Leader,	Rosenfeld,

NAYS—23

Berger,	Kephart,	Meade,	Walker,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Letzler,	Robinson,	Wolfe,
Crowe,	Mahany,	Snowden,	Wood,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Taylor,	Hare,
Freed,	McPherson, Jr.,	Wade,	Presiding Officer

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to recess?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, December 11, 1951, at 2 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be in order.

On the second motion to adjourn, the second consecutive motion to adjourn, the Chair rules the motion out of order because of a lack of intervening business between the two motions.

The question recurs. The motion now is to recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wanted to speak on the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion is not debatable. A motion to recess is not debatable.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to recess?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I move that the matter before the Senate be laid upon the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion is out of order. The roll call is all that is in order.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, the roll call has not been announced as yet, and a motion to table is in order until the announcement of the roll has been made.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The only thing before the Senate, Senator Neff, is the roll call.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman is out of order. The question of personal privilege does not take precedence over the roll call.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative as follows:

Berger,	Kephart,	Meade,	Walker,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Letzler,	Robinson,	Wolfe,
Crowe,	Mahany,	Snowden,	Wood,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Taylor,	Hare,
Freed,	McPherson, Jr.,	Wade,	Presiding Officer

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any corrections?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, how is the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, recorded as voting?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, is recorded as having voted "aye."

Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative as follows:

Bane,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Barr,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Silvert,
Barrett,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Byrne,	Lane,	Neff,	Yosko,
Dent,	Leader,	Rosenfeld,

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, other business having intervened, I now move that this Senate do adjourn—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is nothing in order but the announcement of the roll call.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The vote on the motion to recess: ayes 23, nays 19, and the motion is carried.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STIEFEL and Mr. LANE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Berger,	Kephart,	Meade,	Walker,
Elass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Chapman,	Letzler,	Robinson,	Wolfe,
Crowe,	Mahany,	Snowden,	Wood,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Taylor,	Hare,
Freed,	McPherson, Jr.,	Wade,	Presiding Officer

NAYS—19

Bane,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Barr,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Silvert,
Barrett,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Byrne,	Lane,	Neff,	Yosko,
Dent,	Leader,	Rosenfeld,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 863, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 912) entitled "An act to regulate the drilling and abandoning of oil and gas wells and providing a penalty for violation of the provisions of this act" by requiring the approval of the Department of Mines authorizing injunctions and changing the dispositions of fines.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 897, entitled:

An Act to implement Article fourteen section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania providing for the election or appointment compensation terms and disposition of the duties of certain of the former County officers and employes in the City of Philadelphia abolishing other such former County officers boards and commissions and distributing their former duties specifying the former County employes who shall have a civil service status under the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter and upon what conditions exempting certain officers and employes from the civil service provisions of the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter imposing additional duties upon the Governor of the Commonwealth and upon the Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas the Judges of the Orphans' Court the Prothonotary the Board of Registration Commissioners and certain City officers departments boards and commissions of Philadelphia specifying how the number qualifications and compensation of employes who were not heretofore City employes but who were paid out of the City treasury shall be determined and providing that this act may be modified by amendment of the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter except in certain particulars.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING (By Request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 923, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (c) of Section 3 of the act, approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 359), entitled "A supplement to the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 299), entitled 'An act providing for the establishment in counties of the second class of the lot and block plan for the registration of land titles, for the accumulation of county tax liens, and for the enumeration of the parcels of real estate to be assessed for county, city, borough, township, school and institution district taxation; providing for the incurring of indebtedness for the installation thereof; and imposing duties upon the county controller and the deed registrar in each of such counties,' providing for the use in counties of the second class of the lot and block descriptive number in the making of assessments in the preparation of tax bills and tax receipts; in the filing of liens for delinquent taxes; and in the sale of real estate for taxes; and imposing duties upon certain county officials in second class counties; and upon treasurers, tax collectors and solicitors of cities, boroughs, towns, townships and school districts in said counties," by making certain editorial changes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

MOTION TO READ BILL FOR THE FIRST TIME

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill just reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I object to Senate Bill No. 897 being read for the first time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill appear on tomorrow's First Reading Calendar.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, there is a saying, "A minute of haste and a lifetime of regret," and I do not want the Senate of Pennsylvania to regret such hasty action on Senate Bill No. 897.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT SENATE BILL NO. 897

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I move now that Senate Bill No. 897, as amended, be referred back to the Committee on Local Government for further consideration.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 897 is not before us for consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The point of order is well taken.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, December 10, 1951

The House met at 4:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF DEATH OF MEMBER

The SPEAKER. The Chair announces with profound sorrow the death on Friday, December 7, 1951, of the Honorable Howard F. Boorse, representing the third district of the County of Montgomery.

As a mark of respect to the memory of our deceased Member, the Chair requests the Members to remain standing with bowed heads at the conclusion of the prayer until the gavel falls.

Prayer will be offered by the Chaplain.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God, we thank Thee for this day. Open our eyes that we may let none of its wonder pass unseen. Give us a courageous, positive interest in everything that happens around us. Help us to lay hold upon every opportunity to be of use this day, and then take from our hearts all vain regrets and all empty dreams of the future that we may follow Him Who went about day by day doing the good of that day, Jesus Christ our Lord.

Accept our prayer on behalf of the soul of Thy servant, Howard, and grant him an entrance into the land of light and joy, in the fellowship of Thy saints. Remember Thy servants who are now in sorrow, endue their souls with patience. Comfort them with a sense of Thy goodness. Lift up Thy countenance upon them and give them peace, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, October 2, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. To inquire what the last issue of the Journal happens to be.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inquire of the Chief Clerk.

For the information of the gentleman from Cambria, the Chair is informed by the Chief Clerk that the Journals are printed to date. The Chief Clerk has sent a messenger to bring to the rostrum the last copy of the Legislative Journal.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the Speaker if that is actually the case.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have made inquiry regarding the status of the Journal. I find that the latest issue available for the use of the Members is for July 16th last, No. 69.

We are Mr. Speaker, approaching the end of a hectic session, we hope. I suggest to the Speaker, and I suggest to the membership of this House the impropriety of adjourning a parliamentary body of record in the absence of a record; of placing ourselves in a position where the Members of this House are in no position to correct a record which may contain notations of vital interest to them.

The question is not just one of picayune importance. It lies at the very heart and root of parliamentary government. The record is the evidence of the integrity with which the membership of this House has served the public interest, and to submit for all time a record we have had no opportunity to correct is derogatory to all proper parliamentary practice.

The SPEAKER. The Chair concurs in the statement of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and wishes to inform the Members that he has used all available means to accomplish the printing of the Journals in final form and will continue to do so. The Chair appreciates the statement of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The Chair also wishes to acknowledge his misunderstanding of the information received from the Chief Clerk and previously given to the Members of the House.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1544:

An Act imposing a permanent and a temporary State tax on fuels used within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring dealer-users to secure licenses and to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees to file reports and to compile and retain certain records requiring registration of carriers for hire imposing duties on such persons requiring persons selling or delivering fuels to licensed dealer-users to furnish information imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on State officers and departments providing for refunds of taxes penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licensees and providing penalties.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 3, Page 8, line 15, by striking out at the beginning of the line the word "and" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "any".

Amend Section 4, Page 12, line 4, by inserting after line 3 the words "this commonwealth within".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I understand that House Bills 1544, 1692, 1693, in fact, that all of the tax bills will be referred to a Committee of Conference. I have been wondering as to just what line of reasoning led the majority leadership to reach that conclusion. Why the motion?

I have read certain remarks made in New York concerning this particular tax package. I have been wondering whether as a result of those remarks there have been any developments concerning which the membership as a whole was not acquainted.

I have read that these bills that we are now considering were termed by a very eminent person "foul tax offspring of compromise and expediency and an odious tax structure." I was just wondering whether this move was in any way designed to take the curse off of our laudable efforts, would you say — — — laudable efforts in this House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, not being a lawyer I would not know what the gentleman meant by that lawyer's language. Therefore, I cannot answer the gentleman's question to that extent.

As we know the Senate passed our tax package last week, regardless of what it was called, and the bills are now back in the House. All of these tax bills have been returned from the Senate with amendments. We intend to refer them to a Committee of Conference for consideration of the changes made by the Senate in the tax proposals previously passed by this House. The Committee of Conference is expected to report these bills back in form and substance satisfactory to both the House and the Senate, as to those matters on which we are not in agreement today. For the purpose of permitting this procedure we are non-concurring in all the amendments made by the Senate.

I might add, too, that there has been some talk in the papers that we in the House might be vindictive and will not accept the tax package that came back. I want to assure everyone that that does not enter into our thinking in any way whatsoever. We are putting them into Conference Committees only for the reasons that I have stated.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I understand then that the purpose of sending the bills back to Conference Committees is for the reconciliation of ideas regarding purely technical changes in the bills, and has no relation to any possible change in tax policy.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can assure the gentleman that he is right in that statement.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1544

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on said bill, Messrs. Hall, Johnson and Readinger.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

In the Senate, December 10, 1951.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 668, Printer's No. 357, entitled "An act to designate the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth as required by the Constitution, and to provide for the election and commissioning of judges, learned in the law, for the said districts," which was recalled from the Governor, September 27, 1951 be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 937.

An Act to amend Section 3 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 83) entitled "An act for the protection of public health by regulating the service of milk for drinking purposes to patrons of hotels restaurants lunch rooms fountains and dining cars and providing penalties" by permitting regulating and requiring a license for the purchase and sale of milk in bulk for use in certain automatic milk dispensing machines.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, line 6 by inserting after the word "permitting" the words "regulating and requiring a license for".

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 14, by striking out after the word "fountains" the words "nor shall it prevent or prohibit the purchase or sale of milk in bulk to be sold for drinking purposes from automatic milk dispensing machines which have been approved by the Department of Agriculture" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(b) Nothing in this act shall prevent or prohibit the purchase or sale of milk in bulk to be sold for drinking purposes from automatic milk dispensing machines which meet the following design and operation requirements

"(1) All parts of such dispensing machines with which milk or milk products come in contact shall be constructed in such manner as to be easily cleaned and shall be kept in good repair The manufacture packing transportation and handling of bulk milk containers shall be conducted in a sanitary manner

"(2) No surfaces with which milk or milk products come in contact shall while in use be accessible to manual contact

"(3) All parts of the dispensing device with which milk comes in contact shall be cleaned and sterilized at the milk plant

"(4) The dispensing device shall be filled and sealed with two seals at the milk plant in such manner as to make it impossible to withdraw any part of its contents without breaking one seal and impossible to introduce any substance without breaking the other

"(5) Sweet milk for drinking purposes served from such dispensing machines must be milk which has been homogenized

"(6) All such dispensing machines must be conspicuously labelled in a large print easily readable to the public to indicate the type milk or milk product being served from the dispenser

"(7) All such dispensing machines must be operated in the same room where milk is served to the public

"(8) Milk served from these dispensers must be served in a glass or container no smaller than eight ounces

"(9) No person shall be permitted to purchase or sell milk in bulk to be sold for drinking purposes from automatic milk dispensing machines unless he has first obtained a license from the Department of Agriculture Such licenses can be obtained upon application to the Department of Agriculture and payment of a license fee payable at the rate of five dollars ($5.00) for each dispensing machine covered by such license A copy of said license shall be attached at all times to each dispensing machine covered thereby

"(c) In addition to the penalties provided for in section two of this act the Department of Agriculture shall have the right to suspend or revoke the license provided for herein of any person who has violated any or all of the provisions of subsection (b) of this section"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a number of House measures to which the Senate has made amendments will be presented for concurrence on the part of the House. I have examined the amendments and the Chairman of the Majority Leader's Legal Committee, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, has examined them and our judgment is to concur. However, if any Member of the House has any question to ask concerning the amendments to any particular bill we wish it, of course, understood that he is privileged to make inquiry.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is the celebrated Musmanno bill. The distinguished Judge, in his moment of victory, issued a statement in which he said that "this measure would ring down the curfew on Communism in the state of Pennsylvania."

I have heard of ringing down the curtain, I have heard of ringing down a lot of things, but I never heard before of ringing down a curfew, and I want to say that if it is possible to ring down a curfew our mike can do it.

There is to be no Communist party because we are going to concur in this measure; it is not going to fall in Conference Committee. There is going to be no Communist party. There will be just as many communists floating around as there were before 642 became the law of the land.

What is going to become of them? Well, I think in my County the doggoned rascals are going to do this: I think there are about seven of them that could be rounded up, that have a possible radical history. Do you know what they are going to do, Mr. Speaker? I think they are going to preempt the name and organize the Musmanno party. You know that will be perfectly legal, and I think the idea will spread and we will have a Musmanno party manned by communists in every County in the state.

And, of course, our judicial giant will say he does not have anything to do with that party and the people will reply, "Well, he is just saying that because of his well-known modesty." Of course, ultimately the Musmanno party because of sadistic and communistic practices is outlawed, it will be perfectly possible and legal for them to organize a Fine party or a Duff party or a Lincoln party, and finally, Mr. Speaker, driven from pillar to post they will have to seek refuge somewhere, a spattered, bedraggled horde and there will not be anything left for them to do except to register as Republicans.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, it is unfortunate that the member who just spoke attempted to bring personalities into an issue.

This bill, however, not only outlaws the Communist party, but any other party whether it be by name, the Musmanno, Fine, Duff or Andrews party, that advocates the overthrow of the government by force or violence, and I can assure the gentleman that if they come to the Republican party, we will do our best to give them passports back to the country which they love so well.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest to the distinguished jurist and lawyer from Cameron that, being driven out of the Communist party for advocating force and violence, when they align themselves with the Musmanno party or the Tompkins or any other party, they will preach only those things publicly that are beautiful and lovely and it will be awfully hard even for such a distinguished scholar of the law as the gentleman from Cameron, to catch them in the act.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE

TUESDAY, December 11, 1951.

The Senate met at 4 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Robert H. Stephens, D. D., Pastor of the Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God Eternal, how solemn and wonderful it is to live under Thy constant eye, moving toward a vast eternity. In the stillness of the night Thou keepest watch over us; if we arise early Thou art awake, waiting to bless our morning prayer. In the middle of the day Thou art the Silent Watcher, the Ever Present Helper, as we struggle with life's problems and face its tasks. Thou hast set eternity in our hearts. Help us to work in these swiftly passing days as those made for a greater destiny, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

STUDENTS OF PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have a group of visitors in the gallery that I am happy to present to the Members of the Senate this afternoon. It consists of a class of sixteen members in Advanced Reporting, from the Department of Journalism at Pennsylvania State College, under the leadership of Professor Frederick B. Marbut, Professor of Journalism.

Mr. President, it is a pleasure for me to present this group of young reporters to the Senate and to the visitors here this afternoon.

The PRESIDENT. Will the guests of Senator Letzler please rise in place and take a bow?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROSENFELD ask and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I would like to state for the benefit of the Members of the Senate that there has been some confusion with regard to this hearing on the so-called Kephart Bill, and on Tuesday afternoon at 5:45, the announcement is made that there will be such a hearing tomorrow morning. Now, I know it is going to be rather difficult to inform all of the people who have signified their interest in what this measure proposes to do to get here at that time. I personally will do my best to get as many people here as possible, but I want it understood that I do not want, if this bill ever reaches the House and a clamor arises for a public hearing, to have it suggested that there was one already which took place in the Senate, and, therefore, another one is not needed.

Mr. President, I merely want to make that clear. We will do our best to get as many interested people here tomorrow as possible, but it may be very difficult to get a very representative group of people here at that time. However, we will do our best.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SNOWDEN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 927, entitled:

An Act relating to and regulating the contracts of incorporated towns; and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a bill which would increase the salaries of the members of the State Police. I have sponsored other such bills aimed at bettering the salaries and conditions under which the State Police work. Unfortunately, some of them have not had a great deal of success in this Session of the Legislature, but I am still hopeful that some of them will move.

Now, Mr. President, I think all Pennsylvanians will agree that one of the institutions of which we can be most proud is the Pennsylvania State Police Force. This organization is known throughout the United States as one of the best, if not the best, groups of its kind. Anyone who has read the newspapers in this Country in the past year or eighteen months knows that an underpaid police force can be worse sometimes than no police force at all.

Mr. President, one thing that we have to do in order to keep the State Police at the high level at which it has been maintained for years gone by, and at the level which has made it the organization of which we are all so proud, is to increase their salaries, their pensions, the per diem rate for service while they are away from their home base and that sort of thing. It is a fact that some men are, after twenty or twenty-five years of service, still privates and as we know their pensions are based upon their last year of salary. So, at this time, on behalf of Senator Dent, Senator Lane and myself, I am introducing this bill which would provide a flat increase in salaries for the State Police.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. McMENAMIN, DENT and LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 928, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 205 of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by fixing the compensation of members of the State Police Force.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. MAHANY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 929, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1531), entitled "An act requiring political subdivisions to file copies of building ordinances in the recorder's office; invalidating building ordinances heretofore adopted unless copies thereof are filed within a certain time; and imposing duties and conferring powers on recorders of deeds."

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 930, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1340), entitled "An act requiring political subdivisions to file copies of zoning ordinances, together with maps or plans indicating the area of zones of the political subdivision affected by such ordinances, in the recorder's office; invalidating zoning ordinances heretofore adopted unless copies thereof, together with maps, are filed within a certain time; and imposing duties and conferring powers on recorders of deeds."

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 27, known as the Loyalty Oath Bill, passed the Senate on March 28, and since that time I have not made one utterance about this bill. As you know, it has probably been the most publicized and the most controversial bill in this Session. So, I want to make a statement for the record.

Mr. President, although the Loyalty Oath Bill, of which I am the sponsor, has been discussed for many months in the newspapers, in lecture halls, on the radio, in universities and schools, I have not yet made any utterance on the subject here on the floor of the Senate. I have purposely refrained from speaking on the bill as I did not want, by any remarks of mine, to stifle or limit the maximum of comment or even criticism that might honestly arise from an open, free and aboveboard discussion of the proposed bill.

Lately, however, I have seen newspaper items and I have heard of incidents which show that there are many lies and distortions being circulated about the bill. There are many half-truths in circulation which do more than outright lies, but what disturbs me most is what is happening in some of our institutions of learning. Now, I do not mean to say that teachers and professors generally are opposed to the Loyalty Oath Bill, and I certainly would not want anyone to believe that I assume that university students en masse are opposed to this very necessary legislation, but I cannot let go unnoticed an incident which occurred at Temple University last Wednesday, and about which, Mr. President, you may have read in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and the Philadelphia Daily News on December 7, 1951.

Mr. President, I was invited on last Tuesday to address a group of students at Temple University and at the University of Pennsylvania I was unable to attend, but I happened to see Judge Musmanno in the Senate Chamber and I asked him if he would go to those conferences in my stead, and he agreed to do so.

Mr. President, I have a letter here from Judge Musmanno. It states:

"Dear Senator Pechan:

"Last week when I saw you in the Senate chamber you told me that you could not go to Philadelphia to participate in the debate scheduled at the Temple University and at the University of Pennsylvania, and you asked if I would take your place to uphold the merits of the Pechan Bill which was to be the subject of the debate.

"I promised I would take your place and I am sure that you are interested in knowing what happened.

"My opponent at both universities was Professor Byse. About 350 students were in the audience at the Temple University and some 400 students at the University of Pennsylvania. As it turned out, I debated not with one person but 351 at the Temple University and about 401 at the University of Pennsylvania.

"I did not mind this at all and in fact I am glad I had the opportunity to clarify certain features of the bill which very obviously has been misrepresented. The misrepresentations and distortions that have been circulated on this bill are appalling, and the amount of ignorance that still beclouds the issue is disconcerting.

"But what disconcerted me most of all was an incident which I believe you should know about. During the course of the debate at the Temple University I noted in the audience a young man wearing the uniform of the R.O.T.C. Some of the reactions of the audience I thought were rather disrespectful to the uniform of the United States, and so I said: 'Your attitude is not very respectful to the uniform of the United States being worn by one of your student body here. And although I do not know this lad I wish to express my regret that he is being subjected to remarks which must be embarrassing to him.'

"At the end of the debate the students asked questions. The R.O.T.C. lad stood up and addressed me. He said: 'You referred to me in your speech and I want you to know that I am opposed to the loyalty oath.'

"I replied: 'But, young man, you have already taken an oath of loyalty to the government, haven't you?'

"And then the following colloquy occurred:

"R.O.T.C. STUDENT: I do not need to be loyal to the government of the United States or to the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, if I am loyal to the people.

"MUSMANNO: I am amazed at your statement—

"R.O.T.C. STUDENT: Loyalty isn't limited to our own government. There may be a number of nations to which I should like to show loyalty.

"MUSMANNO: Do I understand you to say you are not loyal to the government of the United States?

"R.O.T.C. STUDENT: I would not be loyal to the government if I should think it is wrong. My loyalty is to the people.

"MUSMANNO: But the government represents the people. This is a democracy in which the people elects its government.

"R.O.T.C. STUDENT: I am not loyal to the government but to the people.

"MUSMANNO: By your statement you presume to put yourself above the government of the United States and the government of Pennsylvania, and you thus disgrace the uniform you wear. Shame on you!

"While the above is not a stenographic account of the exchange it represents substantially what occurred because I made my notes of the dialogue about 20 minutes after it happened.

"When I see you in Harrisburg, I will relate further detail's.

"I want to congratulate you on the splendid work you are doing in connection with this much-needed legislation, and with regards, I am

"Yours sincerely,

"/s/ Michael A. Musmanno"

Then, Mr. President, there is the incident which occurred at the Pennsylvania College for Women in Western Pennsylvania. At a class in political science, just before the Thanksgiving holiday, the professor was discussing the Pechan Loyalty Oath Bill with his class and he concluded his remarks this way: "I would like to get an expression from this class as to how you feel about the loyalty oath. You will be going home for Thanksgiving in a day or two, so I would like to have a vote before you go as to whether you are in favor of this bill or against it. I want you to vote before you go home because otherwise you might be influenced by your parents."

What kind of education is being taught in a school which fears the influence of the parents on the children? Since when has a college professor taken it upon himself to ask his students to ignore the Fourth Commandment, "To Honor Thy Father and Mother?"

Mr. President, there is another incident. Now I have a letter here from a student at Penn State. The fellow who wrote this letter to me happens to be a member of the Board of Education with me in my home town, and is a teller in our local bank. He said:

"Senator A. R. Pechan
"Pechan Building
"Ford City, Pa.

"Re: Jack Badura

"My dear Senator:

"Just received a letter from Jack at Penn State." Jack is his son at Penn State. "He is majoring in Speech and English. A paragraph from his letter might be of interest to you.

"I made another speech in my Speech Class, and I took my life in my hands on what I talked on. I know that Doctor Pechan would have been pleased because I defended his Loyalty Oath Bill. I didn't know what kind of a grade I would get, because of the feeling against the Bill up here. Well, believe it or not I got an 84 which is just about as good as anyone has ever done in Speech 200, believe me. The professor told me I was so convincing that he was almost persuaded himself—almost that is'.

"Sincerely,

"/s/ John P. Badura"

Of course, the student exaggerated when he said he was taking "his life in his hands" to defend the Pechan Bill, and he did not mean the phrase literally, but he used language which demonstrated quite clearly what was being taught in his schoolroom.

I have another letter here, from which I will read only one paragraph, and I will not divulge the name of the sender for obvious reasons. It begins:

"Congressman Pechan,
"State Capitol
"Harrisburg, Pa."

And then it goes on: "As a graduate student at the University of Pennsylvania, I am very much interested in your bill on loyalty oaths. I am writing a doctoral dissertation beside being an instructor in political science."

Mr. President, here is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania that thinks I am a congressman, and that Congress sits at Harrisburg! This university graduate teaches political science! Of course, I have received many letters indicating a very intelligent appreciation of what this bill intends to do, but I would say that generally the opponents have been more vociferous than the proponents, and consequently have confused in the minds of a large percentage of the people just what this bill intends to do.

Mr. President, this bill is not a criminal bill. It is a loyalty bill. It has nothing to do with criminal law. Therefore, the phrase "reasonable doubt" which appears in the bill is not to be confused with the reasonable doubt provision that criminal law talks about. This bill simply says that all those who are receiving money from the taxpayers or Pennsylvania should be loyal to the taxpayers, that is to say, to the form of government that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania represents. No one questions that a private employer may discharge an employee who is found aiding his competitor, giving him trade secrets and so forth. Why, therefore, should we question the right of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to discharge an employee who is giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

I hold here in my hand a copy of the "Teachers Union News," issue of October, 1951, and let us not get this confused with the Pennsylvania State Education Association. This "Teachers Union News" is published by the Teachers Union of Philadelphia, which has led the fight against this bill, I have a report that was handed to me by people who know exactly what they are. I will read this to you.

"The Teachers Union of Philadelphia, Local No. 556, United Public Workers, usually referred to as Philadelphia Teachers Union, has headquarters at 13M South Twenty-first Street, Philadelphia. It is an affiliate of United Public Workers, which is an independent union. It has one hundred ninety-seven members." Do not forget that figure. "Known officers are President, Francis P. Jennings, Carl Mackley Apartments, M and Bristol Streets, Philadelphia; Legislative Director, Esther Soler, 5243 Lebanon Avenue, Philadelphia; Financial Secretary, Bernard August, Carl Mackley Apartments, M and Bristol Streets, Philadelphia."

Now, Mr. President, to go on, "This is a leftwing union, expelled from the United Public Workers, C.I.O., in 1949 because of alleged communistic tendencies." I talked to Jim McDevitt yesterday at the bar of the Senate, and he told me that they were also expelled from the A. F. of L. Now, those one hundred ninety-seven members have spent at least $100,000 opposing this bill. I have a stack of literature that high (indicating) that these people have sent out. It consists of reprints, memoranda. They have contacted the 2,600 school districts in Pennsylvania. Where they got their money, I do not know, but these one hundred ninety-seven people certainly did not dig down in their pockets and pay this bill, and I do not want these people to be confused with the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Mr. President, the leading article in this "Teachers Union News" begins with this statement:

"On September 26, the Pennsylvania House of Representatives voted the Pechan-Kunzig Bill S.B. 27, through its second reading, by a scant constitutional majority of 15 votes. In an atmosphere of intimidation and violence, a gang of professional veterans . . . threatened representatives in loud, profane language."

What kind of language is that? Mr. President, I don't think that any Senator who either has served in the armed forces himself or has had a son or other dear relatives wear the uniform of the United States—I don't think any such Senator likes ex-soldiers to be referred to as "a gang of professional veterans."

Then this sheet goes on to urge its members to come to Harrisburg to "offset the VFW-Legion-Amvets gangup." Do you see any gang-up around here?

Mr. President, publications of this kind are doing incalculable harm to innocent schoolteachers who are loyal but who are being misled. Incidentally, let me interject by saying this, that deep down in my heart I believe that our teachers are ninety-nine per cent plus loyal to our American way of life, but it is that one per cent that does all the harm. The teachers are being led to believe that this legislation would curtail their freedom, that it would seriously infringe on their liberties as guaranteed by the bill of rights. This bill does not restrict free speech. Of course, it will punish the person who by speech urges the overthrow of our government by force and violence. Free speech was never intended to protect from harm the traitor who conspires to destroy our institutions, and by that the right of free speech itself. In human society there never was such a thing as absolutely unlimited free speech. No one, for instance, has the constitutional right to stand up in a crowded theater and cry out a false alarm of "fire." Nor does the right of free speech exempt from responsibility anyone who slanders his neighbor falsely. Even the right to own property carries with it certain limitations. One cannot erect on his own land an establishment which emits poison to the detriment and harm of his neighbor.

Many who oppose this bill say that by its provisions schoolteachers and other State employees may be stigmatized for life. They will not be stigmatized if they are innocent. No State employee or teacher will be endangered if he is loyal, any more than a citizen will be endangered by the laws of the land. In fact, this legislation will protect the reputation of the State employee more than criminal law generally protects the citizen if unjustly accused. Under this bill as now amended, no teacher or State employee will be subjected to adverse publicity, or publicity of any kind, until he has had an opportunity to be heard and has had the opportunity to appeal from any decision which might be made against him. The bill specifically provides that all hearings shall be private and all reports made shall be confidential.

Mr. President, one thing the opponents overlook telling the people is that there are disloyal people in Pennsylvania just as there are in other States, and this bill is aimed at the disloyal ones and not the loyal citizens. Under the bill's strict provisions, even the disloyal citizens are saved embarrassment and public criticism until all the evidence is in and an impartial tribunal passes upon the evidence.

This bill is necessary in these troublous times. We know that people working for the Federal Government have given away and bartered away state secrets and even the secret of the atom bomb. We just want to make sure that defense plans in Pennsylvania will not be sold or given to the enemy. I am sure, Mr. President, that we are defending the interests of the people when we seek to make our State secure from the conspirator, the traitor and those who are disloyal. The loyal will not be harmed, the true will not be molested.

Mr. President, I do not want my remarks to be misapprehended. I believe that the vast majority of the schoolteachers are for this bill, I believe that the vast majority of the students are for this bill. If I criticize some persons who are spreading half-truths and distortions, that does not mean I do not have faith in those who accept the bill for what it is intended. The concept in this bill is not new. The Federal Government has had a loyalty program in effect for many years, and under this loyalty program, traitors were exposed and dismissed from the government, and the Country has been made stronger.

If this legislation should impose some inconvenience, it is not too much to pay for the perpetuation of the American way of life. Freedom always means restraint of some kind, for freedom without regulation is simply chaos which leads to anarchy. Freedom to drive an automobile does not allow me to plough through stop signs or run down pedestrians.

Mr. President, those who are truly loyal do not mind any inconvenience so long as it works for the benefit of all the people. The soldiers at Valley Forge suffered many an inconvenience in order that America might live. I am sure, Mr. President, that we think as one in the protection of all these rights made sacred by the sacrifices of the patriots of this great land, but I think we also recognize the responsibility of removing from the "Freedom Train" those hitch-hikers who are planning its very destruction.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, when this bill was up for a vote on this floor, I voted against it and spoke against it, and I am mighty glad I did. I said then that this bill would do no good, it would not hurt a single communist, but it would create in our universities, in our schools and among our teachers, arguments and discussions and fighting and quarreling, and just what Senator Pechan said to you here now proves that.

Mr. President, this bill does no good, and I am sure that the Pittsburgh Press, the Pittsburgh Post Gazette and the Philadelphia Inquirer, within the last two weeks, have written the most powerful editorials that I have ever read against this bill. So, to keep harping that anybody who is against it is disloyal shows what a controversial thing this bill is. It does no good but points the finger of suspicion at every schoolteacher in Pennsylvania. As Senator Pechan just said here, he knows that ninety-nine per cent of the schoolteachers of this State are loyal, and every Senator on this floor knows the same. Then why force a bill through with bands and drums to point the finger of suspicion at every schoolteacher in Pennsylvania as though they were traitors or disloyal? That is a bad thing to do.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I was one of the six

Senators who voted against the Loyalty Oath Bill on March 28. Doctor Pechan has stated that he has not said a single word on the Senate floor since that time on behalf of the bill. I want to say that since March 28, I have not said a single word against the bill.

Mr. President, the impression that Senator Pechan seems to have is that this bill is opposed primarily by leftwingers. I want to say to you, Mr. President, that we have two papers in Philadelphia, neither one of which could ever be accused as leftwingers by either Republicans or Democrats. Since Senator Pechan has read into the record a number of voluminous letters, may I at this time read into the record an editorial printed in the Philadelphia Bulletin within the last week.

"Police State Proposal"

"Coming to a head when the Legislature convenes is the Pechan bill. It is usually called the Loyalty Oath Bill, but that is misleading, because the oath is a comparatively unimportant part of the proposal.

"Far more important is the fact that a teacher or public officer or employe could be forced to defend himself in a farcical trial against vague charges of disloyalty.

"The charges might not even be revealed. The superior officer, who conducts the trial, would not even be obliged to tell the accused what the charges were. This may be hard to believe, but that is what the Pechan bill says.

"In criminal trials the accuser must prove his charges beyond a reasonable doubt. The Pechan bill reverses this. It makes the defendant prove his innocence beyond a reasonable doubt. If he fails in this, he stands to lose his livelihood.

"The disloyalty for which one may be so punished is not defined. Some disloyal activities and associations are mentioned, but the bill provides that others, not mentioned, may be taken into account.

"In a proceeding in which the dice are so loaded against the accused, the charge might be disloyalty, but the motive of the accuser nothing more worthy than petty spite.

"There is deep irony in the fact that people who want to fight off the police state are so often willing to try to do it by police state methods. For the Pechan bill smells unmistakably of the police state."

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 9 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

By Appointment of the PRESIDENT pro tempore:

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE SENATE TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1404 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to House Bill No. 1404, recalled from the Governor, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949," by providing for the addition to the tax duplicates of school districts of the third and fourth class, of properties occupied during the fiscal year of the school district, in certain cases.

and has appointed Messrs. SOLLENBERGER, HELM and SEYLER, as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such a committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The message will be laid on the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair at this time calls the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (George N. Wade) in the Chair.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES IN RE. SENATE BILL NO. 27

The CHAIR cleared his table and laid before the Senate numerous petitions in re. Senate Bill No. 27, from members of the faculties of the colleges of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which were read by the Clerk and referred to the Committee on State Government.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

COMMISSION TO STUDY THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SCHOOL OF MEDICINE IN SCRANTON

Messrs. McMENAMIN, ROBINSON, CROWE and TOOLE, offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, December 11, 1951.

Whereas, the need for additional Medical School facilities in the State of Pennsylvania has long been recognized, and has been officially noticed by the Department of Welfare, and

Whereas, hinging upon availability of clinical facilities from the standpoint of sound medico-educational practices, medical schools should be located in heavily populated areas, and

Whereas, the Scranton metropolitan area is the next logical point for the establishment of an additional medical school since the County of Lackawanna has a population of 256,080; and the area within a 25 mile radius of Scranton (which includes the City of Wilkes-Barre and part of Luzerne County) has a population of over one-half million people; the area with a 50 mile radius of Scranton has a population of in excess of three quarters of a million people, and these areas are interlaced and connected with Scranton by a network of modern highways, and

Whereas, Lackawanna County has the following existing hospital facilities which could be integrated with a Medical school:

(1) Ten general medical-surgical hospitals, one mental hospital, one children's and maternity hospital, one TB sanitarium, one hospital for contagious diseases and several small private specialized hospitals with a total of more than 2800 hospital beds, of which more than 1100 beds are located in the general hospitals; this is a greater number of general hospitals and beds than in any other area in the State outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

(2) Five of the general hospitals are certified by the State Board of Nurse Examiners and maintain nurse's training schools.

(3) All of the Lackawanna County general hospitals maintain the basic services (Internal Medicine, Surgery, Obstetrics) set by the American Hospital Association).

Whereas, Scranton is located in the heart of highly industrialized and mining area, advantageous from a geographical standpoint since it is located 142 miles from New York, 121 miles from Philadelphia and is on a direct airline route to State College, Pa., and

Whereas, the Scranton Metropolitan area is thus ideally suitable for the establishment of a new medical school in Pennsylvania,

Now therefore be it resolved (if the House concurs) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania constitute and appoint a commission consisting of three Senators to be appointed by the President pro-tem and three State Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House for the purpose of preparing a study of the feasibility of the establishment of a School of Medicine in Scranton and submitting its report to the Regular Session of the General Assembly in 1953 together with legislation for the implementation of its recommendation.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of the resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 925, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 501 of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," by changing fees for hunters' licenses and tags for antlerless deer and compensation for issuing same; and providing for issuance by county treasurers only.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes, to permit a meeting of the Committee on Reapportionment.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LETZLER, from the Committee on Reapportionment, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 871, entitled:

An Act to apportion the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into Congressional Districts.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes, to permit a meeting of the Committee on State Government.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 548, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and limiting the amount thereof available for administrative expenses The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of eighty-five million dollars ($85,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses as provided by the Public Assistance Law and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Department of Public Assistance for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Section 2 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time for the several assistance programs (old age assistance aid to dependent children pensions for the blind general assistance and other programs provided by the Public Assistance Law) for administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance for such administrative expenses incurred by the department which are chargeable to such boards and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department

Section 3 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act quarterly allocations shall be made to the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department respectively in such amounts as may be deemed necessary to pay the administrative expenses of such departments in auditing and disbursing appropriations for or relating to public assistance including any Federal sums supplementing such appropriations In the case of the Department of the Auditor General said allocations shall be made by the Governor President pro tempore of the Senate Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Auditor General or a majority thereof and in the case of allocations made to the Treasury Department such allocations shall be made by the Governor President pro tempore of the Senate Speaker of the House of Representatives and the State Treasurer or a majority thereof

Section 4 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time to provide necessary medical dental and surgical care for children as provided in the act of July 5 1947 (P. L. 1301) Provided however That during the biennium beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one not more than one million dollars ($1,000,000) shall be spent by the Department of Public Assistance to provide such necessary medical dental or surgical care Provided however That if the receipt of Federal funds is delayed during the month of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses as provided by the Public Assistance Law there is hereby appropriated out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act sufficient moneys to meet the deficiency caused by the delay in the receipt of Federal funds

Section 5 The amounts expended from time to time for administrative expenses out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act shall at no time exceed seven and one-half per cent of the total amount expended for all purposes

For the purposes of this section "administrative expenses" shall include (1) administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance (2) administrative expenses incurred by the Department of Public Assistance which are chargeable to county boards (3) attorneys' fees and court costs and (4) administrative expenses of the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 551, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Labor and Industry for the payment of additional workmen's compensation in cases of second injuries

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of twenty-three thousand dollars ($23,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Labor and Industry for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one for the payment of additional workmen's compensation payable by the Commonwealth in cases of second injuries under the provisions of section three hundred six point one of the Workmen's Compensation Law as added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1186)

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I checked these appropriation bills today and I found that for the 1949-51 biennium, there was $100,000 appropriated for the purposes outlined in Senate Bill No. 551, and I checked to determine what the balance in the appropriation was as of November 30, and I found of the $100,000 that was appropriated for the last biennium, there was still a balance of $94,585.17 left from the $100,000 appropriation.

Mr. President, it seems to me that since this appropriation only calls for $23,000, unless I am mistaken, that the $94,000 balance in the last appropriation ought to be lapsed and a portion of it taken in the amount of $23,000 and applied for the purpose for this biennium, but I think it is a mistake to pass this bill under the circumstances that I outlined. I would suggest that the bill go over so we have a chance to look at it tomorrow.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Northampton, if he will notice in the 1949-51 biennium, the amount of $100,000 was appropriated and a very small amount of that was used during the biennial period, and in this present biennium there was set up in the budget an item of $100,000 for this same specific fund. This has been cut to $23,000 in this present bill, and the amount which was left over from the 1949-1951 biennium, Senator, automatically lapsed and became part of the surplus, and you will find in the revised budget an item of $19,000,000 which we utilized in the budget.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, you may say that it lapsed, but so far as the books are concerned it is still on the books with no lapse bill passed.

Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman from Allegheny that it is surplus because it is not used, but so far as the books are concerned it is still a part of it, it is still a part of the last appropriation.

Mr. WALKER. Well, Mr. President, for the gentleman's information, if he will consult any one of the fiscal officers, he will find that at the end of the biennial period, that is the 1949-1951 biennial period, at the end of that period,

Senator, you cannot requisition on the balance that is left in that fund. As a result, it automatically lapses and that is why it becomes necessary to produce this.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is always a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, are we to understand then that this sum, and others like it, automatically lapse and become part of the lapsed fund or surplus to be used in the next biennium at the discretion of the Senate or the Legislature?

Mr. WALKER. Funds like it, Senator, became lapsed and became a part of the surplus. The gentleman will recall that the estimated surplus, at the time the budget message was delivered, was, I think, ten million odd dollars, but just how much of that surplus should be lapsed could not properly be anticipated by the Budget Office at the time the budget message was delivered to the General Assembly.

Mr. DENT. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, is this appropriation considered a special fund appropriation or a regular fund appropriation?

Mr. WALKER. I am sorry, Mr. President, I did not understand the question.

Mr. DENT. Special funds do not need lapsed bills, but regular funds do.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, this certainly would come under the heading of a special fund and as the gentleman from Westmoreland has stated, special funds do not need a lapsed bill, but regular funds do. This is one of those items, and we are simply reappropriating $23,000 to keep the fund alive in case there is a claim.

Mr. DENT. At this time, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOSKO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. In your analysis of this particular appropriation, you stated that there appears to be $94,000 still in that particular fund.

Mr. YOSKO. According to the records of the Department, that is correct.

Mr. DENT. That is the point I wanted to clear up. If that is still on the records of the Department, it evidently has not been lapsed but is considered as a surplus.

May I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader further?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. As I understand it, Senator Walker, since that money appears as a surplus, that money cannot be used in this biennium but it will lay there, and I think it ought to be lapsed, and if lapse legislation is necessary, it ought to be introduced.

Mr. YOSKO. I think it ought to be investigated.

Mr. WALKER. I have no quarrel with you on that, but I would prefer if the gentleman used the term "checked" or "looked into." I do not like the word "investigate" at the moment.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I want to make the same observations for the record in regard to this bill. In the last biennium, there was appropriated $500,000 and the balance, as far as the records show, is still $500,000. No money has been used.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think the same explanation applies, and I have the same suggestion that perhaps it should be looked into.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of six hundred fifty thousand dollars ($650,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the State Public School Building Authority for the payment of costs and expenses incurred in the work of the Authority under the "State Public School Building Authority Act" approved July 5 1947 (P. L. 1217)

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I would like to note for the record that during the 1949-51 biennium, the budget shows $500,000 appropriated for the purpose outlined in Senate Bill No. 577, and according to the records of the Department, there is still a $500,000 balance in that fund.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think if the gentleman from Northampton will consult with, may I suggest, Senator Dent, since he is a member of the State Public School Building Authority, he will find that the balance in this particular account for the 1949-1951 biennium is because of the fact that some of the projects have not been completed, and therefor the fund was still active and has been earmarked for various projects.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am sorry that I did not have an opportunity to discuss this particular appropriation with my colleague from Northampton. If I had, he would have understood that this School Authority is a continuing operation, and these particular funds are earmarked for projects that are in progress.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 732, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs for the payment of certain moral claims providing for the hearing adjustment and paying of moral claims growing out of property damages to certain persons as a result of accidents occurring through negligence in the operation of airplanes of or under the control of the Pennsylvania National Guard

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of four thousand ($4000) dollars is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Military Affairs for the purpose of compensating any person for property damages and miscellaneous expenses where any property was damaged in accidents occurring through negligence in the operation of airplanes of or under the control of the Pennsylvania National Guard and where no insurance was carried by the Commonwealth on such airplanes and where such persons are otherwise barred by law from recovery against the Commonwealth

Section 2 Any such person who is in charge control custody or owner of such property that has been damaged as a result of accidents as provided in Section one of this act may present a claim for compensation to the Board of Finance and Revenue and for the purpose of hearing and adjusting such claims The Adjutant General of the Commonwealth shall become a member of said board with full power of a member thereof

Section 3 The Board of Finance and Revenue shall hear and determine all such claims and if in any case the board determines that such property damage was caused as a result of an accident occurring through negligence of the operator of the airplane of the Pennsylvania National Guard that no insurance was carried on such airplane by the Commonwealth that a moral claim exists against the Commonwealth for such damages and that such claim or claims are not adjustable or recoverable under existing law against the Commonwealth it shall make a finding to that effect and shall fix the sum which in its opinion will compensate any such person for such property loss and shall certify such findings to the Adjutant General

Any amount so fixed by the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be payable from the appropriation hereinbefore made by requisition of the Adjutant General in the manner provided by law and to each such requisition shall be attached the findings of the Board of Finance and Revenue

Section 4 The action of the Board of Finance and Revenue in allowing or disapproving a claim shall be final and there shall be no appeal therefrom but the board in its discretion may grant rehearings on any claim and make new findings in accordance with this act

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

SENATOR RUTH NAMED MINORITY WHIP

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, may I have unanimous consent to make a brief announcement.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia may proceed.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I have been instructed by the Democratic Caucus to announce that Senator Ruth is now the new Minority Whip in the Senate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have just learned now that I have been replaced as the Minority Whip in my absence, which reminds me of a story that I read in one of the Saturday evening papers, wherein a hunter in the Ligonier Mountains, last Friday, had brought down an eight point buck. During the bleeding and dying moments of that buck, it made a last minute stagger, and charged the hunter, caught him in the knees, and the hunter used the butt of his rifle and he subdued the buck and brought down his game.

Mr. President, despite the fact that I am replaced as Whip by those who I involved in certain charges, who are now licking their sore wounds and who in a weak defense are throwing daggers at me, it is common knowledge that I made those charges.

Mr. President, I decided with my family about two months ago that it was about time, after eighteen years of service, to quit public life and to enjoy what I may have left in life, my remaining days, but after today, after consultation with my family who are here, I have decided that I shall once again submit my name to the voting public next year, if my Maker permits me to live that long, and I trust those who I involved will do likewise, and the people shall vindicate us at the ballot box next year. I hold no malice in my heart toward anyone, I hate no one, I did what I thought was a public service and I performed my duties accordingly, so I have no ill feelings toward any of my colleagues for the action they have taken.

Mr. President, I could not, by any stretch of my imagination, have continued as Whip just as long as the gentleman from Westmoreland is Minority Floor Leader.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I merely ask your permission to make this brief announcement to the Members of the Senate, that I am still the Minority Floor Leader.

BILL ON SECOND READING, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1494, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the University of Pittsburgh for the general maintenance and operation of the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am presuming that we are now going to read House Bill No. 1494.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before offering my amendment I would like to make a brief statement.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this bill concerns the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic. Two years ago this Senate passed a bill transferring the Western Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute over to the University of Pittsburgh, and this was done mainly at the suggestion of the then Governor, James Duff. This Institute was built under the General State Authority and was completed in the year of 1940. At that time it had lain idle for perhaps a full year. The reason I mention this is because I know this Institution better, I think, than anyone in the Senate or anyone in the House, because my first speech, when I ran for the Senate of Pennsylvania was made on the steps of this Institution. As I say, it had lain idle for a year and had not been opened by the then Governor of the Commonwealth, Governor James. I promised the people of the Pittsburgh district that if I was elected to the Senate, I would do all that one person could possibly do to see that this Institution was opened and provided the services that it was constructed for. It is perhaps one of the few things that I can point to with pride that I did get accomplished in my first year in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, after that Institution was opened it was found that it was not doing what it was built for. This Institution was built mainly as a place to train and teach doctors who were at that time going to the University of Pittsburgh Medical School, and other doctors in the great Western Pennsylvania area, who had never devoted any time to the study of psychiatrics. It appeared then that under the guidance of the State, as many institutions are, that they could not get under their salary schedule the proper persons to really make this Institution the institution that it was built to be. I may add, and I say this very sincerely, the reason I am talking now is to acquaint the Members of both sides of the Senate here who do not know of the grand and great work that this place does.

Mr. President, since this Institution has been taken over by the University of Pittsburgh, at the behest of the Pennsylvania State Legislature, it has become a changed Institution. At the time the University of Pittsburgh trustees were entrusted with the operation of the Western Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute, there was in this Institution at that time one resident doctor. I am proud to say, Mr. President, that at the present time there are sixteen resident doctors at this Institution and there are thirty-three on the waiting list. This is the only psychiatric hospital in all the United States that has a full staff and where they have a waiting list. These men, when they are trained, go out to practice psychiatry. Well, I assure you that we do not need that many psychiatrists in western Pennsylvania, even though from the way we may act here in the Senate now and then you might think so, but these men are trained for service in the great mental institutions that we have, the many that we have built and have increased in size under the present building program of the General State Authority.

Mr. President, it is true that the Senate Appropriations Committee acted very wisely when they restored the appropriation to what it was in the original budget. The budget estimate, as submitted to us by Governor Fine, was $2,500,000, and in the House they cut the appropriation to $2,300,000. I am very happy that our Senate Appropriations Committee wisely put this back to two and one-half million dollars. I am not speaking tonight, although some may think I am, of this as a part of the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. President, this is not a part of the University of Pittsburgh, other than the Trustees of the University have been asked by the State of Pennsylvania to run this Institute and use it as a place to teach doctors and nurses in the hospital area in great western Pennsylvania. This hospital is located in the hospital center, in the city of Pittsburgh.

Now, Mr. President, the appropriation in this bill has increased from what it was the last biennium, that is true, but when this Institute was taken over by the State, the principals who are entrusted with running the business end of the University of Pittsburgh were asked by us in the Senate Appropriations Committee very factual questions as to how much they thought it would take to run this Institute for the biennium, which ended at the end of May of this year. They very honestly told us that they would be able to operate it at a figure of practically $1,000,000 per year, but that was due to the fact, Mr. President, that at that time they did not have the staff that they do now. I may again add at this time, if I might, that some of these very eminent physicians who are heading this Institute are not being paid out of this money that we appropriated. The University officials, the doctors in Pittsburgh and the civic-minded people have been able to go out and get enough funds to spend $150,000 per year over and above the appropriation for payment of the salaries of some of these very eminent men who now head this hospital. The director of the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic is the famous Doctor Brosin, who they secured from the city of Chicago at probably a great loss to their institutions, but a great gain to the State of Pennsylvania and western Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, they also secured the services of Doctor Spock. Now, I know everyone who is a father in the room, particularly of any young child, knows who Doctor Spock is, because I think two to three million copies of Doctor Spock's book on how to raise children have been sold already. Mr. President, he is in charge of what they call the Children's Psychiatric end of it. In other words, preventive psychiatry, because it has been proven that many of these cases if discovered in infancy—when I say infancy I do not mean as infants, I mean as a young boy or girl—they can be properly treated and cured. Doctor Spock also operates now with the Children's Hospital, which is diagonally across the street from the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic. Then they secured the services of the famous Doctor Merski, who heads their clinical research. I am sure any of you who know anything about psychiatry know who Doctor Merski is.

Now Mr. President, the University has in the past year made a great capital improvement in this Institution. They had when it was built no place to take care of their childrens' psychiatry. They have had to tear out one floor completely and remodel it at their expense, which is taken out of the general maintenance fund of the University of Pittsburgh. That is now ready to open, and we are fearful if we do not get the amount that I am asking for in my amendment, which is, so the Members of the Senate will know, an additional $700,000, that they will not be able to carry forward with their childrens program.

Again, Mr. President, through the help of the General State Authority, there is being built in the great hospital center in Pittsburgh a nurses' home, and when that nurses' home is completed, which will be not too far distant, eighty nurses who have had to be housed at this institute will be moved out and there will be eighty additional beds ready for occupancy in this clinic. Now, this clinic is entirely different than Mayview, or Woodville or Torrance or the many mental institutions that you and I know. It is strictly a clinic where they teach not only doctors but nurses, and where these doctors and nurses work on extraordinary cases and administer the newest types of medicine and the newest types of cures in psychiatrics. I only wish that I was a physician and could go more into detail, but I know that that might be a little boring to everyone, other than Doctor Chapman, who would not understand those terms. Even when those eighty nurses move to the new nurses home which is being built partly through the subscription of the people of Pittsburgh and partly by the General State Authority, they will not be able to open those floors and use them with this amount of money.

Mr. President, I say that here we are not saving money by not giving them the amount that they need to run the hospital. You know that the University, as are all universities at the present time, is rather strapped for money. Any money that we give for this institution cannot be used for any other service at the University of Pittsburgh. I feel that the State will save a vast amount of money. You know and I know that out at Mayview and at Woodville, in Pittsburgh, they have twenty-six hundred patients and they have six doctors, and one of them has to handle the administrative work. That means one doctor for each five hundred mental cases. Mr. President, I say that the reason they are not cured and that they are wards of the State and will continue to be wards of the State is that the doctors do not have the time, and it is a human impossibility for them to take care of that many people. Anyone who knows anything about medicine knows the care that must be given, almost individual care, to a mental patient because each and every one has their peculiar idiosyncrasies.

Mr. President, this as I say, now has sixteen residents who are ready now to go out each year, to be absorbed by the State of Pennsylvania, and to work in our various mental hospitals, and there are thirty-three on their waiting list, something that has never happened in any psychiatric hospital in any other place in the Country.

May I also add, Mr. President, that at present there are two of the residents at the psychiatric hospital who are working at Dixmont while a couple of the interns are down at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital learning the art of psychiatry. I think that you have to look forward over a period of time to realize that the State is making an investment from which it will not only get a financial return, but from a humane viewpoint we are helping people who have been mentally sick who can eventually be restored to society.

Mr. President, I do not like pork-barrel politics, particularly at this time of the Session, and I do not make these remarks with anything of that nature in my mind. I am sure that my colleagues from western Pennsylvania on both sides of the aisle will tell you of the great work that has been done. My hat is off to the officials of the University of Pittsburgh for being able to secure Doctor Brosin, Doctor Spock and Doctor Merski to take charge of the three branches of this institution.

Mr. President, I ask that before the gentlemen on both sides of the aisle vote on this amendment, that they give it every serious consideration. I may add also that at the last meeting of the Appropriations Committee, after the Republican Caucus was over and made their recommendations to the Appropriations Committee, we still save two and one-half million dollars more that evening, and I am positive that the money is in the "till."

Mr. BARR offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, Page 1, Line 2 and Page 2, Line 1, by striking out after the word "of" on Line 1, Page 1, the following: "two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "three million two hundred thousand dollars ($3,200,000)".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand there is a motion to adopt the amendment?

MOTION TO ADOPT THE AMENDMENT

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move the adoption of the amendment.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I deeply appreciate all of the very fine things that my friend and colleague, Senator Barr, has said about the Western Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute and Clinic. We all appreciate it and we are very proud of that institution and, of course, Senator Barr, Senator Fleming, and myself, being alumni of the University of Pittsburgh, are very proud of Pitt and the job that they are doing at this fine clinic.

Mr. President, I want to remind the gentleman from Allegheny that when the bill came over from the House it was cut to $2,300,000. It took a lot of stellar work but due to the grand cooperation of my colleagues on this side of the aisle, they very courteously and kindly, in appreciation of the very things Senator Barr mentioned here tonight, restored the cut so that it was back up to the budget figure of $2,500,000.

Now, Mr. President, there is no doubt in my mind that the trustees of the University of Pittsburgh, who are charged with the responsibility of operating this clinic, would be very happy to receive the additional moneys, but in turn I am so proud of their very efficient management that I feel confident that they will be able to discharge the responsibilities thrust upon them with $2,500,000. Therefore, I must very reluctantly say to the trustees that $2,500,000 will be the sum total which will be appropriated by the General Assembly for the operation of this psychiatric clinic for the balance of this biennium.

Mr. President, I may say, and I do not think it is violating any confidence, that we have discussed this matter with the officials from the University of Pittsburgh who are directly or indirectly charged with the responsibility of operating this very famous clinic, and I feel confident that they expressed satisfaction with the restoration of the appropriation to the figure which was found in the budget and which is now restored in the bill, and for that reason I must very reluctantly ask my colleagues to vote down the amendment.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, just one thing I would like to correct. I do not know who Senator Walker refers to when he said he had talked with the officials of the University of Pittsburgh, but I presume that it must have been sometime ago. I think that was probably before they had torn out this floor and set up this children's psychiatric wing, at a material cost to the University of Pittsburgh which did not cost the State one iota, and before they found that the nurses' home was able to get material to be completed and thereby provide eighty more beds. I say to you very seriously, and this I know, that these eighty beds will have to lie vacant, as many beds do in the various State mental hospitals, if the additional sum is not appropriated. I do not say they are going to close the doors, they are going to keep on doing the best job they can, but I say this, that if you give them this additional money, that the State of Pennsylvania will be paid off in dividends, not only in dollars but in people being returned to society in the next few years.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if I might take a leaf out of the book of reminiscences of my colleague from Westmoreland, as my father used to say when he took me out to the woodshed, this is going to hurt me as much as it does you. I sympathize with the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, and I assure him he has our sympathetic cooperation. I may say to him, so that he will understand, the two gentlemen I talked to happen to be present in the city of Harrisburg and happen to be present in the Capitol Building tonight. As a matter of fact, they are distinguished visitors in the Senate Chamber this evening. I am sure that if he consults with them, they will advise him that within the past week, upon the restoration of the cut, they expressed to me their very deep appreciation for the restoration that I have just enumerated here in the bill.

Therefore, again, Mr. President, I must ask my colleagues to vote down this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. STIEFEL, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Rosenfeld,
Barrett,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Byrne,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Silvert,

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, December 11, 1951

The House met at 11:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF DEATH OF MEMBER

The SPEAKER. The Chair announces with profound sorrow the death of the Honorable William J. Yester, representing the ninth district of the County of Allegheny.

As a mark of respect to the memory of our deceased Member, the Chair requests the Members to remain standing with bowed heads at the conclusion of prayer until the gavel falls.

Prayer will be offered by the Reverend Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, Rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's Germantown, Philadelphia, here today as guest of the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Almighty Governor of the Universe grant us the wisdom here on earth to govern the people as you would have us do. Help us to honestly, earnestly, and loyally use our political talents. Made in your Image may we be always vital, living examples of your good will for us here on earth. If there is evil in even one of us as we stand fully known in your presence drive this evil out of us that the state be not destroyed and our people ruined. If today even one in this responsible governing body contemplates deception, cowardly compromise of honest convictions, delaying selfish tactics, bribery or graft, voting to his own advantage for vested interests Lord save him and your people! destroy at once such evil within him! drive him penitentially to his knees! then in your great mercy permit him to rise and govern us well for you, Almighty God, in the name of Him who did, Jesus Christ, our Redeemer and Friend. Amen.

* * * * *

Rule 12 The mine foreman or his assistant shall visit and examine every working place in the mine every working day while the men of such place are or should be at work and shall direct that each and every working place is properly secured by props [or] timber roof bolts or such other practical devices as may serve to secure the safety of the workmen and that safety in all respects is assured by directing that all loose coal or rock shall be pulled down or secured and that no person shall be permitted to work in an unsafe place unless it be for the purpose of making it secure and a report of said examination shall be recorded in a book without delay kept at the colliery for that purpose and signed by the person making the same and countersigned within a period of one week by the mine foreman All such reports shall be made and signed at the end of each shift Providing however If the mine is idle forty-eight (48) hours or more the mine foreman or his assistant shall examine every working place the day before operations are resumed and all such entries shall be made and signed in ink in a manner similar to that heretofore described The use of roof bolts in lieu of props or timber as conventionally used shall not be permitted by the owner operator or superintendent of any mine unless permission in writing to do so is first obtained from the secretary of mines the secretary of mines shall grant such permission after he has received the approval of a commission of three mine inspectors one of whom shall be the inspector in whose district the mine for which permission is sought to use roof bolts is located

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, as I interpret bill 845, in the mind of the coal miner himself it will be dangerous if this bill becomes a law. I presume that all Members of the House received the same letter I now have in my hand. In case you have overlooked it I would like to read it into the record.

On December the 5th, 1951 I received the following letter from the United Mine Workers of America signed by Lester Thomas, International Representative.

Mr. Louis Leonard
Mines and Mining Committee
State Capitol Building
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Leonard:

Senate Bill No. 845 amending the Anthracite Mine

Law approving the system of Roof Bolting in the Anthracite Mines is, in the opinion of the United Mine Workers, uncertain as a safety measure.

This Bill will allow the mine foreman or his assistant to direct the miner to use roof bolts in any area of the mines he so desires.

We believe this will result in an unsafe practice and will no doubt cause the death of coal miners from roof falls. Unless this Bill is amended to provide for prior approval of the Department of Mines through the Mine Inspectors before Roof Bolts may be used, we take this means of registering our opposition to this Bill.

Very truly yours,

Lester Thomas,
Inter. Representative

Since beginning to speak I understand the bill has been amended satisfactorily to the miners' union. Can I have that verified?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Hewitt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HEWITT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, has the bill been amended now to satisfy the mine worker himself?

Mr. HEWITT. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, amendments introduced were perfectly satisfactory to Mr. Lester Thomas, and everything has been taken care of.

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Thank you very much.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 959

An Act to amend the act approved the twelfth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 21) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of state liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" by further regulating and limiting the issuance of distributors' and importing distributors' licenses and changing residence requirements for stock ownership in corporations licensed as malt and brewed beverage manufacturers distributors and importing distributors

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, Page 2, line 10, by inserting after the word "licenses" the following and changing residence requirements for stock ownership in corporations licensed as malt and brewed beverage manufacturers distributors and importing distributors

Amend the bill, Section 1, Page 3, line 16, by striking out the brackets before and after the word "shall" and by striking out after the word "shall" the words "may in its discretion"; page 5, line 11, by inserting after the word "application" the following Provided that stock inherited by an individual nonresident from a deceased resident owner thereof and stock held by an individual or corporate trustee for the benefit of any individual who is a beneficiary of a trust which is valid under the laws of this Commonwealth shall for the purpose of this subsection be considered as being owned by a resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so long as it is actually owned by such individual nonresident inheritor held by such trustee

Page 6, line 3, by striking out all of lines 3 to 12 inclusive.

On the question,

Will the House concur on the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1553.

An Act to further amend section twenty-seven of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 748) entitled as amended "An act relating to and regulating the purchase and sale of securities providing for the registration and regulation of certain individuals and entities selling contracting to sell or dispose of attempting or offering to dispose of soliciting offers to buy or inducing holders thereof to exchange securities defined herein including securities issued by them or engaging in the business of inducing holders of securities to effect the sale thereof in order to produce funds to pay for other investments sold by them or in the business of buying securities directly from individuals who are registered hereunder or in business of advising others as to the value or investment qualifications of securities and the management of investment accounts and the solicitors of such investment advisers providing for the revocation and suspension of registrations conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Securities Commission and otherwise providing for the administration of this act providing for appeals to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County and to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania conferring jurisdiction upon the several courts of common pleas to issue injunctions against violations of this act and to appoint receivers and prescribing fees and penalties" by increasing the fees charged by the Pennsylvania Securities Commission

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask at this time for an extended recess to 3 o'clock this afternoon. The reason for this recess—we have several reasons—there are many conference reports to be considered by Committees and which are being considered by Committees. There are amendments to be drawn and considered to important bills

The Republican caucus will meet at 2 o'clock in the Republican caucus room. I would just like to pass this information on because some of the Members have asked the question. On both sides of the House we are doing everything in our power to clean up our work and get home for Christmas.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in order that the Democrats may get home by Christmas also, I would like to call a Democratic caucus in the old House caucus room at 2:00 p. m. today.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 3:00 o'clock. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows

HOUSE BILL No. 1644.

An Act declaring the Communist Party and similar revolutionary organizations illegal making membership in or participation in the revolutionary activities of the Communist Party or any organization furthering the revolutionary conspiracy by force and violence a felony and providing penalties.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. HAROLD G. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 788, Printer's No. 464, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364), entitled "An act relating to business corporations; defining and providing for the organization, merger, consolidation, reorganization, winding up and dissolution of such corporations; conferring certain rights, powers, duties and immunities upon them and their officers and share holders; prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers; providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act; prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted, or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas, and certain State departments, commissions and officers; authorizing certain State departments, boards, commissions, or officers to collect for services required to be rendered by this act; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations," by requiring the establishment of a permanent lot care fund with corporate trustee of a certain amount by cemetery and burial corporations hereafter organized prior to the sale of burial lots and requiring a fixed percentage of the sale price of burial lots to be added to such fund.

was defeated on final passage, September 27, 1951 be reconsidered.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Blair Mr. Miller vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HAROLD G. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Schmidt vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we have no disposition to oppose this motion to reconsider provided that the bill is not brought before the House for immediate determination.

The SPEAKER. Is it the intention of the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Miller, to ask for a vote on final passage?

Mr. HAROLD G. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, no, it is not. My intentions are to ask consent of the House to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. Does the Minority Leader have objections?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, no objections.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. HAROLD G. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HAROLD G. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, next to last line of Title, by striking out the word "and"

Amend Title, Page 2, last line of Title, by inserting after the word "fund" the follows: "and providing for the repayment of the original deposit in the permanent lot care fund upon compliance with certain conditions."

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 209.1), page 5, by inserting after line 18, the following: "Whenever the cemetery or burial corporation shall have deposited in the fund required to be established by the provisions of clause (1) of section two hundred nine, a sum equal to the amount of money required to be originally deposited in the fund required to be established by this section it shall submit proof of such fact to the corporate trustee and it shall be the duty of the corporate trustee to thereupon pay over to the cemetery or burial corporation, the amount so originally deposited by it in the permanent lot care fund, free and clear of the restrictions and limitations of this section.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?
They were agreed to.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 506 entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (b) of section one and sections two and four of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1401) entitled "An act prohibiting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and prescribing penalties" by further defining employer providing for a penalty and deleting certain provisions relative to wage rates and collection of unpaid wages

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, lines 3 to 7, by striking out the part-word "PRO-" in line 3 and all of lines 4 to 7, inclusive.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOLTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that Mr. Bolton and our late lamented friend, Mr. Boorse, were the sponsors of this bill, House Bill 506, and in its original form, I would like to ask Mr. Bolton if it did not conform to the promises under the Republican platform, namely the promise which states: "We believe that the women's hour law should be amended to provide for equal pay for women doing the same type of work as that performed by men." Is that true?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, yes, that is true. And the bill as amended by the House Committee which handled it does fulfill the promises made in the Republican platform.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, it was my understanding that the bill did just that prior to the time it was amended in Committee. And I would ask Mr. Bolton if he does not feel that that nullifies the status of the bill as originally introduced?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I do not so feel. I feel that the Committee made a needed improvement in the bill by its amendment.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, through many sessions of this body we have argued pro and con upon a bill which would give more than lip service to equal pay for equal work for women. Sponsored in this session on February 27, 1951 was such a bill. However, that has been amended on page 3, line 3, inserting into the bill the words and I shall read:

"Provided that this act shall not be construed to prohibit wage and salary differentials based in good faith on any regularly recognized employment factor or factors, other than sex."

This, in my opinion, nullifies the equal pay for equal work for women. It is a much broader loophole than we have in the present act, and circumstances and true cases have already shown us that it is impossible to secure equal pay for equal work for women under the present act. And the people interested in this legislation, notwithstanding the fact that the head of the state organization of women's clubs has endorsed the bill with the amendments, I say to the membership on the floor of this House that the rank and file of the ladies of those organizations do not think along those lines. They feel that this is the proper time for them to get a good bill, one that means what it says, one that will give them equal pay for equal work, and give them that status for which they have been fighting for years, and the amendment which was offered in Committee certainly does not do that.

Therefore, I am offering an amendment to strike out the clause which I have just read and I would like to have the House support the amendment to put this bill in its original status, to do the job which you have promised the women of Pennsylvania to do for them here in this legislative session. I ask the membership of the House to endorse this amendment at this particular time.

I ask for a roll call.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately I am not blessed with Mr. Petrosky's apparent clairvoyance where the female mind is concerned. I have discussed the provisions of this bill and the amendments thereto with various women's organizations and they assure me that the bill meets all their specifications, and the provisions of the Republican platform.

I would like to read the amendment placed in the bill by the Committee a little more slowly than it has been read:

"Provided that this act shall not be construed to prohibit wage and salary differentials based in good faith on any regularly recognized employment factor or factors, other than sex."

I think that that covers the ground quite adequately. I think that it gives plenty of protection to female employees both of the Commonwealth and in industrial activities. And I, therefore, request the House to defeat the amendments offered by Mr. Petrosky.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Petrosky and Mr. Lovett and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Lovett, Snyder and Rose.

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, upon the advice of the Parliamentarian I withdraw my motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE BILL NO. 27 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 27 Printer's No. 615 be taken from the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a general statement in connection with the motion to take from the table, to cover a number of matters, using the present motion as a spring board from which to address the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman understands that a motion to take from the table is not debatable?

Mr. ANDREWS. I understand that, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Would the gentleman desire to make his statement after putting the question on the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make my general statement before the vote of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I do not oppose this motion to take Senate Bill 27 from the table. I hope that no considerable number of Members of this House oppose the motion. The question involved in the bill upon which we will shortly be called to pass are so vital, so fundamental, that we should not evade our manifest responsibility for facing them.

I want the House to know as a whole, as many Members of this House do know, that at no time have I personally opposed an honest loyalty oath bill. I have insisted that I could not ask my caucus to endorse a measure which while properting to be a loyalty oath measure was a back door insidious attack upon teacher tenure.

I desire further to clarify, for the benefit of the members of the Democratic caucus, certain developments and the failure of certain ideas to develop.

First of all this bill has been written and re-written some six or seven times. It has been re-written so many times and it has progressed at such a rapid rate that not even its parent now knows all of the provisions that are contained in his legislative child. The changes have been so rapid and so numerous that not one out of the hundreds of the people that appear for and against this measure are acquainted with its specific provisions.

It was known, Mr. Speaker, that amendments would be offered to this bill. The matter was discussed as to whether or not in order to conserve the time of the House, the amendments to be offered by the minority to this bill and the amendments to be offered by the majority party, after having been explained upon the floor, should be referred to the Committee, as a result of motion to recommit was made the bill would be reported back to this House. We thought, and I still think if we had a better bill it would not be quite as bad as it is now, if the committee quietly had had the opportunity to deliberate concerning the merits of the respective amendments that would be offered.

I agree and I asked my caucus to agree that if a motion to recommit was made with the understanding that the bill would be re-reported to the floor, that we would not resist the motion to recommit, indeed, we would support it.

However the idea of recommitting the bill failed I understand to meet with favor in a majority party caucus. They prefer to discuss the amendments upon the floor without reference to the Committee, a procedure which is quite all right as far as I am concerned and I think quite all right as far as those in favor of the amendments that will be offered by the minority are concerned. I just want everybody to know that at no time have we taken a position against an honest loyalty oath bill; at no time have we been disposed to evade determination of this issue. We have believed that the proceedings could be shortened and a better bill obtained if all the amendments had been referred to the Committee for discussion, but since the majority party desires to discuss them upon the floor we accept their decision.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to take the bill from the table?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 27, entitled:

An Act relating to the loyalty to the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of public officers and employees including teachers and other employees of the public school system and officers and employees of state-aided institutions of learning requiring statements and oaths or affirmations by applicants for public office or employment and by present appointed officers and employees prohibiting appointment or employment and requiring discharges after hearing in certain cases imposing conditions on the payment of appropriations to state-aided institutions or learning requiring statements under oath or affirmation of candidates for elective public officers and imposing duties on state and local appointing authorities and certain other state officers.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire concerning the status of the majority party amendments to this bill.

It has been explained to me that they are not as yet available. I would like to know when those amendments will be available, and I emphatically object to a procedure which forces us into a discussion of minority party amendments in the absence of any knowledge as to what the majority party proposes to submit to the House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the amendments which we propose to offer from this side of the House are ready over in the Legislative Reference Bureau and there is a boy on his way over there for them at the present time. We will submit copies just as soon as they arrive here.

Mr. ANDREWS. How soon, Mr. Speaker, will they arrive?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I said there is a boy on his way over there for them at the present time. They should be here very shortly.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if he is on his way, why make this bill a special order of business and determination in the next five minutes? I would like to have a copy of the majority party amendments before this discussion begins. I think according to all the traditions of the House I am entitled to a copy in addition to the member of the minority who is offering amendments.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we will submit copies just as soon as they arrive.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, then I request that the House be at ease until the copies do arrive.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the House will be at ease pending the arrival of the amendments.

(After the arrival of the amendments)

The SPEAKER. The House will be in order.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Messrs. READINGER and SCANLON asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.
